| Plurality | | 75,434 | | |
| Majority | | 1,635 | | |

It was simply a case of the Democratic vote going solidly for Harrison and the Republicans splitting about evenly between Sears and Harlan. Hesing's vote was too small to cut any figure in the result.

The effect of this division of the Republican vote is best shown by the statement that Harrison carried thirty-one of the thirty-four wards in the city. The remaining three—the Twenty-fifth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second—were carried by Harlan. So evenly was the Republican vote divided that Harrison has a plurality of 400 and over in the Third Ward, one of more than 700 in the Fourth, two wards never carried before by a Democrat; has over 1,700 in the Eleventh, and even carries the Twelfth by nearly 400 votes.

Then, going on to the North Side, Harrison carries the Twentieth, Twenty-first, and Twenty-second Wards by big pluralities, and gets one of nearly 1,800 in the formerly Republican Twenty-sixth. Then he carries the Thirty-third by 2,574 votes, and gets nearly 1,000 plurality in the Thirty-fourth. Judge Sears did not carry a single ward.

The division of the Republican vote had the natural result of electing the Democratic tickets in all of the three old towns of Chicago, as well as a majority of the Aldermen in the various wards, giving the Democrats a clear majority in the next Council.

In the North, South, and West Towns the Municipal Voters' League had candidates for Assessors. These candidates received the bulk of the Harlan votes, and, as the Democrats voted their ticket straight, they elected their town tickets handsomely, the opposition vote being divided between the Republican and independent candidates.

In the Town of Lake the Democrats won, of course, but in Lake View, Jefferson, Hyde Park, and Calumet, where there were only two tickets running, the Republicans won out.

Democrats Elect Minor Officers.

The remaining candidates on the Republican city ticket suffered from the Harlan candidacy as well as the head and, as a consequence, the Democrats elected their candidates for Treasurer, City Clerk, and City Attorney, as well as for Mayor.

All through the city the Harlan vote either was not cast for any other candidate for a city office or else was given to Messrs. Gunther, Dickinson, and Wood, who were running on the Hesing ticket. Some of it went to the Republican candidates, but the Democrats voted their ticket in its entirety and won by a good plurality as a matter of course. It was as complete a victory as any party could desire.

Results in the Towns.

Partial returns from the North, South, and West Towns show the following figures on Assessor.

In the South Town eighty-two out of a total of 169 precincts give:

| | |
|---|---|
| Gunning, Dem. | 11,557 |
| [illegible], Rep. | 7,031 |
| [illegible], Ind. | 981 |

In the West Town 72 out of 453 precincts give:

CHARGES AGAINST PASTOR MARTIN.

Falsification, Immorality, Loss of Temper, and Unministerial Conduct Urged Against the Methodist.

At a session lasting several hours the self-constituted pastoral committee of the Western Avenue M. E. Church early this morning announced through one of its members that it had rounded up the evidence against the former pastor, the Rev. R. S. Martin. It was also announced that the charges against Mr. Martin would not be laid before Presiding Elder Henry G. Jackson before the church counsel was appointed. The two ministers who will represent the church in the trial will be named this morning by Dr. Jackson.

It is expected that the church counsel and the self-constituted committee will get together tonight or tomorrow and go over the evidence carefully. From the mass of alleged facts now in hand the charges will be drawn. Great care will be taken to have them technically correct, according to the requirements of the Methodist church discipline. Otherwise it is feared they may be thrown out and the investigation will prove a farce.

The self-constituted investigating committee reported it had twenty-four witnesses on its present list. The names of these witnesses would not be given to the public on the ground that it would aid the counsel for Mr. Martin.

The investigators announced they could prefer charges against Mr. Martin on any one of four grounds or on all. The committee alleges that he is guilty of falsehood, immorality, loss of temper, and unministerial conduct.

The falsehood charge is based on the signed statements which the committee claims to have to the effect that on March 31 Mr. Martin agreed to resign without causing his parish any trouble. In return he was to receive his salary to April 1 and was given permission to assign any reason he wanted to for his resignation. Instead, the committee alleges, he opened the fight by stating publicly that he should demand an investigation. Other evidence in support of this charge the committee claims to have.

In support of the immorality charge, the committee claims it has a number of instances where Mr. Martin called upon women parishioners during the absence of the male members of the families, and that he represented himself to be a physician as well as a minister, taking unusual liberties for one not a professional doctor. The greater number of witnesses, it is said, will give evidence along this line.

The charge of unministerial conduct covers alleged business transactions of Mr. Martin. Several witnesses, it is alleged, will also charge that Mr. Martin lost his temper, which the Methodist discipline considers a ministerial offense.

Presiding Elder Jackson announced yesterday he had appointed as counsel for Mr. Martin, Dr. A. W. Patten, pastor of Hyde Park M. E. Church, and Dr. A. C. Hirst, pastor of the Centenary M. E. Church.

Dr. Hirst announced last night that both had accepted the appointment, and that they would begin the preparation of their case today. He would not be interviewed regarding the charges against Mr. Martin.

"We cannot give out any statements regarding the charges until they are made," he said. "Then we will give Mr. Martin's version of them or any other information that will be of any advantage to the public."

Pending the publicity of the charges, Mr. Martin will not discuss any of the matters of difference between himself and his former parishioners.

Presiding Elder Samuel Beck of the Northwestern Indiana conference was a caller upon Presiding Elder Jackson yesterday. One of the current rumors has been that Mr. Martin was tried by the Northwestern Indiana conference eight years ago on charges preferred by his parishioners in Valparaiso and acquitted. Dr. Jackson would give out no information regarding the nature of his conference with Dr. Beck. He said that it would not be fair to discuss a former trial at this time.

The members of the self-constituted committee present at the meeting last night were:

C. K. Landon, Rev. J. M. Howard,
R. R. Carroll, J. Ritchie Patterson,
Dr. E. L. Hayford, F. L. Wood.

They are members of the official board of the church.

At the official board meeting of Western Avenue M. E. Church last night Dr. Jackson presided, and called attention to the fact that there was a vacancy in the pulpit caused by the resignation of Mr. Martin. A committee, headed by the Rev. C. R. Pennell, was named to secure a supply. The official board took no action on the resignation or the preferring of charges. It was shown by Presiding Elder Jackson that they had no authority as a board to take these steps.

MICHAEL DAVITT, M. P., IN CHICAGO.

He Will Congratulate Mayor-Elect Harrison Today—Views on Cretan and Cuban Questions.

Michael Davitt, the member of Parliament from South Mayo, Ireland, reached Chicago last night, en route to California, with his family, and is registered at the Auditorium.

He will pay his respects today to Mayor-elect Harrison, who was his traveling companion twenty months ago, in an extended journey from New Zealand to San Francisco. The two in company photographed the Samoan natives, and exchanged ideas on Irish and Chicago politics under the Southern Cross.

"I feel a strong attachment," said Mr. Davitt last night, "to the Mayor whom you have just elected as I did toward his father, whom I also knew well. I am aware, however, of the feelings and prejudices of the American people, and that it is never wise to interfere in their politics, as they are fully able to manage their own affairs."

"How do you enjoy the noise of an American election night?" he was asked.

"You do not beat us in noise or excitement, but I think you are ahead of us in the method and expedition with which you count your votes," was the answer. "The speed with which you determine the decision of your people and discover their will is something startling to me, and we have nothing like it in the old country."

"How is the Cretan situation affecting the standing of parties in Great Britain?"

"The Salisbury ministry has rendered itself extremely unpopular because of its dastardly policy, and I am not sorry that its position is damaged. It might have brought about a settlement creditable to the powers and Greece had it chosen, but its blunderings would turn it out of office were it to be left to the mercies of a general vote."

"What is the present status of the home rule cause?"

"Prospects were never brighter. A union of forces is making the struggle potent, and with our ranks closing up we are preparing to make a grand home run. The latent political sense of the Irish people is asserting itself, and the faction disturbers are being sent to the rear with the returning consciousness that there is really nothing to wrangle about."

"What do the Irish people think about Cuba? The Nationalist and Liberal organs are with the patriots, but the Salisbury organs are with Spain."

The present is the tenth visit of Mr. Davitt to America, and he declares that on account of his domestic relationship he knows it as well as Ireland. He will leave his family in California, where they will spend a year and will then hasten back to London.

Regulars Win in Lyons.

In the Township of Lyons the Regular ticket defeated the People's and Taxpayers', electing the following:

Supervisor—L. J. Sacriste.
Clerk—H. P. Burkholder.
Assessor—J. G. Wolcott.
Collector—C. W. Northrup.
Commissioner of Highways—Otis Graves.
Justices of the Peace—E. R. McClellan, Willis Wood, George Sherman, Charles Perry, Charles H. Smith.

HARRISON TELLS HIS JOY.

"CARTER H." HAPPY THAT THE VOTERS HAVE FAITH IN HIM.

Successful Candidate for Mayor Declares the Predictions That He Will Allow Vice and Debauchery to Run Riot Will Not Be Realized—As Chief Executive of Chicago He Will Not Tolerate Any Dictation—Bryan Sends His Congratulations.

Carter H. Harrison did not reach Democratic headquarters after his dinner until 7:30 o'clock. That was half an hour after his Campaign committee, grasping at tendencies, had formally claimed victory by 70,000 plurality and a clear majority over all. These guesses had not been altered up to the moment he arrived. Accordingly he was besieged by his enthusiastic admirers, who congratulaated him vigorously, even furiously.

The glowing figures which the committee presented to Mr. Harrison on his arrival were duplicated in a telegram flashed to William Jennings Bryan in Washington.

Mr. Harrison received a little later a congratulatory telegram from the former Presidential candidate:

> Washington, D. C., April 6.—Carter Harrison, Chicago: Accept congratulations upon your magnificent victory. The elections in Chicago, Cincinnati, Detroit, and other cities indicate a decided change in public sentiment since November.
>
> W. J. BRYAN.

The stuffy little room at No. 75 Randolph street, where the clans and their victorious chief were assembled was a noisy quarter.

Mr. Harrison was busy chiefly figuring on the totals, in the hope that he might be able to prove his prophecy of the night before, that he would be elected by a majority of 7,500 over all.

"I want a majority," he explained to his associates, "and I won't be satisfied unless I get it."

Harrison Talks of His Victory.

Speaking of his victory and its causes Mr. Harrison said:

"It is only natural I should feel both gratified and honored by the results of the day's election. I regard it a triumph of decency and honesty in the administration of municipal affairs. At no time since the convention have we resorted to abusive or unfair tactics; and I am proud to say that in all the 150 speeches I have made I have not used a single discourteous expression against any of my opponents.

"I wish to assure Judge Sears that there is no danger that the city will be handed over to two years of vice and debauchery. I will also promise THE TRIBUNE there will be nothing of what it characterizes as 'wide open days.' I do not recognize the necessity of public gambling in Chicago, but I believe largely in the German idea of personal liberty. It draws a sharp line between liberty and license. I have kept my name clean and untarnished thus far, and I expect to leave the Mayoralty with as good a reputation as I possess today.

Enters the Office Unpledged.

"I shall enter upon the duties of this office wholly unhampered by pledges of any kind, and no one is authorized to speak for me relating to any line of policy or any position I may hold regarding the administration of the office.

"My first purpose is to surround myself with clean, able, and honest assistants, and it is my whole ambition to give the city a conservative business administration. I also wish to say that, while I shall be glad to receive advice from every honest citizen, I shall not be dictated to by any man, or league, or any association; and, so long as I occupy the chair, no one will be Mayor but Carter H. Harrison.

"My plurality was given, I believe, by Republican as well as Democratic votes. By Republican I mean McKinley Republicans, who were pleased with the Democratic platform. Still the Democrats may well feel proud of the victory, for I believe it was a united party that brought it about. The gold Democrats have returned to their party allegiance, and it goes without saying that the Populists and silver Republicans stood by me to a man."

Mr. Harrison remained at the headquarters until 10 o'clock and then walked to his home, No. 295 Schiller street.

Thornton on the Causes.

Chairman Thornton, speaking for the Democratic Campaign committee, said:

"Mr. Harrison's victory is due to the fact that the people were tired of Republican maladministration of municipal affairs. They had confidence in Mr. Harrison's promise to give them an honest, economical, and liberal—not meaning by that, however, a licentious—administration. They have become tired of the carnival of crime which

HUNDREDS SEE AIRSHIP AT OMAHA.

Watch It Sail Back and Forth at an Altitude of Three-Quarters of a Mile.

Omaha, Neb., April 6.—[Special.]—Several hundred Omaha people insist that they saw an airship last night. The whole town is talking about it today and the local press is devoting much space to the matter. Several crowds witnessed it.

Fifty members of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben were treated to a sight of the airship, it being observed twice, and each time for a space of from five to eight minutes. At 9 o'clock, while the initiation was in progress, the attention of a few members was attracted by a bright light flashing past the west windows of the den. They immediately sprang to the window and saw a luminary appearing at least eighteen inches in diameter, the reflection from which passed along what appeared to be a steel body, the length of which could only be estimated at from twelve to thirty feet.

The object was at an altitude of about three-quarters of a mile and a little over a mile west of the den. The course of the ship was watched for some five or six minutes. Its course was due south until it reached, as near as could be judged, about the southern limits of South Omaha, the distance from the den being covered in about three minutes. It then described a semi-circle to the east, following that direction for about a mile, when it turned to the north against the northeast wind, and traveled in that direction about half a mile. It then turned east, after some vacillation, and was lost behind a bank of clouds.

The Knights returned to the den and after the initiation, while waiting for the cars, the ship was again seen far to the southwest, but beating rapidly up against the wind to the north, and passed out of sight to the north.

Among the various people who saw it and permitted the use of their names as witnesses were these business-men: O. D. Kiplinger, W. I. Hawks, H. K. Burket, A. Hospe Jr., Gould Dietz, L. P. Funkhouser, and Arthur Guiou. The airship was seen by W. H. Newville, a conductor on the Harney street line, who stopped his car and called the dozen passengers on the car out to see it.

EIGHT RAIDS ON EASTER BONNETS.

Miss E. Soulman, Milliner at No. 3238 Cottage Grove Avenue, Says Peddlers Are Selling Her Hats.

Miss E. Soulman, keeping a millinery shop at No. 3238 Cottage Grove avenue, has been a victim of eight cases of shoplifting during the last month and declares her most expensive bonnets for spring wear are being sold in the neighborhood by peddlers at ridiculously small prices.

Two well-dressed women entered the shop on Monday night. While one was trying to select a harmonious shade of color for flower garden headgear her accomplice walked off with two of the Easter "confections."

Miss Soulman says when the raids on her store occur she has to look in the nearby saloons to find policemen to take up the chase.

Capt. Bonfield of the Thirty-fifth Street Station has detailed a special squad to watch the neighborhood.

ANCIENT AND HONORABLES FIGHT.

Col. Henry Walker and Col. Sidney Hedges Have a Sanguinary Battle in Parker House Bar.

Boston, Mass., April 6.—[Special.]—Col. Henry Walker, the commander of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company, and Col. Sidney Hedges, ex-commander of that organization, have nourished a mutual grudge these many years. They met at the bar in the Parker House last night and cutting words were followed by hot argument, and hot argument by bitter disputation and bitter disputation by Col. Hedges seizing Col. Walker's throat. Col. Walker swung a couple of vigorous blows on his antagonist's ear before friends separated the combatants. Both men today make light of the affair, but it was warm while it lasted; so warm that the bar was closed and the room cleared an hour before the regular time.

HOW DEMOCRATIC SEERS FORECAST HARRISON'S CABINET.

Robert E. Burke and Joseph S. Martin Said to Be in Line for Anything They Want, but the Former Declares He Seeks No Place—Gahan Prefers John M. Clark's Chair—Kipley and Brennan for Chief of Police—Other Possibilities.

For Oil Inspector..JOSEPH S. MARTIN

Hardly had the returns begun to make it certain last night that Carter H. Harrison had won before the Democratic politicians began to speculate on whom the Mayor-elect would pick for positions in his Cabinet. This topic engrossed the leaders, while the rank and file was shouting itself hoarse over the victory.

Mr. Harrison said last night he would endeavor to surround himself with good men. He also said he had not promised a place to any man. But some politicians smiled significantly when they heard of this statement, and asked: "What have his lieutenants been doing in that line?"

It is generally believed Mr. Harrison will have the positive assistance in distributing the prizes of Charles S. Thornton, Thomas Gahan, A. J. Jones, Robert E. Burke, and J. S. Martin. They are the chiefs of a new Democratic machine, which, according to one of their member, purposes running the administration so far as the patronage is concerned. Two of the five, it is conceded, will get almost anything they want for themselves or their friends. They are Robert E. Burke and Joseph S. Martin.

Places for Burke and Martin.

Mr. Burke's name has been mentioned in connection with such places as Commissioner of Public Works, Chairman of the Civil Service Commission, and City Sealer, the latter being the position he held under the Mayor-elect's father and under John P. Hopkins. But Mr. Burke assumes a modest attitude, and says he does not want any place.

Mr. Martin is spoken of either for City Sealer, in the event Mr. Burke does not want to take it, Oil Inspector, or Superintendent of the Street Lighting Department. He is also considered a possibility for the Controllership, although the gossips seem to think this place will be given to some such man as Heaton Owsley or Thomas Cusack.

Judge John Barton Payne, Granville Browning, A. S. Trude, and Adolf Kraus are the names slated from which to select a Corporation Counsel. The cabinetmakers at No. 75 Randolph street say they have a straight tip that Browning will be the man, but when pinned down admit their only basis of belief is the ground that he is Mr. Harrison's most intimate friend and adviser. This proposition, though, is denied by the friends of Adolf Kraus, who was Corporation Counsel during one Mayoralty term of the senior Harrison.

As the machine bosses propose the nomination of a judicial ticket, by taking Judge Payne off the bench and putting him at the head of the city's Law Department, room would be made for the nomination in his stead of some ambitious Democratic lawyer.

McGann and Gahan Rumors.

One of the names most prominently discussed in connection with the Commissionership of Public Works is that of ex-Congressman L. E. McGann, who got into the bandwagon for Harrison early. Thomas Gahan is also said to be in line for this office, but Mr. Gahan declared yesterday the only job he wants is that of Chairman of the Civil Service Commission. He would take that if the present incumbent, John M. Clark, could be removed to make room for him. Mr. Clark was appointed to serve three years and

AFTER THE GREAT NORTHERN THEATER

Florence Ziegfeld Jr. and Charles E. Evans Negotiating for a Sublease of the Playhouse.

Florence Ziegfeld Jr., manager of Anna Held's American tour, and Charles E. Evans of Evans & Hoey in the "Parlor Match" company, are conducting negotiations with A. M. Palmer and his partners for the lease of the Great Northern Theater. As yet no agreement has been reached.

Mr. Ziegfeld said last night that in any event Mr. Palmer would retain the original lease, and that whatever arrangements he and Mr. Evans made would be in the nature of a sublease.

Mr. Palmer said substantially the same thing. Nothing had been concluded, he said, and no direct proposition had been made to him. He admitted that some talk in the nature of negotiations had been had looking to Messrs. Ziegfeld and Evans acquiring the management of the Great Northern Theater, and that in a certain contingency those negotiations might lead to an agreement. He declined to say what contingency would bring about this result.

Mr. Palmer's partners in the Great Northern Theater are the Davidson Bros. and a Mr. Rork of New York. Whatever is done in the way of subletting the theater will have to be by agreement among them.

Mr. Ziegfeld feels encouraged to undertake the management of the Great Northern largely on account of his success with Miss Held and the "Parlor Match" company. Disaster was predicted for him when he engaged to pay Miss Held 60,000 francs ($12,000) for a ten weeks' tour of the United States. The success was such that the contract was extended to cover thirty-two weeks, and Mr. Ziegfeld says the receipts have averaged $7,600 a week for that time. The total receipts for the three weeks that Miss Held has appeared in Chicago amount to $31,000.

Miss Held closes her Chicago engagement with the matinée and evening performances of today. She will play three nights in Buffalo, a week in Cleveland, and after a week's rest in New York will sail for Europe on April 29. She says she will return to America next November.

BEARS CHICAGO'S ARMOR PLATE BID.

William P. Palmer Leaves for Washington to Represent the Illinois Steel Company's Interests.

William P. Palmer, Second Vice-President of the Illinois Steel company, started for Washington, D. C., yesterday to submit a bid to the Navy Department for the manufacture of armor plates for three battleships in course of construction.

The officials of the steel company are sanguine in their expectation of securing a contract amounting to $2,500,000, with a possible chance of further contracts amounting to $20,000,000.

President Gates said last night:

"The bids will be opened on Thursday at noon. Mr. Palmer will be in Washington with out bid tomorrow afternoon.

"We expect to secure the contract for 8,000 tons of armor plate for the equipment of battleships Nos. 7, 8, and 9. One is being built in the Cramps yards at Philadelphia, one at Newport News, and the third at the Union iron-works in San Francisco.

"The boats will cost about $11,000,000.

"If we secure the contract for the armor plates it will mean a boom for South Chicago. The work will employ 500 skilled workmen with average wages of from $75 to $150 a month."

CAPTAIN JACK'S MODOCS STARVING.

Entire Tribe of Indians in a Pitiable Condition and Dying Rapidly.

Redding, Cal., April 6.—The remnant of Capt. Jack's tribe of Modoc Indians, now living in Modoc County, in the neighborhood of the scenes of Capt. Jack's treachery and Gen. Canby's death in 1872, are now in a pitiable condition, verging on actual starvation. In all there are about 200 families of the tribe. The winter has been a severe one, and the Indians have been unable to obtain the necessaries of life. It is reported that their number has been reduced one-half this winter by death, due to starvation and exposure. There is no reservation and no appeal to the United States Government.

ALDERMEN MEET FOR BIG SALARIES.

City Fathers in Secret Session Name a Committee to Ask the Legislature for $3,000.

Seven Aldermen held a secret session at the Sherman House last night for the purpose of selecting a committee to go to Springfield to secure an amendment to the bill now pending which proposes a salary of $1,500 a year for Chicago Aldermen.

The Aldermen wish to raise the figure to $3,000. The bill is now on its third reading, and the city fathers intend making a final effort to secure the increase.

Ald. Brenner, Ald. Plotke, and Ald. Gazzolo were selected to go to Springfield. The others present were Mowrer, Portman, Probst, and Kahler.

SUMMARY.

| | |
|---|---|
| Holdover Democrats | 18 |
| Democrats elected | 25 |
| Holdover Republicans | 16 |
| Republicans elected | 2 |
| Holdover Independents | 3 |
| Independents elected | 3 |
| Democratic majority | 16 |

The above table shows the personal and political makeup of the new City Council.

The name first printed in each ward is that of the Alderman elected yesterday and the second that of the hold-over.

The result shows a Democratic majority of sixteen in the Council.

Of the new members the Republicans elected but two, and three are independents.

From some of the wards, notably the Fourth, Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fifteenth, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, and Thirty-second, the Aldermanic returns were extremely late.

At 2 o'clock this morning the figures from 130 precincts on candidates for Alderman had not been reported. The bulk of these were in the wards named.

Some of the candidates started stories that the figures were being held back, but it seems the judges and clerks in every instance had difficulty in counting the vote. In the Fifteenth Precinct of the Seventeenth Ward James Walsh, independent candidate, assisted by Joseph O'Donnell, created a disturbance because Mr. Walsh thought he was not getting a square deal in the count. Policemen were called to preserve order.

PROD FOR THE PORTE

Uncle Sam to Adopt a Vigorous Policy Toward Turkey.

SPECIAL ENVOY CHOSEN.

John W. Foster to Go to Constantinople as Ambassador.

CLAIMS THAT MUST BE PAID.

Speedy Trial of American Citizens to Be Demanded.

MESSAGE TO BE SENT CONGRESS.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—The adoption of a vigorous policy to secure from the Turkish Government a settlement of the claims preferred by the United States on account of the destruction of American missionary property and outrages to American missionaries committed during the uprising against the Armenians in the fall of 1895 is being considered by the new administration, and probably will be put into operation soon.

President McKinley's program contemplates the sending to Constantinople of John W. Foster, formerly Secretary of State, as a special envoy with the rank of Ambassador to secure from the Sultan the payment of the claims which have been filed and the speedy trial of those American citizens against whom charges have been made by Turkish officials.

Message to Congress.

The President probably will send to Congress a message recommending that authority be given him to commission a special ambassador to Turkey for this purpose, and while no name will be proposed by the message Mr. Foster will be intrusted with the mission in the event that Congress gives to the President the power which he desires. Mr. Foster has already been asked to undertake the mission, and although he was at first reluctant to accept he finally consented to do so on certain conditions.

The program has been under consideration for several days, and meets the approval of leaders in Congress of both parties who have been consulted, among them Senators Hoar and Lodge of Massachusetts, and Proctor of Vermont, who have interested themselves actively in the matter; Senators Morgan of Alabama, and Mills of Texas, Speaker Reed, and Representative Hitt, the leader in the House in diplomatic matters.

Ambassadorship Temporary.

President McKinley and Secretary Sherman discussed the unsatisfactory policy of the Turkish Government touching American claims soon after the administration came into power. It was suggested first that the representative of the United States in Constantinople be raised to the rank of Ambassador and Mr. Foster be given the office, but this proposition had several drawbacks, one of them that a mission once advanced to Ambassadorial rank could not well be reduced afterward. This government would not care to maintain an Ambassador at Constantinople, nor was it known that the Sultan would reciprocate by accrediting an Ambassador to the United States. Moreover, Mr. Foster did not care to accept such an office.

Under the proposed arrangement Mr. Foster may be sent to Turkey when the resignation of Minister Terrill is accepted, to serve there as Envoy Extraordinary, with the rank of Ambassador until his work has been performed and then give place to the Minister who will be appointed as Mr. Terrill's successor. No reflection upon the abilities of Minister Terrill will be involved in this plan, for any representative with the rank of Minister works under a heavy handicap at a capital where all the larger powers and several of the smaller ones are represented by an Ambassador. He cannot secure an audience with the Sultan as readily as can an Ambassador, nor can he meet upon equal terms with the Ambassadors in the consideration of questions relating to treaties which may greatly affect American interests.

Questions at Issue.

Several questions are at issue between the United States and Turkey as a result of the Armenian troubles, the satisfactory adjustment of which the Sultan has refused or postponed from time to time, and which the administration desires to settle. Claims amounting to $150,000 have been presented by Minister Terrill, on account of the damages done to the Euphrates College, at Harpoot, which is the property of the American Board of Foreign Missions, to the Marash Theological Seminary, and the residence of an American missionary at Hasquey, a suburb of Constantinople. Remonstrances have been made on account of the treatment of the Rev. G. P. Knapp, an American missionary who was stationed at Bitlis, and was expelled from the Turkish empire on a charge of inciting Armenians to rebellion.

Mr. Knapp has been unable to secure admittance to Turkey or to secure a trial, although it is claimed that his banishment without trial is in violation of treaty rights.

The deportation of another missionary working for the American board, Mr. McCallum, was attempted at the time Mr. Knapp was deported, but when Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, learned that he was a citizen of Canada he made such vigorous representations to the Sublime Porte that the missionary was escorted back to his post. Mr. Knapp is now waiting in Berlin for permission to return. Similar charges to those against him were preferred against other missionaries, who were not expelled, but they have not been brought to trial.

Sultan Ignores Our Consuls.

The Sultan has refused to recognize Messrs. Bergholz and Hunter, who two years ago were sent by the United States as Consuls to Erzeroum and Harpoot. They reached their posts after some trouble, but, being unable to secure recognition or perform their duties as Consuls, withdrew, and a few months afterward occurred the disturbances at Harpoot in which the American college was looted and property worth $100,000 destroyed. Mr. Bergholz has since returned to Erzeroum, but has not been recognized. No apology or explanation has been offered, nor any redress given for any of these acts. President Cleveland and Secretary Olney at one time considered the advisability of blockading the port of Smyrna to secure redress, but abandoned the idea partly because the revenues of the custom-house were mortgaged to European governments.

The new administration desires to secure the payment of the claims for damages preferred by Mr. Terrell, to secure trials for Mr. Knapp and other Americans against whom charges have been made, to gain permission for Mr. Knapp to return to his post, and to have the Consuls who have been accredited to Turkish cities recognized. The churches of the country have made strong requests that these things be done. Since the Turkish question has been under consideration Mr. Foster's has been the only name suggested as the one best qualified to secure for the United States the same rights accorded to other powers for their citizens in Turkey. His abilities as a diplomat and a lawyer, which were displayed in the State Department and more recently in the conduct of the negotiations for peace between Japan and China, have been mentioned and Secretary Sherman, ex-Secretary Olney, and several Senators, among them Morgan and Mills, who are Democrats, have advocated his appointment. Mr. Foster does not desire the mission, but has indicated that he will take it as a matter of duty if called to it.

Members of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the Republican leaders in the House who have been consulted are of the opinion that a bill to authorize the President to send a special representative to Turkey would not be opposed in Congress. In the House no legislation can be had except by unanimous consent or by a special rule. Mr. Hitt has said that there would be no opposition on the ground of expense, because the bill would provide that the Ambassador should receive only the salary of the Minister to Turkey during the term of his service.

ACRIMONIOUS DEBATE IN THE SENATE

Senators Exchange Personalities in Discussing Morgan's Cuban Resolution.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—Much bad blood was developed in the Senate today over the Cuban question, and there were numerous stormy passages and acrimonious personal charges.

Mr. Morgan of Alabama called up his resolution declaring that a state of war exists in Cuba, and recognizing both parties as belligerents. He spoke for some time in a dispassionate manner on the resolution, but was aroused by Mr. Hale of Maine to a series of sharp retorts. It led to the declaration by Mr. Morgan that instead of sending a lawyer to Cuba to investigate the case of Dr. Ruiz, as was contemplated, the administration would do well to send a ship of war to Havana and demand redress.

At another point Mr. Hale questioned Mr. Morgan's statement that Cuban prisons were "stuffed" with American prisoners, declaring that the information reaching him (Hale) showed that no such condition existed. Mr. Morgan asked who this information came from, and then hotly asserted that he knew where it came from, and the world knew where it came from, as the Senator from Maine had not denied that he was not in communication with the Spanish authorities. Mr. Hale indignantly denied that his information came from Spanish sources, and said it was furnished in every item by American citizens.

The strain occasioned by this charge and denial was relieved by the expiration of the morning hour, which cut off the debate. The Morgan resolution lost its place, and went to the calendar, but Mr. Morgan will continue his speech tomorrow, and has given notice of a motion to proceed with the Cuban resolution to a final vote.

Most of the day was given to the bankruptcy bill, Mr. Stewart of Nevada speaking in opposition. The discussion drifted to the financial question, Chandler and Stewart having an amusing discussion on bimetallism.

Senate Committees.

During the day Mr. Earle (Dem., S. C.) introduced a resolution for the immediate reorganization of the Senate committees and the filling of all vacancies. He spoke briefly for the first time since entering the Senate on the injustice of keeping the new Senators from committee service. The resolution went over till tomorrow.

The Senate Republican Caucus committee, appointed to consider the question of filling the Senate committee vacancies, held its first meeting today and practically reached the conclusion that there should be no effort to fill the committees until after the passage of the tariff bill.

The sundry civil and Indian appropriation bills were reported to the Senate today by the Committee on Appropriations. The only change of importance made restores to the Indian bill the provision for opening the Uncompahgee Reservation in Utah.

The President has decided to take no action in the matter of revoking or modifying the order of Mr. Cleveland setting aside twenty-one forestry reserves in the West until he ascertains whether Congress will legislate on the subject. It is the general understanding now that the Senate will tack an amendment to the general deficiency appropriation bill empowering the President to modify or revoke this order.

Presidential Nominations.

The President today sent to the Senate the following nominations:

Treasury—Alonzo J. Tyler of Tennessee, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of Tennessee; Park Agnew of Virginia, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Sixth District of Virginia.

Navy—Theodore Roosevelt of New York, to be Assistant Secretary of the Navy; Capt. A. S. Crowninshield, United States Navy, to be Chief of the Bureau of Navigation in the Department of the Navy; the Rev. William G. Cassard of Maryland, to be Chaplain in the navy.

Postmaster—William Barret Ridgely, at Springfield, Ill.

Roosevelt Will Accept.

New York, April 6.—There is no doubt that Police Commissioner Roosevelt will accept the appointment of Assistant Secretary of the Navy if he is confirmed by the Senate. The Police Board has been split into two hostile factions, one led by Col. Grant, the other by Mr. Roosevelt. It is believed that because of this strife Mr. Roosevelt is anxious to get out of the Police Board.

WEYLER GOING TO PUERTO PRINCIPE.

Crowds Cheer Him at Cienfuegos—Senor Jose Porrua Sends His Resignation to Canovas.

Havana, April 6.—Capt.-Gen. Weyler left Cienfuegos, Province of Santa Clara, yesterday on board the steamer Concepcion, and has since passed by the ports of Trinidad and Tunas, in the same province. He is believed to be on his way to Jucaro, the port in Puerto Principe which is the southern extremity of the Moron-Jucaro military line.

Crowds of people gathered at Cienfuegos to bid the Captain-General farewell, cheering and crying "Viva morality" in recognition of Gen. Weyler's attempts to purify the administration of Cuba.

It is understood that Señor José Porrua, who, in February last, succeeded Gen. Suraez Valdez as Civil Governor of Havana and Western Cuba, has tendered his resignation by cable to Premier Canovas, forwarding by mail the reasons for the act. Capt.-Gen. Weyler is said to oppose the resignation because he considers Señor Porrua's presence in the island expedient for the time.

IS NO IMPROVEMENT FOR SPAIN.

La Lucha Declares the State of War Is No Better and Insurgents Are Not Tired.

Havana, April 6.—La Lucha says editorially today: "So far as the state of war is concerned there is no improvement, but the government must not rely on the chagrin of its enemies. We are neither optimistic nor pessimistic, but we believe sincerely that affairs are not going in the direction many people believe and hope. The situation cannot be regarded as much improved nor are the people getting tired of the life of insurgents."

SANGUILLY IS WATCHED BY SPIES.

He Is in Hiding and Is Supposed to Be Watching an Opportunity to Get to Cuba.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 6.—Gen. Julio Sanguilly, the Cuban leader, who has been in Jacksonville since last Friday, is still here, but in hiding. He is supposed to be waiting for a favorable opportunity to slip to Cuba. He is, however, being watched by Spanish spies.

CUBANS BURN OUT AN AMERICAN.

Dynamite and Destroy Cane Works and Fields of Andrew Terry Valued at $400,000.

Havana, April 6.—The insurgents, led by Paul Chango, have dynamited and burned the works and cane fields on the Cayajabor plantation, near Madenga, Matanzas, the property of an American, Andrew Terry, valued at $400,000. Yet it is rumored here that Captain-General Weyler will shortly return and declare the Provinces of Matanzas, Santa Clara, Pinar del Rio, and Havana "pacified."

SPAIN KEEPS UP A BOLD FRONT.

It Is Denied That Negotiations Have Been Entered Into with Insurgents.

Madrid, April 6.—It is semi-officially denied here that the Spanish authorities have entered into negotiations for the submission of the Cuban insurgents. The government has ordered a vigorous campaign to be pushed until the rebellion is crushed.

Cabinet Resignation Not Accepted.

Vienna, April 6.—Emperor Francis Joseph has sent an autograph letter to Count Badeni, President of the Council of Ministers, declining to accept the resignation of the Cabinet. He assures the Cabinet of a continuance of his full confidence.

CRY ALL DAY FOR WAR.

EXCITEMENT DURING THE ANNUAL CELEBRATION IN ATHENS.

Greatest Enthusiasm Manifested by the People During the Fetes Held to Mark the Anniversary of Greek Independence from Turkish Rule—Crowds Surround the Royal Palace and Shout for War—Every One in the City Parading.

Athens, April 6.—The greatest enthusiasm was manifested here today during the fêtes organized to celebrate the anniversary of the declaration in 1821 of the independence of Greece from Turkish rule. The King and the members of the royal family here, accompanied by the Ministers and all the high court and other officials of Athens, attended the religious ceremonies at the cathedral, where a te deum was sung. The King was received with great enthusiasm during his passage to and from the cathedral, and he and the Ministers were showered with leaflets inscribed "Hurrah for War."

The scenes throughout the day, although brilliant, were lacking in the usual imposing military display, on account of the large number of troops sent to the frontier. There was a salute of twenty-one guns in the morning and a free feast of roast lamb, the national dish, was given to the poor. Throughout the day crowds of people paraded the streets cheering for the King and for war with Turkey.

The entire city is decorated with flags, but here also there is a difference from previous years, because not a single foreign flag, except those over the foreign legations, is flying.

Accident to the Crown Princess.

The celebration commenced with the te deum at the cathedral. The route from the palace to the cathedral was lined with the troops of the garrison and the streets were densely crowded. En route the horses of the carriage occupied by the Crown Princess became alarmed, bolted, and the vehicle was overturned. A scene of tremendous excitement followed. The people rushed to the spot from all sides and raised the carriage. The Princess, who was not hurt, soon entered the King's carriage and proceeded to the cathedral.

The thanksgiving service was attended by all the members of the diplomatic corps. Contrary to custom the members of the diplomatic corps were not accompanied by their wives or daughters at the ceremonies today.

There were no manifestations upon the part of the crowd when the foreign representatives passed, but when the cortége reached the cathedral there were terrific shouts of "Long live war!" "Long live Crete!" and "Long live the King!" There was another popular demonstration in front of the university. Large numbers of Greek flags were displayed and wreaths were deposited on the statues of the heroes of Greek independence. Patriotic speeches were made and the warlike sentiments were loudly applauded.

Legations Decorated.

All the legations excepting those of Turkey, Germany, and Austria were decorated with flags, and on the French and Russian Legations the Greek flag floated side by side with the national flags of France and Russia.

During the afternoon today a mass-meeting was held to protest against the action of the powers and to indorse the steps taken by the Greek Government. Later a delegation from this meeting, accompanied by a crowd of thousands of those who took part in the demonstration, presented a copy of the resolutions to the King, at the palace, crying "Long live war!"

The crowd was so enthusiastic that it invaded the vestibule of the palace, and the guard of soldiers on duty had great difficulty in controlling the people.

This evening every one in the city paraded, and the scene was one of extraordinary animation. There were illuminations everywhere, and on all sides were heard cheers for war, for the King, and for Crete.

Calls for King George.

At 9 p. m. a vast concourse of people still remained in front of the royal palace, calling upon King George to show himself. Much alarm was caused by the firing of several shots in the very center of the crowd. Immediately after this a cordon of troops was drawn around the palace.

Thousands listened to one of the most popular and effective Greek orators, who spoke in Constitution Square in favor of war.

There was great excitement over the news that a blockade of the Piræus is imminent, but there are no disturbances. In the crowd were thousands of women and children.

Note from the Powers.

Each of the foreign representatives had handed M. Skouzes, the Greek Minister of Foreign Affairs, the following note:

"The undersigned, in accordance with instructions from his government, has the honor to announces to M. Skouzes, Minister of Foreign Affairs for the Greek Government, that in case of armed conflict on the Greco-Turkish frontier all responsibility will rest with the aggressors. He is also instructed to say that, whatever results may arise from such a conflict, the powers are firmly resolved to maintain the general peace, and have decided not to allow the aggressor in any event to reap the slightest benefit from his action."

The Ambassadors at Constantinople have presented to the Sublime Porte a note similar to the foregoing.

Quiet on Thessaly's Frontier.

London, April 6.—The Times will print the following dispatch tomorrow from its special correspondent at Larissa:

"The celebrations in honor of the anniversary of the declaration of the war for independence in 1821 began at reveille with a salute of twenty-one guns. Crown Prince Nicholas and his suite, wearing Greek orders and decorations, drove through the trooplined streets at 10 o'clock to attend service at the cathedral. The edifice was crowded, and the ceremony of the most impressive character.

"The officiating Bishop presented the Bible to the Prince to kiss. The service closed with a prayer for the long life of the royal family, each member being named. This was taken up when the King's name was reached by a band stationed at the door, which first accompanied the chant of the priests and then played a military hymn, while the artillery outside salvoed.

"The whole ended in cheers from the congregation. The effect of the brass band and cannon blending with and drowning the minor chants of the Greek Church was most impressive. The Crown Prince was apparently deeply moved by a feeling of his own responsibility. After the service he drove to pay a visit to the Mayor, and then returned to headquarters.

"The whole day passed quietly, with music by the bands, fireworks, and a general illumination. Tonight (Tuesday) there was a slight demonstration in front of the residence of the Crown Prince, the crowd cheering and shouting for war. There are persistent rumors that tomorrow is not likely to pass without some action by the insurgent bands."

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—The Greeks in this city celebrated the birthday of Grecian independence today. It was a general holiday with them, and all their places of business were closed.

In the Greek Church in Fifty-third street services were held to commemorate the day, at the conclusion of which Consul-General Botassi, in full uniform, standing in front of the altar, shouted in Greek: "Long live King George and Queen Olga! Long live Constantine and the Princess Sophia! Long live the Greek nation!"

Wild enthusiasm greeted his speech.

MONTENEGRO WANTS TO BE IN IT.

In the Event of Hostilities the Balkan State Wants to Share in the Spoils.

Rome, April 6.—The Prince of Montenegro, owing to the gravity of the situation, has started suddenly on his return to Montenegro. It is understood he believes in the event of an outbreak on the frontier that the war will extend to Albania and Montenegro wishes to be in a position to occupy North Albania as far south as the River Drin, including the Town of Scutari.

Plan of Blockade Completed.

It is semi-officially announced that the Admirals of the foreign fleets in Cretan waters have completed the plan for the blockade of Greece, and have forwarded it to their respective governments for approval. France has decided to send additional forces to Crete.

Turkey Calls Out More Troops.

Constantinople, April 6.—The Council of Ministers sat until late last night and decided to call out and send to the frontier forty more battalions of army reserves.

Italian Admiral Sick of It.

Canea, April 6.—Admiral Canevaro has asked the Italian Government to relieve him of his command, and the Marquis di Rudini has replied that in the event of a blockade of the Greek ports the Admiral's request will be granted.

Victoria Has a Candidate.

London Truth says today that it learns that Queen Victoria is doing her best to secure the appointment of Francis Joseph of Battenburg as Governor of Crete.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Times will say tomorrow that as a result of the Turkish Cabinet council a circular has been dispatched to the powers pointing out that the conditions caused by the attitude of Greece and the interminable prolongation of the Cretan crisis are unendurable.

The correspondent of the Daily News at Canea says the Admirals, at the oral request of Sir Alfred Billiotti, the British Consul in Crete, have agreed to travel throughout the island and personally to make known to the Cretans the terms of a new proclamation announcing that the blockade will continue only so long as Col. Vassos and the Greek expeditionary force remain in Crete.

Plan of Cretan Reform.

The Athens correspondent of the Daily Chronicle will say tomorrow: "The Greek Government learns that the foreign Ambassadors at Constantinople, at the first session convened to decide upon an organic statute for Crete, adopted Eastern Roumelia as a model. The omen is striking, for it indicates that the Governor will be a European, selected from among the secondary powers.

"The Turkish troops, it is understood, are to be temporarily retained, although the powers have accepted the proposal of France and Russia that if King George undertakes to withdraw the Greek troops the powers will immediately concern themselves with the withdrawal of the Turks.

"The Ambassadors are believed to have agreed that the Cretan Assembly ought to be allowed to choose a Prince, but the powers have not yet assented."

WILL IGNORE HARCOURT'S MOTION.

Balfour Declines to Give Time to Debate Unless a Direct Vote of Censure Is Contemplated.

London, April 6.—In the House of Commons today the government leader, Mr. Balfour, replying to the question put yesterday by Sir William Vernon Harcourt, as to whether the government would give a day to discuss his (Sir William's) motion for an address to her Majesty praying that the forces of the crown be not employed against Greece or the people of Crete, said that as there was no word in the motion expressly condemning anything the government had done or announced its intention of doing he was forced to the conclusion that Sir William Harcourt's object was not to raise a direct issue, and that under the circumstances it would not be in the interest of public business to give the day suggested.

Sir William Harcourt then said Mr. Balfour appeared to have entirely misconstrued the intention of the motion. While he, the speaker, could not describe the motion as a vote of censure, he explained that there has been such a thing as a vote of want of confidence in what the government, it was anticipated, was likely to do. The motion, he continued, asks the crown not to allow its forces to be employed against the Cretans, and, if carried, it would be a restraint upon the government's action if it proposes to so employ the forces of the crown. He added:

"We hold there is no justification for the employment of the crown forces against Greece and the Cretans, and we challenge the government's policy on that point."

Mr. Balfour pointed out that the terms of the motion were studiously ambiguous. Continuing, he said:

"We have stated explicitly to the House, and by our action have shown that we are prepared to use the forces of the crown to resist certain action of the insurgents of Crete, and we have announced the objects for which we are prepared to blockade Greece, as the honorable member (Sir William Vernon Harcourt) did upon a previous occasion. The honorable member needs only to modify his resolution so as to condemn one or the other of those acts, the first of which we are actually doing at the present moment, or the second which we have announced our intention of doing in certain contingencies, and a direct issue will be raised by the parties in the House."

AMERICAN DIES OF SEA SICKNESS.

Mrs. Gammell of Providence, R. I., Passes Away from Illness Coming On While Crossing English Channel.

[SPECIAL CABLE.]

London, April 6.—[Copyright, 1897.]—Further details are learned from Dover today of the sudden death, after crossing the channel, of Mrs. Gammell of Providence.

She had been spending the winter at San Remo with her daughter, and had been very busy shopping in Paris for several days. She had doubtless much overfatigued herself. At Calais her daughter left her in charge of a maid. The passage was rough and cold, and she fainted in her state-room after a severe attack of seasickness. When she arrived at Dover she was in a state of collapse, and died within five minutes after being taken to the Lord Warden Hotel.

No inquest was thought to be necessary, and the body was removed to London.

BRITISH COMMONS CHESS TEAM.

Players Who Will Contest with Members of American Congress Chosen—Parnell's Brother Is One.

London, April 6.—The chess team of the British House of Commons, which will play a team composed of members of the United States House of Representatives, will be composed of Arthur Strauss, a partner in the firm of A. Strauss & Co., and a director of several Cornish and foreign mines, who represents in Parliament the Camborne Division of Cornwall; Horace Curson Plunkett, member of the South Division of Dublin County; Atherty-Jones, author of "The Miners' Manual," and member of the Northwest Division of Durham; and John Howard Parnell, eldest brother of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, member for South Meath. The members of Parliament mentioned will choose a fifth player.

SLAVERY ABOLISHED IN ZANZIBAR.

Sultan Issues a Decree Doing Away with It—All Slaves Will Be Paid For.

Zanzibar, April 6.—The Sultan of Zanzibar has issued a decree abolishing slavery. It provides that existing rights over women shall remain as before unless their freedom is claimed on account of cruelty. The government will pay compensation for all slaves legally held. If Zanzibar is unable to meet the full expense it is believed that the imperial government will assist.

The Sultan explained the decree to leading Arabs before issuing it on the theory that the compensation and harem clauses would reconcile them to the measure.

United States Demands Reparation.

Tangier, Morocco, April 6.—Acting upon instructions received from Washington, United States Consul Burke has sent an energetic demand to the Sheriffian court for ample reparation for the threat of a Moorish soldier to shoot Vice-Consul Castleton at Laraiche.

Bayard to Receive Mayflower Log.

London, April 6.—The Archbishop of Canterbury will personally deliver into the hands of Mr. Bayard, on the latter's return to this city, the log of the Mayflower, which the Consistorial Court recently decided to present to the United States.

Twenty Killed at Lisbon.

Lisbon, April 6.—Twenty persons were killed and many others were injured by an explosion here today in a fireworks factory.

TO GIVE GRAND OPERA.

WALTER DAMROSCH AND CHARLES A. ELLIS JOIN FORCES.

Plans of the New Firm Embrace a Longer Season in Chicago, Philadelphia, and Boston, and French and Italian Opera in Addition to Wagner—Distinguished Company of Artists Is Promised—Damrosch Will Devote His Time to the Artistic Side.

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—The operatic situation is becoming more and more complicated. In the uncertain relations between the Metropolitan Opera-House Real Estate company and the Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau company, limited, a new element has been introduced. This is the copartnership arrangement which was entered into today by Walter Damrosch and Charles A. Ellis for the purpose of giving grand opera in French, German, and Italian during the ensuing year.

The plans of the new firm embrace a longer season of opera in Chicago, Philadelphia, and Boston, and several other cities, and are most comprehensive in the matters of répertoire and performers. In addition to the works of Wagner, to the interpretation of which Mr. Damrosch has for three seasons given almost his exclusive attention, the great operas of the French and Italian schools will be presented. A distinguished company of artists is promised.

The double task of rehearsing and conducting the performances and of attending to the business and financial affairs as well has been a severe one for Mr. Damrosch. He has felt the strain this season, and he had about made up his mind to abandon the work next winter, but this arrangement, relieving him as it will of all cares and duties of a managerial character, will permit him to devote himself exclusively to the esthetic and artistic sides of opera production.

Ellis Has Experience.

Mr. Ellis is a prominent figure in the musical circles of America. He has been for many years the manager of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the fame of which is today international, ranking as it does among the four or five master orchestras of the world. Mr. Ellis has also managed concert tours by eminent artists, notable ones being Mme. Melba during the last two seasons.

Mr. Damrosch, who was seen today, admitted that he had had some desultory talk with Mr. Grau on the possibility of an alliance, but said that no definite point had ever been reached. He announced his departure for Europe on Thursday by the Fuerst Bismarck. Who the artists are that are in view is not yet known, but it is understood that Lili Lehmann, Johanne Gadski, and Ernst Kraus will return. The engagement of Ella Russell is also reported. A friend of Jean de Reszke said today that in a letter he had received from the celebrated tenor, M. de Reszke had expressed doubts as to his return to America next season.

There was no meeting today of the Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau company, limited, but Mr. Grau will return from Boston tomorrow when the meeting will be held.

Mrs. Katharine Fisk's Return.

Mrs. Katharine Fisk, the contralto, will return to America Thursday. She has been absent from this country about three years, in which time she has taken a leading and enviable position in Great Britain as an artist of the first rank.

Her greatest success has perhaps been made in "Samson et Delilah," and in the exciting rôle of Delilah she is absolute mistress. Mrs. Fisk's first appearance in this country will be with the St. Louis Choral Society April 20, in "Samson et Delilah," and the following evening with the Apollo club in Chicago.

FALL OF THE E. S. DEAN COMPANY.

Drop in Wheat Forces the Company to the Wall—Dean Formerly a Chicago Operator.

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—The offices of the E. S. Dean company, No. 35 Broadway, now in the hands of the Sheriff, were today besieged by some of the many investors, who were attracted by the alluring advertisements of the concern, which promised such large profits for small risks.

E. S. Dean, it is said here today, was a former partner of B. P. Hutchinson in Chicago, where he failed several times. He came East and organized the E. S. Dean company. Last year he sold out, and, while the firm name was retained, Dean, although holding a controlling interest in the stock, went to Rochester, where he still lives.

Dean was the originator of a system of speculation which consisted of averaging up the market from day to day and then "scalping" it.

The E. S. Dean company secured as their representatives such reputable firms as Barrett & Co. in Chicago.

The firm made money, and pooling its profits divided them pro rata among investors. March 1 a circular was sent out to the effect that in view of the war complications in the East wheat was a desirable investment. The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the railroad pool upset calculations, for it sent wheat down four points, and the E. S. Dean company, having its money tied up, was in the doldrums. Suspension followed, and the probabilities are that customers will receive a very small percentage on their holdings.

President Bernard of the company denied emphatically any officer of the company is in hiding, or has rendered himself liable to criminal prosecution, and believes matters will be adjusted and business resumed. He claims the liabilities will not reach $500,000, with assets of half that amount.

SWEAR HE IS IN TWO PLACES AT ONCE

Witnesses of High Repute Puzzle the Jury at the Trial of Alonzo J. Whiteman.

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—Such diametrically opposed testimony was given in the trial of Alonzo J. Whiteman today that the jurors are dazed and were unable to make up their minds whether Whiteman has a double, or some of them are committing perjury. The character of the witnesses on both sides of the case seems to preclude the latter theory. They include a minister, a bank cashier, a paying teller, a Justice of the Peace, several reputable clerks in a law office, a baggage master, a saleswoman, a hotel porter, and police officers. All swear to the identity of Whiteman, but while several declare that on Feb. 23 he forged and cashed a check at noon in the Columbia Bank of this city, the others maintain that at the same hour he was in Danville, N. Y., 333 miles from this city.

Whiteman's arrest was based on the cashing of the check.

Among the witnesses on Whiteman's side who were positive they saw him in Danville that day was the Rev. Arthur O. Sykes, minister of the local Methodist Church, who swore he knew him well and long and that on Feb. 23 he saw him about noon in Danville.

The faces of the jury as the case took its various forms, first for and then against Whiteman, were studies. They from time to time took notes and asked questions. More testimony in rebuttal will be given today.

Whiteman was born in Danville and was left a fortune by his father. He failed, went to Minnesota, and became a State Senator. He was the author of the Whiteman election law and in 1894 ran for Congress. He says the Pinkertons have been paid to ruin him.

"A MAN AND HIS WIFE" PRESENTED.

Julia Constance Fletcher's Three-Act Play Is Given at a Special Matinee.

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—Miss Julia Constance Fletcher, who, under the nom de plume of George Fleming, is the author of the three-act play, "A Man and His Wife," which Charles Frohman presented at a special matinée today at the Empire Theater, possesses a distinct dramatic gift and shows she is a keen observer of life, both serious and comic, with a very positive sense of the value of contrast and situation.

"A Man and His Wife" is of somewhat uneven quality. The first act of the story, whose plot again deals with that time-honored formula of an unsuspecting husband, his thoughtless wife, and an insinuating if not entirely reprehensible friend, is almost trivial. There is a strong situation in the second act, and the concluding act is genuinely effective in its contrasting moments of comedy and deep emotional strength.

William Faversham, as the husband, did some truly admirable acting, unaffected, sincere, and potent. Viola Allen, as the wife, acted with her customary skill and intelligence, and Ida Conquest and Jameson Lee Finney as a pair of youthful lovers genuinely amusing and artistic. Robert Edeson played the friend with commendable earnestness, and the rest of the cast was entirely adequate.

STANDARD OIL STOCK TAKES A FLY.

Advances Thirteen Points in Two Days on Rumors of 100 Per Cent Dividends.

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—Standard Oil company stock sold today at $287.50 a share, which is the highest price ever recorded. There has been a brisk demand for this stock for several days past on the New York Stock Exchange. It has gained 13¼ points in two days. It is rumored the company will pay 100 per cent in dividends during the present fiscal year. Of this amount 39 per cent has already been paid, and the year is not half passed. During last year the company paid 56 per cent in dividends.

REVIVAL OF "THE TEMPEST" BY DALY

Complete and Elaborate Production of the Shakspearean Comedy in New York.

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—Once more modern theater-goers owe Augustin Daly a debt of gratitude for reviving a Shakspearean comedy, "The Tempest," at his theater. It was presented tonight in a four-act version, in which the original text and form are reverently and sympathetically followed, and the production was complete, elaborate, and beautiful. The scenery was graceful, airy, and well-painted, and the costumes rich and beautiful in form and harmony of color.

The Caliban was Tyrone Power, whose make-up was fiercely startling, and the deformity both in mind and body of this famous characterization was depicted by him with picturesque uncouthness. Herbert Gresham was deliciously droll as the drunken butler.

The lovers, Ferdinand and Miranda, were portrayed with romantic charm by Charles Richman and Nancy McIntosh. Miss Virginia Earle as Ariel sang well and acted with sprightliness and grace.

GENERAL NEWS OF NEW YORK.

Erie Canal Boatmen Form a Pool to Control Rates on Grain Transportation.

New York, April 6.—[Special.]—The boatmen of the Erie Canal, who carry grain from Buffalo to this port, have formed a pool or combination to control and equalize the rates on grain between the points named. It has been decided to fix the rate of transportation at 8¾ cents per bushel. It was also agreed the boats should load in turn at the elevators, and so prevent undue competition and lowering of rates. The rate is fixed so as to be from one-half to one cent lower than the railroad rate, thus preventing the latter from cornering all the transportation.

Disgraces His Relatives.

John A. Beaver was sentenced today to the Sing Sing prison for one year and nine months. Beaver is a cousin of ex-Gov. Beaver of Pennsylvania, and is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He married a belle of Scranton and four years later committed a forgery, for which he served five years in the Pennsylvania State prison. His cousin, then Governor, refused to pardon him. Beaver's last offense was falsifying the books of Bernard N. Smith, his employer, in this city.

Sugar Trust Pays $200,000 Duties.

The sugar trust paid $200,000 at the Custom House today in duties on raw sugar. Philadelphia, another port greatly favored by the trust, where several of its refineries are located, has also received large quantities of raw sugar owned by the trust. Several vessels are now on the high seas bearing beet sugars from Germany and cane sugars from Java and the West Indies for both Philadelphia and this port.

Brigadier Swift Becomes a Catholic.

Susie F. Swift, one of the best known among the Brigadiers of the Salvation Army, has announced her conversion to the Roman Catholic Church. It is understood that this was brought about through the influence of Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, with whom Miss Swift became acquainted in the course of her work among the poor of this city.

TRANSVAAL LEADER DEFIES HARCOURT

Sir John Willoughby Repeatedly Refuses to Tell Where He Got Imperial Authority for Raid.

London, April 6.—The Parliamentary committee inquiring into the Transvaal raid was again in session today. Among those present was Lord Chelmsford.

Sir William Harcourt cross-examined Sir John Willoughby, military leader of the raid, with the view of eliciting his reasons for believing he had imperial authority for the raid. The witness, however, declined to say anything beyond admitting that he had private talks with Dr. Jameson on the subject, the substance of which he refused to divulge.

This caused Sir William Harcourt to exclaim: "Then I must clear the room and settle this question once for all."

An hour later the doors were reopened, and the Chairman informed Sir John Willoughby that he must answer the questions; but that he need not repeat Dr. Jameson's exact words.

Sir John Willoughby, however, still declined to answer the questions, alleging public grounds as the reason for his refusal, and declaring that he was prepared to take the consequences of doing so. The Chairman again advised the witness to divulge his reasons, but Sir John Willoughby remained firm.

Throughout the rather exciting scenes the witness was agitated and deadly pale, but he showed no sign of yielding. The committee adjourned until Friday next.

In the House of Commons today, answering a question on the subject, the Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, Mr. Curzon, said that the British agent at Pretoria had reported that the Transvaal police insults, for which Lieut. Eloff, the grandson of President Kruger, had been suspended, were of such a nature that they could not be repeated. Mr. Curzon added that President Kruger had personally expressed his regrets at the occurrence.

Promotions at Fort Sheridan.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—The next vacancy in the list of Colonels of infantry will result in the following promotions at Fort Sheridan: Lieut.-Col. H. C. Cook, Fourth Infantry, to Colonel, First Infantry; Maj. A. H. Bainbridge, Tenth Infantry, to Lieutenant-Colonel, Fourth Infantry.

HAWAII IN THE BALANCE

MUST BE ANNEXED OR SUCCUMB TO ASIATIC DOMINATION.

Spain Heeds Secretary Sherman's Warning Regarding Gen. Rivera's Fate—Armor Plate Makers Hold Back Bids Until the Last Moment to Prevent Possible Leakage—Illinois Steel Company in the Lists—Other News from Washington.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—[Special.]—"There are but two futures before Hawaii," said Lorrin A. Thurston, ex-Minister of the Islands, who is here in charge of the annexation propaganda. "The group of islands must be annexed to the United States or Asiatic influence will become supreme. We do not fear any forcible invasion by the Japanese nor do we fear the forcible possession of the island by any European country. If we are not to be annexed to the United States the rapid increase of the Asiatic population will swamp us within a few years. This is inevitable from commercial conditions. The planters are the controlling influence on the island. If Hawaii is to remain outside of the United States and be subjected to the possibility of high protective duties on her commodities the planters must necessarily protect themselves by employing the cheapest of cheap labor. There is nothing between Hawaii and the United States now but a mere treaty which can be abrogated at any time by act of Congress. Once in the United States the planters could afford to pay American rates of wages because their products would not have to pass through the custom-house. So long as they are at the mercy of changing political conditions in the United States they must continue to employ cheap labor. The result will be that unless annexation comes speedily the islands will be overwhelmed with Asiatics, who, in the natural course of events, must sooner or later assume control. We do not ask for admission as a State nor do we want it. Annexation on such terms would be particularly disastrous to Hawaii and would give to America an undesirable State. If annexation is to come at all it should be on the basis established in the case of Florida and Louisana or on the lines originally laid down for the Northwest Territory. The island could be acceptably managed by an appointive Governor with an advisory council. The islanders need not have as much legislative power as is now granted to the organized Territories of the United States. We would be perfectly willing to accept the conditions usually imposed upon unorganized Territories and they would in fact be the very best for Hawaii for years to come. On the other hand, for the reasons I have indicated, absolute political union with the United States must come at once or it will be too late to put a stop to cheap Asiatic labor. With annexation we can support hundreds of thousands of prosperous citizens and develop the islands enormously. Without it American interests there will soon have to be abandoned."

Telegrams received today from persons with connections in Havana indicate clearly that the delay in the sentence of Gen. Ruiz Rivera is caused by telegraphic instructions from Madrid, thus confirming fully the statement made yesterday that Minister de Lome had received an unofficial tip from the State Department that Rivera's shooting would be immedaitely followed by recognition of belligerency as the only means of stopping such outrages in the future. Once the insurgents are recognized as belligerents the United States would have a right to insist that the ordinary usages of civilized warfare should be observed and that men captured with arms in their hands outside the regular lines should in all cases be treated as prisoners of war.

William Barrett Ridgeley was today appointed Postmaster at Springfield, Ill., thus closing up another contested case growing out of the last election. This is a triumph for Senator Cullom over many adverse influences, for both the late Postmaster and the new one are his relatives by marriage, although they are on different sides of the political fence. Soon after the election President Cleveland removed Riddick M. Ridgeley for offensive partisanship. The Postmaster had participated in the campaign to a considerable extent and had openly espoused the cause of the Bryan-Altgeld combination. It was said at the time, however, that Postmaster Ridgeley had taken the shoot largely for social reasons, inasmuch as he was not in sympathy personally with the silver movement, but under certain obligations to Gov. Altgeld which he could not well break. President Cleveland removed him at the same time as the Postmasters at Evanston, Alton, Waukegan, and other places and appointed to the Springfield office Charles A. Keyes. Senator Cullom took the same course in this, his home office, as was pursued in the other Illinois cases. Charlie Keyes, who is a gold Democrat, was not confirmed, nor was he rejected. If an arrangement could have been made by which he could have filled out Ridgeley's term he might have stood some show, but there was no law or postal regulation which would permit him to be appointed for anything but the full four years, and this would have put Senator Cullom in the position of having his home office filled by a Democrat until nearly the close of his own and President McKinley's term. He, therefore, held up the confirmation. One of the Senator's first visits to the White House was to secure the nomination of William B. Ridgeley, the nephew of the last Postmaster, and the nomination went into the Senate today in harmony with the well-understood rule Senators are to have the control of their home postoffices without question. This morning Representative Connolly turned up at the White House with a telegram from ex-Senator Palmer asking the President to appoint Keyes as Postmaster to fill out Ridgeley's term. Col. Connolly was informed that he was a few days too late, as the appointment had been made out and sent to the Senate. Even had he been earlier there is little chance of ex-Senator Palmer's wishes having been followed, for the President has all along intimated that important cities should be given Republican Postmasters wherever vacancies occurred legitimately. He does not propose to make removals for political reasons.

No bids have yet been received at the Navy Department for the armor plate to be used on the new batch of war vessels. The competing concerns, including the Illinois Steel company, will not file their bids until the latest possible moment, as they wish to avoid all chance of conveying the information to their competitors. Capt. Sampson's visit to Chicago has demonstrated the fact that the Illinois Steel company is a responsible corporation within the meaning of the law, and if they come under the head, $400 limit, and the Eastern firms refuse to compete they will get the contract, although it may be necessary to insert a clause carrying heavy penalties. The bids are to be opened at 2 o'clock on Thursday, and it is understood that the big steel companies will not file their papers until a few minutes before that hour. The fight between them has been too severe to take any chances on the leakage of subordinate officials.

CARTER H. HARRISON.

Mayor-elect Carter Henry Harrison was born on April 30, 1860, at the home of his parents, Clark and Harrison streets, Chicago. He received his early education at the public schools in this city, then was sent to the gymnasium in Altenburg, Germany, where he spent four years, and became thoroughly acquainted with the German language. On returning home he was graduated from St. Ignatius College, on the West Side, in the class of '81, and then went to Yale, of which his father was an alumnus, and was graduated from the law school of that university in 1883.

After a brief period spent in travel he returned to Chicago and took up the practice of law, which he continued for five years. He then went into the real estate business with his brother, William Preston Harrison.

The firm of Harrison Bros. was dissolved in 1891, when the elder Carter Harrison purchased the Chicago Times and made his elder son editor and his younger son, William Preston, business manager. After the assassination of Mayor Harrison, in 1893, the two sons conducted the Times until after the strike of 1894, when they sold it, just before it went out of existence in its consolidation with the Herald.

Since that time Mr. Harrison has been in the real estate business exclusively except for one year that he spent abroad.

Mr. Harrison's wife is a Southern woman, the daughter of Judge Ogden of the Louisiana Court of Appeals. She is a fine German scholar, and uses the language frequently in conversing with her husband. She has traveled much in Europe and in this country. She met Carter H. Harrison in Chicago, and was married to him in December, 1888. She has two children, Carter H. the third, now in his 7th year, and Edith Ogden, 14 months old.

Mr. Harrison moved two years ago to his present home, No. 295 Schiller street. He has been a prominent member of several local cycling clubs and of the Chicago Society of Amateur Photographers, but is not now connected with any other social organizations of the city. He has traveled extensively, and usually spends a large part of his winters at the old home of his wife in the South.

MUNYON'S

Remedies Continue Curing the Sick—They Again Cure

RHEUMATISM, BLOOD DISORDER AND FEVER.

Mrs. Crary's Fervent Words of How She Was Cured From These Afflictions.

Munyon's Doctors Are at Your Service Free of Any Charge Whatsoever—They Will Give You Careful Examination, Tell You Your Exact Physical Condition, and Advise You the Best Course to Pursue to Regain Your Health.

Mrs. S. Crary, 152 West Polk street, Chicago, says:

I was sick for five months and confined to bed afflicted with rheumatism, blood disorder, and fever. My ankles and feet were greatly swollen and I could not walk. I suffered intense pain. The fever would come on mornings and evenings and leave me dripping with perspiration. I tried several physicians, none of whom did me any good. At last I took Munyon's Remedies for the Rheumatism, Blood, and Fever, and before one vial of each of these remedies was taken I became completely cured. I cannot praise Munyon's Remedies too highly.

FREE VISITING PHYSICIANS—If you cannot call at the office a postal will bring one of Munyon's doctors to your bedside. The physician will write you a prescription for the remedies you need, which can be obtained from any druggist, mostly for 25 cents a vial.

TREATMENT BY MAIL—If unable to call at one of our offices, write Prof. Munyon for advice, which is ABSOLUTELY FREE. The most obstinate cases successfully treated through correspondence. Send for FREE "Guide to Health."

If you do not need the advice of a physician MUNYON'S Remedies—a separate cure for each disease—are provided with plain directions on every vial for home treatment, so there can be no mistake. They relieve sickness and pain almost instantly, cure promptly, are absolutely harmless, and should be always on hand in every home. Munyon's "Guide to Health" is free at your druggist's. Study its pages, buy a 25-cent Munyon Remedy, and cure yourself.

A PECULIAR FACT.

Thousands of People Have Dyspepsia in Its Worst Form and Do Not Know It.

A weak stomach is the cause of about nine-tenths of all disease, yet in most cases the wrong thing is treated and the true cause overlooked.

This is because a weak digestion produces symptoms resembling nearly every disease because it weakens and disturbs the action of every nerve and organ in the body; poor digestion causes heart trouble, kidney troubles, lung weakness, and especially nervous break down or nervous prostration, the nerves cannot stand the wear and tear unless generously fed by well digested, wholesome food.

Keep the digestion good and no one need fear the approach of disease.

Mrs. H. M. Lee of Rochester, N. Y., writes: For the sake of suffering humanity I want to say that from childhood I had a very weak stomach, threw up my food very often after eating, and after a few years nervous dyspepsia resulted, and for more than twenty years I have suffered inexpressibly.

I tried many physicians and advertised remedies with only temporary relief for nervous dyspepsia, and not until I commenced taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets last September, six months ago, have I been free from suffering caused by the condition of my nerves and stomach; in short, chronic nervous dyspepsia.

I have recommended Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to many of my friends, and now I want in a public way to say they are the safest, pleasantest, and I believe surest cure for stomach and nerve troubles. I write my honest opinion, and I will gladly answer any letter of inquiry at any time, and feel that I am, in my small way, helping on a good cause.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is not a patent medicine, but they contain only the fruit salts, digestive acids and peptones necessary to help the weak stomach to promptly and thoroughly digest food.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package and any one suffering from nervous dyspepsia, sour stomach, headaches, acidity, gases, belching, etc., will find them not only a quick relief but a radical cure.

Send to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., for little book describing cause and cure of stomach troubles, giving symptoms and treatment of the various forms of indigestion.

RESULTS IN MANY CITIES.

REPUBLICAN OFFICIALS ELECTED AT SPRINGFIELD AND GALESBURG.

Republican Town Ticket Successful in Waukegan — Township Elections Throughout Illinois — Republican Mayor Is Elected in St. Louis—Gov. Pingree Regards the Detroit Election as a Personal Victory—Elections Elsewhere.

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—In the city and township election today Loren E. Wheeler, Republican, was elected Mayor over Rudolph Hellweg, Democrat, by 300 plurality, and the entire Republican ticket appears to have been elected.

Galesburg, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—The Republicans won a sweeping victory here today, carrying every precinct, and the indications are that they have elected their entire ticket. These officers were elected: Mayor, Forrest F. Cooke; Clerk, A. W. Truedson; Treasurer, H. I. Clark; Attorney, A. D. Boutelle; Assessor, W. O. Lovejoy; Police Magistrate, R. D. Robinson. All the disaffected elements were combined against the Republicans.

Waukegan, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—The Republicans elected most of the officers voted on at today's town election. The vote was rather small. A personal fight was made on a few candidates. As a result J. R. Dady, Democrat, is elected Supervisor over John T. Judge, Republican, by a small majority. R. D. Wynn and W. H. Dodge, Republicans, are elected Assistant Supervisors; G. W. Hutchinson, Republican, Town Clerk; W. S. Erskine, Republican, Assessor; J. K. Bower, Republican, Collector.

Rock Island, Ill., April 6.—The Democrats carried the day here by electing Medill Mayor and most of the city officers. The Republicans carried the township offices. Both sides had small majorities.

Quincy, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—The Democrats carried the city by a majority of about 150, and reelected John A. Steinbach Mayor, Horace Farrar City Clerk, D. G. Campbell Treasurer, and Mat Reagan City Marshal. The Democrats also elect seven out of the nine Aldermen chosen today.

Township elections throughout the State of Illinois were governed largely by local issues. The vote was lighter than that of last fall. The Republicans appear to hold their own, however, as the following list of towns where Republicans were successful demonstrates:

Atlanta,
Bement,
Bloomington,
Clay City,
Clinton,
Decatur,
Eureka,
Fairbury,
Galva,
Greenville,
Hillsboro,
Harvard,
Joliet,
Kankakee,
Kansas,
Kirkwood,
Macomb,
Monticello,
Mattoon,
Martinsville,
Naperville,
Peoria,
Paxton,
Princeton,
Rushville,
Woodstock,
Wing,
Warsaw.

The Democrats were successful at:

Charleston,
Carlyle,
Freeport,
Havana,
Kinmundy,
Louisville,
Minonk,
Mount Vernon,
Rantoul,
Salem.

The People's ticket won at Moline.

ST. LOUIS REPUBLICANS EASILY WIN.

Chauncey I. Filley's Candidate for Mayor Elected in Spite of Civic Federation and Democrats.

St. Louis, Mo., April 6.—[Special.]—In the municipal election today the Republicans carried the city by majorities over all ranging from 3,000 to 5,000, electing their entire ticket, from Mayor down, with the possible exception of Robert E. McMath for President of the Board of Public Improvements.

One hundred and six precincts out of 426 indicate that Henry Ziegenheim, present Collector, and State Committeeman Chauncey Ives Filley's candidate for Mayor, is elected by a majority of between 3,000 and 4,000 over the regular Democratic nominee, Edwin Harrison, and the independent Democratic nominee, Lee Meriweather. The other successful candidates on the Republican ticket are: Controller, Isaac H. Sturgeon; Auditor, Isaac M. Mason; Treasurer, Charles Scudder; Register, Henry Besch; Collector, Charles F. Wenneker; Inspector of Weights and Measures, John C. Lyons; Marshal, Henry Reinstedler; President Board of Assessors, August H. Frederick; President of Council, E. F. W. Meier; members of Council, Charles E. Carroll, Paul Gast, Henry Gaus Jr., Charles Kratz, Charles H. Thuner, and Charles Wiggins.

John F. Hinckley, candidate for President of the Board of Public Improvements on both of the Democratic tickets, has probably defeated McMath, the Republican nominee, as the latter ran far behind his ticket all over the city.

The result of today's election here serves to demonstrate the supremacy of National Committeeman Kerens' old enemy, Chauncey Ives Filley, in the local political arena. He dictated the entire Republican municipal ticket and managed the local campaign from the outset, and, although bitterly opposed by the Civic Federation and both Democratic factions, he landed his candidates winners.

McKinley carried St. Louis by nearly 15,000 majority last November, but the normal Republican majority in this city ranges from 5,000 to 8,000. Ziegenheim's election as Mayor was a foregone conclusion because of the split in the local Democracy at the nominating convention.

The Civic Federation bitterly assailed Zeigenheim together with the Democratic press, because of his record as Collector of the city. Ziegenheim's enemies charged that Nicholas M. Bell, during his term of office as Excise Commissioner collected and turned into the city treasury for saloon licenses $623,941.35 more than did Ziegenheim for a corresponding time as Collector of Revenue, although there was an annual average of 500 more saloons under Ziegenheim than under Bell.

Complete returns from all the wards in the city give Ziegenheim 47,000, Harrison 23,500, Meriwether 17,500, a majority of 6,000 over all for Ziegenheim.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS IN WISCONSIN.

Returns from Town Elections Generally Indicate Increases Over the Vote of November Election.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 6.—[Special.]—Returns from the cities of the State show that in nearly all there have been Democratic gains. The principal gains over the vote of last fall were as follows:

Waukesha, 349; Oconto, 820; Madison, 415; Stevens Point, 136; Dodge County, 1,511; Oshkosh, 1,700; Boscobel, 1,720; Baraboo, 300; Whitewater, 503; Watertown, 754; Grant County, 1,922; Washington County, 673; Portage, 281; Eau Claire, 1,370; Appleton, 786.

Wisconsin voters reëlected without opposition Roujet D. Marshall, an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, to succeed himself. The term for which he was chosen today will begin in January, 1898, and continue until January, 1908.

Judge Goodland of the Tenth Circuit and Judge Bardeen of the Sixteenth Circuit were reëlected without opposition.

Judge Bailey of the Seventeenth Circuit, who launched several sensations during the campaign, is probably defeated by James O'Neill.

Republican Mayors were elected in these cities: Merrill, Ripon, River Falls, Viroqua, Mineral Point, Sturgeon Bay, Black River Falls, Lake Geneva, Sparta, Tomah, Menominee, Plymouth, Chippewa Falls, and New Lisbon.

The Democrats secured Mayors in the following cities: Watertown, Hudson, Medford, Prairie du Chien, Beaver Dam, Chilton, and Fountain City.

License or no license was the chief issue in many places. The following towns went "dry": Viroqua, Evansville, Fenimore, Bayfield, Elroy, Grantsburg (for the first time in its history), Black River Falls, Wyocena, St. Croix Falls, Phillips, and Lodi. License was voted in River Falls, Hudson, Brodhead, Prairie du Sac, Sparta, Waupun, Bejoit, and Galesville.

In the judicial election in this city there were no party lines drawn. There were three non-partisan tickets in the field. George E. Sutherland has been elected Judge of the Superior Court and Judge John E. Mann Judge of the County Court. There was little interest taken in the election here, as there were not more than 16,000 votes cast.

Although all of the candidates pretended to be running on non-partisan tickets the machine of the Populists and silver party was supporting E. Q. Nye for Superior and James Stover for County Judge. They made every effort to get out a good vote, but the result shows that they utterly failed. Judge R. N. Austin and Judge Mann were regarded as the Democratic candidates. The former has held the position of Superior Judge for a number of years and his failure of a reelection was the result in the main of his maintaining an officer of his court who was in contempt of the orders of another court. The total vote in the city is as follows:

For Superior Judge—George E. Sutherland, 7,310; E. Q. Nye, 4,925; R. N. Austin, 3,431. Sutherland's plurality, 2,385.

For County Judge—John E. Mann, 5,451; James Stover, 4,796; W. W. Wight, 3,656; M. N. Lando, 885; C. J. Faber, 658. Mann's plurality, 655.

The returns from the towns in the county outside of the city will not materially change these results except to increase these pluralities. George E. Sutherland, the new Judge of the Superior Court, is a Republican, while Judge Mann is a Democrat and has been Judge of the County Court since 1874.

PREACHER-MAYOR WINS OVER ALL.

The Rev. Charles Starkweather, Once Impeached, Without a Newspaper's Support, Wins in West Superior.

West Superior, Wis., April 6.—[Special.]—The Rev. Charles Starkweather, ex-preacher and impeached Mayor, was reëlected Mayor tonight, receiving a majority of votes over H. J. Extrand and William Manro, the Republican and independent Populist candidates.

"Old Starky" as the preacher-Mayor dubbed himself, sought the nomination of all the conventions and was turned down. He then came out independently. Not a person would go on the stump for him and the press of the city ridiculed him severely. His odd campaign talks teeming with scriptural quotations and his earnest request for exoneration won the people.

Starkweather was impeached on the charge of extorting money from the sporting fraternity and from city employés. He admitted his guilt, but said that others were more guilty than he and at the close of each morning passed around bags of candy and popcorn, with the expression that he was "a minister of God and would distribute the sweets rather than the sorrows of life."

At a mass-meeting tonight he promised the most radical reforms and avowed that his administration this time will be clean. The city is filled with excitement. An attempt will be made to keep him from the office on the ground that he was not properly tried. He is one of the most unique characters in the Northwest and since being impeached has lived on a farm, daily marketing eggs and produce through the city.

GOV. PINGREE CALLS IT A VICTORY.

Defeat of Stewart for Mayor Not Taken Hard Because Democrats Adopted His Platform.

Detroit, Mich., April 6.—[Special.]—Stewart, Gov. Pingree's entry, was defeated by 547 votes. Until this afternoon the Pingree lieutenants talked little else than fraud and contest; then they saw the hopelessness of it all and decided to let Mr. Maybury and his Democratic friends enjoy their well-earned victory.

The Governor came up smiling after this decision was arrived at, and declared that he had just won the greatest victory of his life. "How do you make that out?" he was asked. "Why, I have forced the Democratic party to adopt my platform," replied the Governor. "I am not sorry for a thing I have done. I named a good, honest business-man for Mayor. If I hadn't gone into the fight they would have said that I was sulking."

His frank admission that he and not the convention selected the candidate is refreshing and thoroughly Pingreesque. The reference to the adoption of his platform was aimed at Maybury, who was forced at a late hour to advocate three-cent street car fares. The magnitude of the Republican revolt against Pingree was accounted for when the final count of the votes was made, showing that Judge Long, Republican, for Supreme Justice, carried the city by more than 1,400 votes. A Pingree lieutenant declares that the Governor will resign his place and run for Mayor at the regular election a year hence. The State has been carried by Judge Long, the head of the ticket, by not less than 50,000. Many counties have exceeded their big Republican majorities of last November.

KANSAS REPUBLICANS VICTORIOUS.

Generally Successful in Cities Where the Opposition Is Combined Against Them—Woman Vote Is Large.

Topeka, Kas., April 6.—[Special.]—Incomplete returns from the municipal elections in Kansas today indicate that the Republicans have won a victory. It was the policy of the Republicans to put up straight tickets. They were generally opposed by "citizens'" tickets, "non-partisan" tickets, and the like, which carried with them all the Republican opposition.

There were local issues everywhere, however, and partisan politics did not enter extensively into the contests except in some of the larger cities. The Republicans carried Topeka, reëlecting Charles A. Fellows Mayor by 1,500 majority. Fellows' majority two years ago was 2,500. The Topeka Republicans who left their party last fall for Bryan remained with the opposition, which had up a citizens' ticket this year.

At Atchison the Republicans were victorious, with the Mayoralty in doubt. The reports from Leavenworth, Fort Scott, and Wichita, the other cities of the first class, are that the vote is close and the count slow. The indications are that the Republicans have carried a majority of the second-class cities. The woman vote was unusually heavy.

WOMEN CANDIDATES ARE DEFEATED.

Only Place They Make a Fight in Kansas They Are Unsuccessful—Women Vote as Men Do.

Kansas City, Mo., April 6.—[Special.]—Reports of the Kansas election today indicate the women may be relied upon to vote squarely with the men except where the issues include the prohibition question or other highly moral reforms. The prohibition question did not enter into the election in the larger cities, but was a factor in many of the smaller places.

The woman vote was unusually large. The campaign in many of the towns had been lively. Perhaps the greatest interest among women was in Topeka, where there were four candidates of that sex. They were all after places on the Board of Education and all were defeated. Two of them, Mrs. Lizzie B. Hamrick and Mrs. R. B. Steele, failed of nomination at the primaries, but were nominated by petition and managed to get themselves on the Republican ticket and also had the indorsement of the fusion ticket.

In spite of this combination, however, they were defeated by the regular Republican nominees. The other two women, Mrs. George M. Flinthan and Mrs. Lydia B. Furbeck, were on the fusion ticket only.

REPUBLICANS CARRY KANSAS CITY.

Triumph Over the Combined Opposition in the Kansas Town Across the Kaw.

Kansas City, Mo., April 6.—[Special.]—The municipal election in Kansas City, Kas., today resulted in a sweeping Republican victory, despite the fact that the Republican ticket was opposed by a fusion of Democrats, Populists, and silver Republicans. R. L. Marshman, the Republican nominee for Mayor, will have a majority over W. W. Rose, the fusion nominee, of about 800 votes, although the count is late in making up. It is thought that the city ticket will average about 700 Republican majority.

The only offices filled by the fusionists are, perhaps, two in separate wards. In addition to the election of Mayor the offices of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Attorney, as well as a number of minor offices, were filled. The vote was about 10,000 out of a registration of 13,000. The women came out in large numbers.

Republican Majorities Reduced.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 6.—In the city election today the Democrats elected the Mayor and Marshal, the Republicans the remainder of the officers. The contest was close and the Republican majorities were greatly reduced.

CRUEL HOAX FOR HUNTER

SOME ONE TELLS THE KENTUCKY MAN HE IS ELECTED.

Arrives at the Door of the House Before He Discovers the Mistake—He Does Come Near an Election—Opposition Fails to Break a Quorum—Hunter Receives a Majority, but the Democrats Get Names of Absentees Called—Political News.

Frankfort, Ky., April 6.—[Special.]—The joint ballot for Senator today developed more excitement than any ballot since the first one, and some of the easily excited members thought Hunter had won. The silver Democrats and bolting Republicans refused to vote when their names were called, hoping to break a quorum, and everybody thought they would succeed, as usual; but when the name of Senator Elliston, the gold Democrat leader, was called, he sprung a sensation in explaining his vote. He stated the circumstances of this long struggle and wanted to know if it was not time for this farce-comedy to cease. He believed that the solution of this trouble was yet in the hands of the Democrats. His speech ended with his nomination of and vote for Senator Henry L. Martin of Woodford County.

The ballot proceeded, and Senator Elmore, a Blackburn Democrat, was so excited over Elliston's speech that he forgot his instructions and voted. His vote, added to the Republicans and gold Democrats, made a quorum. This threw the Democrats in confusion. Elmore asked to withdraw his vote, but was denied the privilege. The roll-call was completed, and those who kept tab found that Hunter was elected if the result should be announced before the Democrats could vote.

House in an Uproar.

The House was in an uproar in an instant. The Democrats demanded a call of the absentees before the Clerk footed up the vote. After a short wrangle, when dozens of men were on the floor at once addressing the Chair, the roll of absentees was called and all the Democrats and bolting Republicans voted. Meantime some excited members ran out to the cloak-room and told Dr. Hunter that he had been elected. The nominee came up to the open door of the House and stood for a minute before he found out it was a cruel mistake. The ballot resulted as follows: Hunter, 59; Blackburn, 42; Martin, 12; Boyle, 6; Stone, 1. Necessary to a choice, 61.

Only one ballot was taken.

Representative Thompson of Louisville, who last night began the circulation of a petition asking a new Republican caucus, was persuaded that he should not press the matter till after the result of the election held to fill the vacancy caused by Senator Salyer's [Dem.] death can be learned. This cannot be determined till Thursday or Friday.

Can't Get Hunter Off.

Meanwhile there is no chance to get Hunter off the track by Judge Thompson's plan. Chairman Jones of the Republican caucus said this morning that he would not call a caucus unless asked to do so by a petition signed by at least thirty-six Republicans. There are not that many independent men among the Republican legislators of this Legislature.

According to returns received here late tonight Hagar silver Democrat, is probably elected to succeed Senator Salyer in the Thirty-fourth Senatorial District.

Tonight Blackburn's leaders and the leaders of the whole free silver Democratic forces were got together in a room at the Capitol Hotel. With them in secret caucus were quartered Col. Albert Scott of Louisville, Augustus E. Wilson, ex-candidate for Congress in the Louisville district, who has been working to defeat Hunter, and indeed all the anti-Hunter Republican leaders except Gov. Bradley, who was in a room below. The Republicans told the Blackburn leaders that they were in earnest about electing Bradley and allowing them a race for Governor this fall.

One of those present says that Blackburn's leaders said they were willing to join with the anti-Hunter people if he could win.

Every one admits that Blackburn will be successful if there is no election till the new Legislature is elected and comes here next winter.

NEW PARTY CALLED "PLATO ARCHERS."

Political Organization Is Formed in Indiana Declaring the Greek Philosopher's Doctrines True Ones.

La Grange, Ind., April 6.—[Special.]—A new political organization has been formed in this State, which hopes to become a power in national politics and a powerful factor in the next State election. The organization has already a large membership in the State. It seems to take the popular fancy wherever it is introduced. The prime object is to work for reform of the monetary system. The doctrines of Plato are the text of the new party. It states that the immortal Greek philosopher framed an ideal and reputable society. It is named "The Plato Archers."

Circulars outlining the purposes of the organization have been distributed widely, and a paper called the Archer is the official organ.

TOWN ELECTIONS IN MINNESOTA.

At Albert Lea and Blue Earth City the No License People Win—Blooming Prairie for License.

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—[Special.]—In only three Minnesota towns where elections were held today, and from which results had been learned tonight, was any prominent issue at stake. These were Albert Lea, where the no-license people won by a majority of 31; Blooming Prairie, which decided for license; and Blue Earth City, anti-license. The elections for Mayor resulted thus: Fairbault, A. D. Keyes (Rep.); Anoka, G. D. Bartlett (Rep.); Fergus Falls, C. L. Baxter; Willmar, Dr. C. Johnson (Citizens'); Sauk Center, W. D. Townsend; Wabasha, M. B. Jewell; Lake City, Oscar Anderson; Tracy, H. W. Little (Reform); Crookston, M. R. Brown (Rep.).

WANTS COAL COMPANIES INQUIRED INTO

Resolution in Pennsylvania Senate Declares New Jersey Central Owes State $500,000.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 6.—In the Senate today Senator Gibbons of Erie introduced a lengthy resolution asking for an investigation by a committee of the relations existing between the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company and the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The statement is made in the resolution that the Jersey Central controls the coal company, and that as such it has defaulted in its payment to the State of taxes on the coal concern to the extent of $500,000. Further, that the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company has made no report to the State since 1893. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Corporations.

REFORMERS CLAIM DENVER ELECTION

Candidate Whom the Women Mostly Supported Is Thought to Be in the Lead for Mayor.

Denver, Colo., April 6.—[Special.]—With a vote of less than half that cast at the Presidential election the reformers claim that they have elected Thomas S. McMurray Mayor of Denver, while the silver and straight Republicans concede that it will be a close vote, and the result cannot be determined before a complete count is in. There are thirteen tickets to be counted. The situation was further complicated by the fact that at midnight Gov. Adams declared the names of members for two important boards for the City of Denver, in which he failed to recognize Populists according to the accredited terms of the fusion deal between the Populists and Democrats in an effort on the part of the latter to build up a machine that would offset the great Republican vote that has kept Colorado in the ranks. In consequence of this act the Populists knifed the fused ticket and threw their votes to the ticket of the Civic Federation, nominated by the women, on the ground that there should be no politics in city affairs.

On Capitol Hill the vote of the women was heavy, as McMurray was their choice and they entered upon the campaign with vigor. In the lower residence section the number of women appearing at the polls was few and it was an exception rather than a rule for them to claim their privilege for, as many explained when called for to go in carriages, they were disgusted with the whole business, as they considered it a waste of time to repeat the experiments of former years without gaining any advantage, as they say they were robbed of the election in the past by the action of the boodlers in the Council.

Down in the burned district, where it was expected to find hundreds of the women of low character voting as often as they cared there was a lull, for the Sheriff took them in hand and declared that if they appeared at the polls they would be run out of town.

Later returns indicate that McMurray is elected by 4,000 to 5,000. The remainder of the ticket is in doubt.

There were town elections all over the State on purely local issues and the personal fitness of the candidates. In the towns north and east of Denver the issue was liquor license and anti-license. The dry tickets won. Gambling and anti-gambling was the issue in the middle eastern towns. They broke about even. The silver Republicans emerge from the fight today with a party organization, which the Democrats secured last fall, and in the southeastern portion of the State the Democrats get back their old party strength. Local questions governed in the mountains, and west of the range the Populist vote predominated.

The fact that Gov. Adams ignored the Populists in his appointments to the Fire and Police Boards and Board of Public Works in Denver yesterday had the effect of electing the Taxpayers' ticket, which means a Populist victory. Adams is accused of attempting to build a bridge over which he may cross into the United States Senate to succeed Wolcott.

REPUBLICANS CARRY BRYAN'S HOME.

Party Fight in Lincoln Results Substantially as It Did in the Presidential Election.

Lincoln, Neb., April 6.—[Special.]—Republicans made a clean sweep in today's election. Graham, for Mayor, with two precincts to hear from, has a majority of 600 over Brown. The vote for other offices is substantially the same. Every Alderman is Republican. The campaign was fought largely on party lines, and the vote is relatively as on President last November.

Elections in Arkansas Towns.

Little Rock, Ark., April 6.—Municipal elections were held in all Arkansas towns today. Very little interest was aroused. There was no opposition to the Democratic ticket headed by J. A. Woodson for Mayor in Little Rock. The only place in doubt is the Mayoralty of Pine Bluff, where four tickets were in the field.

Election at Huron, S. D.

Huron, S. D., April 6.—The election today for city officers was the closest and most spirited in the history of the city. G. S. Hutchinson was reëlected Mayor over Col. H. Ray Myers and wins a majority of the City Council, together with Clerk and Treasurer. Prohibition was defeated.

Santa Fe Goes Republican.

Santa Fé, N. M., April 6.—The Republicans elected Mayor, City Clerk, City Treasurer, five Aldermen out of six, by an average majority of 40. One year ago the city went Democratic by an average of 60 majority.

Schenectady Goes Democratic.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 6.—The town elections in Schenectady County today resulted in Democratic victories, with two exceptions. Last fall every town in the county gave Republican pluralities.

Rhode Island Will Be Republican.

Providence, R. I., April 6.—The annual election of State officers of Rhode Island will be held tomorrow, and tonight there seems to be no doubt that the election of the full Republican ticket is assured.

Maximum Freight Bill Defeated.

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—[Special.]—In the House tonight the Douglas maximum freight rate, or distance tariff bill, was defeated by a vote of 42 to 67.

Tie at St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 6.—The Democrats carried six out of eight wards and tied in the Eighth. The Council will be a tie if the Democrats lose the tied ward.

WOULD-BE VOTERS ARE LOCKED UP.

Police Take In a Number of Suspects and Charges of Bribery Pass Back and Forth.

Several arrests for alleged violations of the election law were made in the First Ward yesterday. The Republicans openly charged Michael Kenna with purchasing votes, and Kenna's managers made like charges against "Paddy" Gleason.

It was charged on the Republican side that the judges of election were not acting fairly, that each and every voter was given a slip of paper which gave him the privilege of drawing 50 cents for his vote, but this could not be verified, and it was indignantly denied by the Democratic leaders.

A. Thompson, colored, No. 486 State street, attempted to vote at No. 13 Taylor street. His name could not be found, and he was arrested.

Henry Norman, colored, was locked up at the Armory Police Station charged with disorderly conduct and carrying concealed weapons.

Squads of policemen toured the Twenty-third Ward in buggies looking for a band of twenty men, who, it was said, were trying to cause trouble. Early in the day it was reported to Inspector Schaack that Harry Featherstone had headed the gang.

Jerry Connor and John Beamer were arrested by the Desplaines street police on the charge of attempting to vote illegally.

TOWNSHIP ELECTION IN EVANSTON.

Republicans Win All but One of the Offices—Collectorship Goes to Bartlett, Citizens'.

The Republicans elected all their candidates except Collector yesterday in the Evanston Township election.

Charles T. Bartlett, for Collector, was the only candidate elected on the Citizens' ticket. He lost by twelve votes in the City of Evanston, but Rogers Park brought his majority up to ninety.

Those elected on the Republican ticket were:

Assessor—Joseph M. Lyons.
Clerk—John F. Hahn.
Supervisor—Robert F. Milne.
School Trustee—John H. Wilson.
Highway Commissioner—Dexter M. Garrett.
Justices of the Peace—Joseph McCallum, T. O'Connell, J. C. Murphy, E. M. Hartman, H. S. Van Hatten.

LEMONT REFORMERS ARE VICTORS

Triumph of the "Citizens' Ticket" in the Town Election Causes Rejoicing of Residents.

The people of Lemont last evening celebrated the success of the "Citizens' ticket" over the "Citizens' regular ticket." The latter, styled by its opponents the "gang" ticket, was headed by George A. Wyman, candidate for Supervisor, who received 370 votes to 771 for John B. Wagner, the reform candidate.

Others elected by large majorities on the reform ticket were:

Town Clerk—Emil Carlson.
Assessor—John Doolin (no opposition).
Collector—Patrick Bracken.

Result of the Election in Thornton.

The town election in Thornton resulted in a great victory for the City of Harvey, as the most of the successful candidates live in that place. They are about equally divided as to the Republican and non-partisan tickets.

Supervisor—Charles H. Applegate, Rep.
Clerk—John A. Stout, Non-Part.
Assessor—Jeremiah O'Rourke, Non-Part.
Collector—Andrew Dickman, Rep.
Commissioner of Highways—Charles E. Waterman, Rep.
Justices of the Peace—Henry M. Scott, Non-Part.; Peter De Young, Non-Part.; Isaac Mouser, Rep.; Joseph Black, Rep.; George Dalton, Rep.

Safe Blown Open at Lansing.

Lansing, Mich., April 7.—[Special.]—At midnight the safe in the Secretary's office at the Agricultural College was blown open and $2,000 stolen.

REPUBLICAN TICKET WINS IN CICERO.

Majority of 1,800 Is Rolled Up Over the "Citizens' Non-Partisan" and "Municipal League" Forces.

The entire Republican ticket was elected in Cicera over the so-called Citizens' non-partisan and the Municipal League tickets, by majorities for the individual candidates close to 1,800.

The triumph of the Republicans indicates success of the movement looking to municipal control of natural monopolies, and the victors last night gave ample evidence of their gratification at the decisive results.

Up to the closing of the polls the non-Partisan and Municipal League factions fought hard and were hopeful. The Republicans were confident at all times, but worked nevertheless.

The vote was small, being only about 80 per cent of the registration. The day passed off quietly, as a rule, the voting being steady.

In the Thirteenth Precinct a young man named Kurtz, said to be 19 years of age, insisted on electioneering within the limits prescribed by law, and was taken to the police station.

The vote for winning Republican candidates for the principal offices was as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| For President, Richard Traill | 2,734 |
| For Supervisor, A. O. Butler | 2,624 |
| For Assessor, S. S. Vastine | 2,509 |
| For Collector, H. H. Rearden | 2,624 |
| For Clerk, J. R. Drent | 2,737 |
| For Trustee (four years), S. D. Attridge | 2,663 |
| For Police Magistrate, C. R. La Mena | 1,541 |

Following is the vote for corresponding offices on the "non-partisan" ticket:

| | |
|---|---|
| Lendrum | 244 |
| McPherson | 304 |
| Bassett | 460 |
| Stevens | 289 |
| Wells | 270 |
| Jordan | 316 |
| Haines | 256 |

The corresponding vote on the "Municipal League" ticket was:

| | |
|---|---|
| Pierce | 723 |
| Hamilton | 714 |
| Cogdal | 711 |
| Stoffel | 741 |
| Murray | 642 |
| Wilson | 680 |

By votes corresponding to those for the rest of their ticket the Republicans elected the following:

Justices of the Peace—

| | |
|---|---|
| Lantz | 2,614 |
| Salisbury | 2,639 |
| Kapella | 2,406 |
| Senne | 2,476 |
| Price | 2,549 |

Constables—Hall, White, Pillinger, Schultz, Green.

Motherhood.

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution.

The child fairly drinks in health from its mother's robust constitution before birth, and from a healthy mother's milk after.

Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

Do you know the meaning of what is popularly called those "longings," or cravings, which beset so many women during pregnancy?

There is something lacking in the mother's blood. Nature cries out and will be satisfied at all hazards.

One woman wants sour things, another wants sweets, another wants salt things, and so on.

The real need all the time is to enrich the blood so as to supply nourishment for another life, and to build up the entire generative system, so that the birth may be possible and successful.

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for twenty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be fewer disappointments at birth, and they would not experience those annoying "longings."

In the following letter to Mrs. Pinkham, Mrs. Whitney demonstrates the power of the Compound in such cases. She says:

"From the time I was sixteen years old till I was twenty-three, I was troubled with weakness of the kidneys and terrible pains when my monthly periods came on. I made up my mind to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was soon relieved. After I was married, the doctor said I would never be able to go my full time and have a living child, as I was constitutionally weak. I had lost a baby at seven months and a half. The next time I commenced at once and continued to take your Compound through the period of pregnancy, and I said then, if I went my full time and the baby lived to be three months old, I should send a letter to you. My baby is now seven months old and is as healthy and hearty as one could wish.

"I am so thankful that I used your medicine, for it gave me the robust health to transmit to my child. I cannot express my gratitude to you; I never expected such a blessing. Praise God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and may others who are suffering do as I did and find relief, and may many homes be brightened as mine has been."—Mrs. L. Z. Whitney, 5 George St., E. Somerville, Mass.

HARRISON TELLS HIS JOY

"CARTER H." HAPPY THAT THE VOTERS HAVE FAITH IN HIM.

Successful Candidate for Mayor Declares the Predictions That He Will Allow Vice and Debauchery to Run Riot Will Not Be Realized—As Chief Executive of Chicago He Will Not Tolerate Any Dictation—Administration's Policy Discussed.

has been held in this city during the last twelve months.

"Many reforms, I believe, will be made by Mr. Harrison, particularly in the direction of lessening both general and special taxation. A thorough renovation of City Hall methods must be made. The civil service law can be changed only by the State Legislature and the Governor, but the rules adopted by the present Commissioners for the selection of officials are ridiculous in the extreme, and must be changed.

"The campaign has been fought upon local and not upon national issues."

Burke Sees Personal Liberty.

Secretary Burke of the Democratic Campaign committee said: "The victory of Carter H. Harrison shows that the people of Chicago desire a liberal administration, that they desire an administration for the poor as well as for the rich, that they desire personal liberty in its broadest sense. It also shows that when the voters of Chicago are given a fair opportunity to express their views they will vote the Democratic ticket. The returns will show that Mr. Harrison has a clear majority of the votes cast."

SEARS THINKS HARD TIMES BEAT HIM

Failure of the Immediate Dawn of Prosperity Affects the Masses and They Vote for a Democrat.

Judge Sears, the defeated Republican candidate for Mayor, said last night of the outcome of the election:

"The result in Chicago is the story of Cincinnati, Canton, and other cities over again. The people are disappointed and dissatisfied because of the failure of a quickly returning prosperity. I cannot believe that the people of Chicago really want a 'wide open' town. I would much rather attribute their decision to dissatisfaction over an illogical and unreasonable expectation that prosperity was going to return at once with the election of McKinley.

"I have nothing to say against Mr. Harrison. I sincerely hope he will give the people of Chicago a good administration. As to what his policy will be when he assumes his office of course I can only speculate.

"I attribute the scarcity of votes for Mr. Hesing to the action of two newspapers that have in the last few days scared a good many of his supporters over to Harlan.

"I am enjoying the first good rest I have had in weeks, and I am not feeling a bit bad over my defeat."

Judge Sears received the election returns over the telephone last evening at the home of A. D. Williston, No. 1115 Early avenue, Edgewater.

In the afternoon the Republican candidate left his headquarters in the Briggs House and went to his home, Magnolia and Early avenues, Edgewater, where he remained till the polls closed. Then he went with Mrs. Sears to the home of Mr. Williston, a block away.

Judge Sears' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sears, were at the Williston home, and the three families received the returns together in an upper room.

As fast as the returns were brought to the office of the Election Commissioners in the City Hall they were telephoned to the Republican candidate.

If Judge Sears was disappointed at his defeat he gave no evidence of it as the returns came in. When it was seen that all chance of his election had gone he lit a cigar and sat down, while his host took the returns off the telephone.

After he left his headquarters in the Briggs House Judge Sears requested that no one be told of his whereabouts. Friends who tried to find him during the evening were told he was resting and could not be seen.

Republican headquarters in the Boyce Building took on a veritable cave of gloomy aspect soon after the first returns were received. Those who had congregated there to get the news tarried just long enough to learn there was nothing encouraging in sight.

Chairman Raymond failed to put in an appearance at all after 4 o'clock. He preferred to remain at his club and learn the story.

Congressman Lorimer and Henry L. Hertz were on hand, but they left before 8 o'clock and went into hiding. Soon after their departure the lights were turned out, the doors locked, and everything was left in darkness. The elevator boy said he felt lonesome and sad.

Sheriff Pease left the city at 3 o'clock on a hunting expedition.

When asked what he had to say of the result Mr. Raymond replied: "I think under the circumstances the most graceful thing for me to do would be not to say anything. During the campaign I did all in my power for the ticket, but it seems the supposed friends of good government are more easily stampeded after false gods than any of us supposed. Within the last forty-eight hours this Harlan wave has swept over the city to such an extent that a great number of Republicans afflicted with an insane prejudice against the machine really thought he could be elected, and voted for him. Had the campaign lasted another week I am satisfied Harlan's boom would have gone to pieces just as Hesing's did. I am only sorry they were so short-sighted.

"The result would seem to show, too, that the masses care nothing for civil service reform, because they know Mr. Harrison and his friends will either throw it out of the City Hall entirely or make the law such a farce as to render it a dead letter."

HARLAN SAYS IT IS HIS VICTORY.

Tells Followers They Have Crushed One Machine and Will Hit the Other—He Congratulates Harrison.

John Maynard Harlan, defeated candidate for Mayor of Chicago, stood on a table in his campaign headquarters in the Owings Building last night and made a farewell address to his immediate followers. His voice was so hoarse after the four weeks of speechmaking that it could hardly be heard in the rear of the room. The great exertions he had put forth in the closing days of his campaign had put lines into his face. He spoke for over an hour to a crowd that filled even the unused bank vault in one corner of the main room.

The crowd cheered wildly for the Citizens' candidate when he clambered upon a table and faced his audience. Hats were thrown into the air, and it was some time before Mr. Harlan could speak.

"The fight is not lost," he began. "Instead we have won a victory in the largest sense. We have crushed one machine, and we will have another chance at the other one. I congratulate Mr. Harrison on his success."

Mr. Harlan said that he would personally call upon Mr. Harrison and offer to assist him in any way that he could in a fight against the odious Humphrey bills. He said that Mr. Harrison must now lead, as he would have led had he been elected Mayor, the forces organizing to kill the Humphrey measures. "I am willing to fight in the ranks under his leadership," said Mr Harlan, "and I only hope that he will not hesitate to order an advance upon the supporters of this attack upon the rights of the people."

Mr. Harlan spoke feelingly of the support that had been given him, and told of the part each one of his campaign committee and many of his friends had played in his race for the Mayoralty.

After Mr. Harlan had finished speaking Ald. William Kent was called for, and in response declared that one machine had been annihilated and that Burke, Martin, and Gahan, constituting the other machine, would in the two years of power which was now given them be sure to hang themselves.

Charles Rector, Edward J. Piggott, A. D. Philpot, Joseph Powell, and Edward A. Bell, all members of the Citizens' Campaign committee, also made brief addresses, and were followed by A. Winnie, Alfred T. Johnson, and A. W. Waterman.

The returns were received at the Harlan headquarters by telegraph. The results were thrown on a large screen on the building across the street by means of magic lantern. The rooms were packed from early in the afternoon. There was great enthusiasm as the first news, which was favorable to the Citizens' candidate, was received, but when the subsequent news began coming in telling of the election of Harrison, the crowd settled down to a steady shout for "Harlan," which was kept up until he appeared.

Mr. Harlan received the news of his defeat in the private room of his headquarters. He was sanguine at first of a sweeping victory, but after it was known that he was defeated held out for a vote of 70,000 at least for himself and a plurality over Sears of 15,000. He did not leave the headquarters until almost 12, when, after shaking hands with the several hundred people in the room, he walked down Dearborn street to his car, followed by a half hundred of his friends.

HESING TAKES HIS DEFEAT TO HEART.

Says the People Are Inconsistent, Berates the Press, and Predicts Disappointment from Harrison.

Mr. Hesing received the returns in a rear room of the Palmer House with Chairman Stoll and a few other of his lieutenants. The front rooms, wherein the Hesingites were wont to gather in crowds a couple of weeks ago and fill the air with loud-voiced claims of victory, were deserted with the exception of a half dozen people, who, in low, disconsolate tones, were telling one another how it happened.

Mr. Hesing was seated on a sofa and his manner bore testimony to the crushing force of the defeat which he had sustained. He picked up the returns as they came in and read them in a mechanical way. He at first declined to discuss the result, but he finally talked freely.

"It was all the fault of the English papers," he said. "If they had supported me as they should have done I would have beaten Harrison."

"I was the first in the field, I was the pioneer in the independent movement, and after blazing the way, others were given support and took the fruits of my labors. It simply shows that people who talk so much and loudly of reform don't want it when given the opportunity of securing it.

Harlan's large vote was almost directly due to the newspaper support he received, although the movement in his behalf was of an emotional character.

"There were other factors which contributed to my small vote. I was a German, and the people didn't want a German Mayor, and, again, I am a Catholic, and the A. P. A. influence was directed against me. I know that.

"Harrison is sure to prove a great disappointment to a great many of the people who have worked and voted for him. I predict that in six weeks he will be one of the most unpopular Mayors who ever sat in the chair."

Mr. Hesing would not say whether he had given up his Mayoralty aspirations, but later on, while he was in the front rooms, he was cheered by a number of his followers, who declared he would make the race again in '99.

Chairman Stoll said the organization would be maintained, and that Mr. Hesing would certainly be a candidate for Mayor again.

COLE SAYS SOME BAD MEN ARE BEATEN

President of the Municipal Voters' League Talks of Aldermanic Results—Downey's View.

The members of the Executive committee of the Municipal Voters' League received returns last night at the residence of Frank Wells, No. 19 Groveland place. Mr. Wells is a member of the committee, and a telegraph operator took the reports from the wire as fast as they were received.

George E. Cole, President of the league, was not discouraged over the figures, which early in the evening seemed to give Mr. Harrison a pronounced plurality. When Mr. Harrison's election became a certainty Mr. Cole was still firm in his belief that the individual vote for Aldermen would be of a favorable character for good government.

"The figures for Mr. Harrison seem to be of such a decisive character," said Mr. Cole at midnight, "that it is impossible at this hour to make up a correct slate of the newly elected Aldermen. I am convinced however, that a good many of the bad men have been weeded out. The next Council will show some change for the better. It looks as though Campbell of the Twelfth is defeated and Maltby of the Twenty-second is elected.

"I am of the private opinion that many of our citizens do not estimate the character of Mr. Harrison correctly. He is certainly a gentleman of ability and force of character. I have reason to believe that he has no great admiration for me, but I am willing to pay this much tribute to him.

"The Municipal Voters' League has no complaint to make if the newly elected Mayor will sustain certain things which the majority of our voters are firmly in favor of. He will make a great mistake if he thinks he will be upheld in an attempt to overturn the civil service law. I take no stock in an announcement of a so-called 'wide open' policy. Excesses in this direction can be corrected. I do not think that Mr. Harrison will attempt anything of the kind."

Commissioner of Public Works Joseph Downey said:

"I don't think the apparent failure of prosperity to return had a bit to do with it. The people have declared they don't want to be ruled by the Republican machine. It's just exactly as I expected. They don't want to be bossed by Hertz, Pease, Lorimer, and the rest, and they have showed it.

"Harrison will be found tomorrow to have got only the full Democratic vote, while the Republicans have divided theirs among the other candidates. I don't believe when the votes are all counted that Harrison will be found to have drawn away 5,000 Republican votes. The intelligent people have shown that they will not have machine men thrust on them in the way the Republicans have tried to do, and it serves the party right.

"I don't know what kind of a government we are going to have. They may have my job tomorrow if they want it."

HILARITY REIGNS ALONG THE "LEVEE"

Extra Bartenders Attend to the General Thirst While Crowds Whoop for Harrison and Kenna.

Since the last election of Carter H. Harrison the elder the "levee" district has not witnessed such a scene of hilarity as prevailed last night when the news of the election of Carter H. Harrison the second was made known.

By 7 o'clock the entire "levee" district was in an uproar. Hundreds of men, armed with horns and banners, paraded the streets shouting for Harrison and Michael Kenna, the victorious candidate for Alderman in the First Ward.

Along Clark street faces of well-known gamblers which have been missed since the election of Mayor Swift, were in evidence last night, and their owners chuckled with glee as they discussed the situation and thought of the rattle of chips they expected soon to hear all along the line.

The few policemen on post duty had their hands full in keeping the small boy from burning down the town. All along Clark street, south of Van Buren, and at numerous places in Harrison street, bonfires were lighted, and everything combustible along the street was gathered up and set on fire.

Three or four policemen acted as fire extinguishers.

In La Salle street, opposite the City Hall, a gang of hoodlums amused themselves by placing large zinc torpedoes on the cable car tracks. As a cable car passed over the torpedoes they exploded, making a noise like the firing of cannons. Several pieces of the zinc shells struck the abutting building and endangered the lives of passersby. Capt. Dutton detailed a squad of policemen to stop the nuisance.

The only black spot to be found in the levee district was Michael Kenna's saloon, at Van Buren and Clark streets. When it became known that Kenna had been elected Alderman crowds of men hurried to his saloon. Many of them were curious to see the new Alderman, but the great majority were after the free beer which it was supposed would be on tap. All were disappointed. The curtains of the saloon were tightly drawn and not a ray of light could be seen within. The doors were locked and the little proprietor was nowhere to be found.

ON THE SLATE FOR JOBS.

HOW DEMOCRATIC SEERS FORECAST HARRISON'S CABINET.

Robert E. Burke and Joseph S. Martin Said to Be in Line for Anything They Want, but the Former Declares He Seeks No Place—Gahan Prefers John M. Clark's Chair—Kipley and Brennan for Chief of Police—Other Possibilities.

under the law cannot be ousted except for cause and on charges first filed in writing and then proved.

The same rule applies to all members of the commission. As they stand now their terms expire in this order: R. A. Waller, the Democratic member, next July; John M. Clark, in one year; and Christoph Hotz in two years. Mr. Hotz was first appointed in 1895 for the short term and at the end of one year Mayor Swift reappointed him for three years, so that his term does not expire until after the expiration of Mayor-elect Harrison's term.

Mr. Gahan says if he succeeds Mr. Clark, Frank X. Brandecker will be his choice for chief clerk, the job now held by E. J. Phelps. Mr. Brandecker, however, has announced himself a candidate for Chief Sewer Inspector.

Dr. A. R. Reynolds wants to be put back in his old place as Commissioner of Health, and as there appears to be no other seeker for it the general opinion is he will receive the appointment.

For Superintendent of Police.

Only three persons have been mentioned as yet for Superintendent of Police. They are ex-Supt. Michael Brennan, Joseph Kipley, and Martin J. White. Kipley seems to be the most popular candidate, although it is said White has been recommended to Harrison by W. J. Bryan as a good man for the office. He was once upon a time at the head of the force in Omaha. If Mr. Brennan should succeed his successor it is conceded that Kipley would be put back in his former situation as Assistant Chief.

There is a host of candidates for all the minor appointments. Mr. Harrison has given his word that there will be a cleaning out of the City Hall so far as Republicans go, and the hungry party workers expect him to keep it.

REPEAL THE CIVIL SERVICE LAW.

Politicians Discuss the Advisability of Action Before the General Assembly Leaves Springfield.

Talk was rife among politicians yesterday and last night to the effect that an effort may be put forth at Springfield before the Legislature adjourns to repeal the civil service law.

It was said some of the Cook County members have only been waiting the result of this election to start an open and vigorous agitation of the proposition.

They have taken the position, so it is claimed, that Harrison's election by any plurality would indicate a majority of the people are not in sympathy with the law, and that a sweeping Democratic victory would be such a repudiation of it that no longer will there be any serious attempt made to enforce the law.

Upon the strength of Harrison's campaign declarations that he will undo everything done by Mayor Swift, and discharge every Republican employé in the City Hall, some of the Republican politicians say they are opposed to giving the Democrats three fat jobs for Commissioners who will be nothing more than figureheads, and will provide soft, easy, nothing-to-do places for several secretaries and clerks.

Speaking of the matter last night one of them said:

"If the law is to be made a farce why should the city support a lot of Commissioners and clerks simply to keep the department, and the salaries that go with it, in existence. Then, with dishonest men in those places, what a grafting bureau they could make out of it. Why, every job above the day laborers would have to be bought and paid for.

"In their campaign speeches all the Democratic orators took occasion to create as much sentiment against the law as they could, and make it obnoxious by holding up to ridicule the questions those who pass an examination are required to answer."

Chairman Thornton said yesterday the merit system will be a feature of Mr. Harrison's administration, but he declined to explain the rules under which the system will be applied.

When the civil service law was adopted at the city election two years ago, out of a total of 258,775 votes cast the law received 162,948, or 432 more than two-thirds of the vote then cast, and had a majority in its favor of 45,570.

HOW THE CAMPAIGN WAS FOUGHT OUT

Amusing and Historical Features of Mayoralty Fight—Parts Played by the Candidates.

The nomination of Carter H. Harrison for Mayor in the Democratic convention at North Side Turner Hall on March 11 went through with a rush. As a silver Democrat he had risen to a position of prominence in the party councils during the campaign, when many of the old leaders of the party became supporters of McKinley or of Palmer. Mr. Harrison had few enemies in the section of the party which was left to Bryan. Moreover he enjoyed the prestige of being the "son of his father"—the World's Fair Mayor of Chicago, whose assassination shocked the Nation at the close of the Exposition. The friends of his father felt under obligations to the son.

Mr. Harrison had for competitors for the Democratic nomination Judge Payne and Attorney A. S. Trude. The former enjoyed only a transient boom, and as soon as the hostility of the Burke-Martin-Gahan machine became too strong, his support fell away to Trude. The manner in which the "Corsican poniard" of Altgeld was stuck under the "clavicle" of Trude is a bit of history.

On the day of the convention Mr. Harrison's slated nomination was quickly rushed through after a nominating speech by A. S. Trude and to the music of a song:

We will elect Carter and won't do nothing wrong;
He will have gambling and let the races run.
Now rich men will spend their money and give the poor a share.
So think no more till April 6 and elect young Carter Mayor.

Mr. Harrison in accepting the nomination gave the hint of what he would do if elected Mayor in these words:

"If I had been asked to name a platform upon which I would guarantee the success of the Democracy in this election I would have made a very brief one. It would read something like this: 'The Democracy of Chicago pledges its candidates, if elected, to do all those things which the present Republican administration has not done and to undo all the things the present Republican city administration has done.'"

There was practically no contest made on any of the nominations within the gift of the convention, Ernst Hummel being ratified for City Treasurer, William Loeffler for City Clerk, and M. J. Devine for City Attorney.

Mr. Harrison was the fourth candidate brought into the field—Judge Sears having been nominated on Feb. 26 and Hesing and Harlan having previously nominated themselves.

The campaign immediately took on amusing features. Hesing's well-groomed whiskers, Harlan's athleticism, and Harrison's "papa's hat" and creased coat became features by which each of these three candidates played for votes.

But the campaign has been pervaded with personal good-will among the candidates—and none other but local issues have been seriously discussed. Posters and buttons have never been more prominent as vote winning agencies, and through the war of the pastepots all of the citizens of Chicago have had a chance to become well acquainted with the feature aspects of all the candidates.

Judge Sears put in some prodigious work at campaigning. The records show that he addressed an average of six meetings a day. His audiences varied with the size of the halls at which he spoke, but old campaigners estimated that they averaged 825 persons. At this rate he reached 123,750 people during his campaign. It is estimated that during the twenty-five days of the fight he traveled 550 miles, not counting his street car rides to and from the city. From his headquarters 100,000 buttons and 110,000 lithographs were distributed, in addition to 180,000 circulars and letters which were mailed to voters.

Mr. Hesing figured that he had made 153 speeches during the campaign before his voice failed him. He estimated that he had talked to 125,000 people, and put his total travels during the fight at not less than 600 miles. He estimated that he exhaled 45,000 gallons of air during his addresses.

Mr. Harlan talked from the lake to West Fortieth street, and all along the line, north and south. He spoke 170 times, and felt confident he had been heard by at least 175,000 people. He figured his mileage for the campaign at 170. Over 110,000 Harlan buttons were distributed.

BADENOCH HELPS TO MAKE ARRESTS.

Chief of Police Starts the Roundup of Saloonkeepers Who Violate the Election Law.

Chief of Police Badenoch set the example yesterday in arresting saloonkeepers charged with selling liquor in violation of election day law, making two early catches with his own hands. His men swelled the list by a score of more before the day was over.

The Chief drove over to the West Side early in the morning, and had not been there long when he was informed that two saloonkeepers named Farrell and O'Connell, having their places on opposite corners at Polk and Desplaines streets, were selling liquor. The Chief arrested the saloonkeepers single-handed, and, marching them to a patrol box, handed them over to a Sergeant.

Following is a list of other arrests made during the day:

Con J. Phelps, Pearson and Rush streets.
John Meinal, Randolph and La Salle streets.
Fred Pothast, Clark and Van Buren streets.
Joseph Haynes, West Side.
William J. O'Connor, West Side.
Joseph Rosenbach, West Side.
Louis J. Weil, No. 374 West Madison street.
William Chonoch, No. 40 West Madison street.
John Cooney, No. 870 South Clinton street.
William Fitzgerald, West Side.
Samuel Alpern, No. 262 Clark street.
Fred Peterson, No. 310 State street.
J. R. Jessup, No. 260 Clark street.
John Vocco, No. 378 Clark street.
Edward Jones, Taylor and State streets.
Frank McFadden, Fourteenth street and Indiana avenue.
Owen McGinnis, No. 420 State street.
H. Dubois, No. 343 State street. John Granville, bartender, arrested.
Alexander Pearl, No. 162 Jackson boulevard.
Ben Huttner, No. 129 West Madison street.

Chief Badenoch says the election was the most orderly for many years. At 5 o'clock in the morning he made a tour of the West Side Wards. Several times he alighted from his buggy to try the side doors of corner saloons. The Chief later drove through the South Side Wards, finding no open saloons. The levee district, he said, was "quiet as a grave-yard." The Chief reached his office in the City Hall at 11 o'clock.

FIFTY YEARS FOR THOMAS FLYNN.

Murderer of William Jahns at Le Grand Hotel on Dec. 13 Narrowly Escapes Swinging for His Crime.

Thomas Flynn's penalty for the murder of William Jahns at Le Grand Hotel on Dec. 13 was fixed by a jury in Judge Payne's court yesterday at fifty years in the penitentiary. The finding was a compromise between the members of the jury. Some of them wanted to hang the defendant. Flynn, with much profanity, inquired why the jury did not make his sentence for life. Mrs. Bridget Flynn, mother of the convicted man, was so affected she had to be assisted from the building. Flynn is married and has several children. The motive for the murder of Jahns was robbery.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

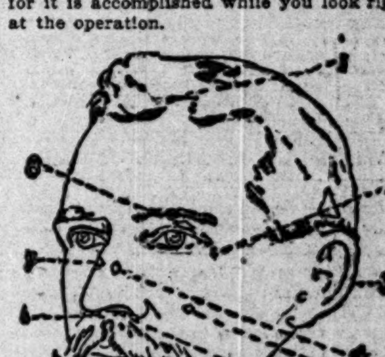
John H. Woodbury's special New York surgeon will be at his Chicago office, 155 State street, April 19th, for 6 days to perform operations for changing and correcting featural irregularities and deformities of the face and body of every nature. Appointments for this special work must be made at once.

GOOD LOOKS

HOW EVERY ONE CAN BE MADE GOOD LOOKING.

PAINLESS, PLASTIC SURGERY REMOVES WRINKLES AND ALL KINDS OF SKIN AND FACIAL BLEMISHES.

If you have a birth-mark on your face or body John H. Woodbury can take it all off—no question about that, for you can see with your two eyes it's gone—and he can do it so skillfully that in a few weeks you'll be unable to find the spot where it was. No faith is necessary to get your nose straightened, for it is accomplished while you look right at the operation.



THE NECKLESS FACE CHART.

OPERATIONS:

No. 1 removes wrinkles.
No. 2 removes "crow's feet."
No. 3 sets the ears closer to the head.
No. 4 operation for the cure of catarrh.
No. 5 reduces the bagginess of the chin.
No. 6 reduces nostril partition.
No. 7 removes the hump on the nose.
No. 8 removes "slack" from drooping eyelids.
No. 9 straightens a crooked nosewall.
No. 10 produces a dimple in the cheek.

PAINLESS PLASTIC SURGICAL OPERATIONS that make people 10 to 20 years younger looking; also operations for the correction of projecting or ill-shaped ears, noses and all Facial Deformities.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR is removed with the absolute assurance that it will not return.

MOLES, WARTS, RED VEINS, etc., are quickly removed, without pain or leaving any disfigurement.

FRECKLES, PIMPLES, BLACKHEADS and all discolorations are made to disappear in a remarkably short time and at little expense.

ECZEMA, SYCOSIS, PSORIASIS and all diseases of the Skin are successfully cured by methods tested in thousands of cases.

Special attention is given to the care of the complexion, the modern treatment of WRINKLES and thin, fat or flabby faces.

To do these things properly requires great skill and experience. The Physicians and Surgeons of the John H. Woodbury Dermatological Institute have to pass a most rigid examination before they are permitted to practice.

Many people think blemishes of the skin have to be cut or burned off or covered up and that they will soon return, but this is not at all so, and it only takes John H. Woodbury a very short time to prove his skill in removing them without pain, and permanently.

We also treat all diseases of the hair and scalp, eruptions of the scalp, dandruff, loss of hair, etc. Persons having any imperfection or disease on, in or under the skin, any irregularity of the nose, ears, or mouth, should call and see the specialists at the John H. Woodbury Dermatological Institute, 155 State street.

There is no charge for consultation, and fees are moderate.

At each office we have a large static electrical machine for the treatment of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout and Nervous Diseases. Electricity stimulates the circulation of the blood, makes the muscles more active and powerful, soothes, strengthens and stimulates the whole system. There is no shock or disrobing.

John H. Woodbury manufactures, under his personal supervision, Woodbury's Facial Soap and Woodbury's Facial Cream, making them the best combination known for curing a bad skin and preserving a good complexion. They are for sale everywhere.

For 10c we will mail you a sample of either Woodbury's Facial Soap or Facial Cream and 132-page illustrated book on Beauty and Treatment of the Skin. John H. WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1897.

The powers seem to be running to "blockhead" action more than to blockade.

Gov. Pingree's "free water" scheme in Detroit appears to have caused his Waterloo.

There was nothing in the weather predictions to indicate to Mr. Hesing that there would be a blizzard.

The Bachelor Girls' Association of Michigan has decided to branch out. After they "branch out" perhaps they'll "leave."

Justice and tradition require that no one shall be given possession of that 'possum but the colored policeman who caught it.

The suspicion is growing that the airship is nothing but a summer sea serpent taking a "flyer" in preparation for the approaching campaign.

Arrangements for the annual banquets of college students are now being made at various places, and the Police Department is being called on to do most of the catering.

President McKinley has been worn out by the officeseekers, and will take a brief vacation. Now some one ought to "warn out" the officeseekers and give them a long vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackney of Chicago celebrated their golden wedding by taking a bicycle ride. This was considerable of a change from the hackney coach of their youth.

The defeat of Pingree's man, Capt. Stewart, for Mayor of Detroit must be regarded as a personal defeat for the Michigan Governor. He worked for the success of Stewart with even greater zeal than he has ever worked for himself. He brought to bear on the voters every agency he could control to further the interests of Stewart, but to no avail. The result is hardly a surprise. Pingree tried himself too far. He asked too much of the City of Detroit to accept as its Chief Executive the confessed puppet of another, even if that other was himself. The Stewart campaign was based on the proposition that Stewart would be only the alter ego of Pingree, and that his election would be simply a device for getting around the constitutional objection to Pingree holding the office of Governor and Mayor at the same time in his own person. For all practical purposes Stewart was to be merely an automaton to execute the will of Pingree. Stewart's open declaration of this fact was too much for the people to stand. W. C. Mabury, the successful candidate, appears to have had the additional advantages of a personal popularity, and a known record, and a well-disciplined machine conducting his campaign, all of which attributes were lacking to Capt. Stewart. The obvious moral of the election is to impress the thought that it takes a very great man, greater than Pingree, to carry a candidate through to office on reflected glories only.

Lieut. Peary is now waiting for some person or persons to give him $150,000, when he will start out on another trip to the frozen North. Peary made known his financial requirements some days ago, but as yet no philanthropist has expressed a desire to contribute to the fund. Most of the money, Peary explains, will be needed to maintain a colony of eskimos at a point farther north than any previous colony has ever located. As much as the world might enjoy seeing a colony of eskimos live in this high latitude, would it not be better to devote the $150,000 to enabling a colony of poor white people to live in some more equable climate? Isn't it about time that this north pole business should be stopped? As long as there are persons who will provide cranks with lump sums of $150,000 cranks will continue to clamor for these contributions. It does not seem to make any difference how much loss of life and suffering are connected with the projects nor how little profit to any one is derived from the expenditure of the money. There is no need of any more of these foolhardy expeditions. Nansen has settled all the essential facts about the north pole. He has shown that it is nothing but an unbroken icefield. What is the use of further investigation of the subject? Peary has just been detached from the Brooklyn Navy Yard and ordered to report for duty on the Pacific coast. He should go to work and stick to his profession and leave the north pole to its own cold reflections.

The London newspapers are taking a lively interest in the visit of the Bradley Martins, and one even predicts that the lady member of the combination will be the future leader of London society. This prophecy is probably intended as a choice bit of satire, but there are abundant signs that the financial item in the great American Bradley Martin fancy dress ball has gone far to pave the way to considerable social success for this picturesque family when it takes up its abode in London. Of course there is such a superfluity of snobs already in that city that the arrival of snobs of the American variety, even though they have attained a high degree of snob-culture, would not be an episode of marked importance. But the Bradley Martins are not of the ordinary snob brand and will enjoy an unusual degree of toleration because of the number of American dollars they can be counted on to scatter about them wherever they go. London newspapers, therefore, should be careful what they tag as "satire," for when the Bradley Martin cash begins to flow a great many ordinarily satirical utterances may prove to be the coldest matters of fact. The London Globe takes occasion to sound the warning:

> William the Conqueror landed in England on Sept. 29, 1066. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin landed in England on April 2, 1897. Students of English history must not confuse these dates.

It is barely possible that some jealous descendants of William may attempt to confuse these dates, but no one with a proper appreciation of the Bradley Martins will regard the date of the landing of the early conqueror as a matter of importance.

THE SECOND HARRISON IS MAYOR.

The Chicago voters turned out in great numbers yesterday and elected the second Carter H. Harrison Mayor for the next two years. They gave him 141,882 votes to 66,448 for Harlan, 58,450 for Sears, and 15,349 for Hesing. He received about as many votes as all his competitors.

This remarkable success—for no Mayor ever received so great a plurality, exceeding, as it does, that of Swift two years ago—is due largely to the fact that Mr. Harrison received about the solid vote of his party. That highly disciplined organization is not given to freaks of independence. It encourages division among Republicans, but keeps its own ranks solid. There were many Democrats who at the outset thought of voting for Hesing, but they gradually returned to their party, and most of the votes Mr. Hesing got were given him by Republicans.

Then undoubtedly a large number of Republicans voted for Mr. Harrison. They were disgusted with the wrangling and the washing of dirty linen within their own party. They made up their minds that Judge Sears could not be elected and that this would be an excellent opportunity to express emphatically their disgust with the present methods of party organization and the exponents of those methods.

Since Mr. Harrison owes his election to votes drawn from both parties, and since his plurality is so great, he has every encouragement to give the people a good administration. He can feel that he will have the people behind him as long as he does well, and that he can afford to rise to a certain extent superior to party.

He need not feel that he is dependent on the support of any particular element of the Democracy. He is under no obligation to subject himself to the personal influence of any member of his party, or feel that he is indebted to one man more than another for his election.

He seems to owe the Mayoralty to the divisions in the Republican ranks and to his own personal popularity. He may feel also that the name he bears helped to swell his vote. He represents the Democracy of Chicago, but he represents also in the eyes of many the principles and policy of his father, who had an uncommonly strong hold on the people.

It is believed that much of the ability of the father has been inherited by the son. It is to be hoped that such is the case, and that he will use that ability to promote the welfare of the city. He should be given a fair trial. Everybody should uphold him as long as he gives the city a good administration.

As The Tribune said yesterday, he is calm, even tempered, and a fairly good judge of human nature. He is able to pick out good heads of departments, and see that they do their duty. The Tribune believes he is disposed to do that, and will adhere to that belief until Mr. Harrison furnishes evidence to the contrary.

As for Mr. Harlan, he ran against the Republican organization and defeated it. He does not seem to have run against the Democratic machine except as the wild buffalo used to run against the locomotive. He and his friends may get comfort out of the fact that the Republican party of Chicago is split in two in the middle. They may be consoled for their failure to make any impression on the Democratic machine by the fact that Judge Sears got a smaller number of votes than Mr. Harlan. But Judge Sears' friends could not be any happier had the figures as between him and Harlan been reversed. For he who receives the larger number of votes cast by the members of a divided and defeated party scores a barren victory.

Mr. Harlan set out professedly to smash both party organizations. He has succeeded in disrupting one, but he has succeeded at the same time in establishing the Democratic organization in this city on a firmer basis than for many years.

It may be that Harlan has done his work so thoroughly as to give that Democratic organization an indefinite lease of power. Not since the days of the elder Harrison has the Democratic "machine" been given such a boost as Harlan has given it. This reflection may temper his rejoicings over the fact that his vote exceeds that of Judge Sears. He and his supporters are entitled to all the consolation they can get from a calm survey of the figures this morning. They have beaten and humiliated the Republican party and insured Democratic ascendency for some time to come. If this is what they set out to do they should rejoice and be exceeding glad; otherwise, not. For the Prodigal Son, after a long diet of husks, has returned to the Democratic household of faith and he is again making merry with his friends.

FLYING FROM OFFICESEEKERS.

It is not at all surprising that President McKinley, almost before his first month in office was finished, found himself physically about worn out, although he is a remarkably healthy and robust man. Already he has found that he must get away from the White House and its importunate crowds and take a cruise on the water for a few days, the water being chosen as an element discouraging to officeseeking pests. As they cannot charter boats to follow him and would not be allowed to board the Dolphin if they did, and as they cannot swim down the Potomac, there is no way they can get their cards or their Congressional attorneys or themselves into the presence of the Executive, who will thus have an opportunity to rest and recuperate, leaving the acting President, Mr. Vanderlip, to face the swarm and shoo them out.

In forty minutes on Monday Mr. McKinley shook hands with 2,000 people. This is nearly one for every second of that time. He has three public receptions a week, which involves cutaneous welcome for 3,600 more patriots. Besides this, there is a steady stream of callers daily from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. In the five weeks of his term of office he has given personal audience to 18,000 people, and at the public receptions he has received 18,000 more. The general average is about 200 persons an hour during office hours.

It is not remarkable, therefore, that Mr. McKinley finds he is doing little else than listening to people and shaking their hands, and that he has little or no time to devote to public business. It is not remarkable that on Saturday last he gave up exhausted, issued orders that no more persons should be admitted to the White House, and hurriedly made preparations to slip away for an outing. While he is away he should devise some system which can be relied upon to head off the swarm of officeseekers before it gets into the White House, and utterly to suppress the legions of curiosity seekers and toadies, who have no other business than a cumulative conspiracy to wring off his hands. For these last a dummy with a movable wrist would answer all purposes. To get rid of the former it would require cast-iron resolution and stoical persistence. For your officeseeker is as enduring as he is insolent and as greedy as he is bumptious. To suppress him altogether may be impossible, but there should be some way of regulating him so that the President at least may have time to transact his legitimate business and may not have to run down Chesapeake Bay every month to recuperate from the officeseekers' onslaught.

"INDEPENDENTS" DO THOROUGH WORK

The "independents" of the Republican party—that organization has a monopoly of that element—have done their work thoroughly. Having made up their minds that the Democracy should have the Mayor they concluded that the tail ought to go with the hide. So they have handed over about everything to the Democrats.

The latter have been enabled to elect their town tickets in nearly all the towns. The assessing and collecting of taxes will be attended to by Democratic officials. If the work is not as well done as it would have been had the Republican candidates been elected the responsibility rests on the "independents." It seemed best to them that the Republican organization should be smashed in the towns as well as in the city.

The "independents" have also turned the Council over to the Democrats. They showed their consistency and thoroughness thereby. But that consistency will dishearten those men who had hoped fondly that the next Council would be a decided improvement as regards honesty on its predecessor.

The "independents" did not think of that, however. They were more interested in defeating Republican Aldermen than in electing reputable Aldermen. That is unfortunate for Mr. Harrison, who would have had a much pleasanter official life with a better Council.

But it has seemed best to the "independents" that the local administration should be Democratic from top to bottom—that the Mayor and other city officers, the Council, the town officers, and the constables should be of the same political faith. They wanted to "rebuke" the Republican organization thoroughly, and they have done so.

There will be no divided responsibility for the next twelve months. If anything goes wrong anywhere Democratic officials must be blamed first, and second the "independents" who for reasons which seemed good to them elected those Democrats.

THE OHIO CITY ELECTIONS.

The municipal elections in Ohio on Monday last resulted, as might have been expected, in Democratic success in many cases, Cincinnati, Akron, Canton, Columbus, Hamilton, and Zanesville being prominent instances, while in several other cities there was about an equal division of victory. The reaction, wherever it took place, admits of easy explanation.

After a great Presidential election there is a tendency in municipal elections to relax party discipline, and this is more markedly the case among Republicans than among Democrats, who are better drilled and stick more closely together. This is largely due to the general lack of intelligence, which makes Democratic voters easier to handle and to keep in the traces. It matters not who or what the candidates may be, provided they are Democrats. The mass follows its leaders blindly and votes solidly, while Republicans are usually ready for bolting, scratching, free fighting, and other eccentricities of the voting habit. The result of this independence on the part of Republicans is that every now and then there is an attempt to overthrow some real or alleged machine. The Democrats never rise in revolt against a machine. Every now and then, however, the good people get knocked out because after achieving a victory they become supine and go to sleep, while the machine never slumbers, never sleeps. It is always on the alert and watching its opportunities. Thus the machine slips in again and has to be cast out again, and so it goes. The gang is always on the lookout for the capture of cities. They are its richest plunder grounds. It means for the gang a wide-open government, extravagant expenditures, unlimited tax-eating, fat boodling, stuffed pay-rolls, and partisan police. When the gang catches the better people napping it jumps in and carries the day. The lesson of all this is that reformers should never sleep. They must be constantly on the alert, and when they win a victory they must clinch it. To relax in the least is to invite successful assault by the gang or the machine, which is always in running order.

WHY THEY REVILE CLEVELAND.

The New York Sun prints the following:

Free-Silverites Thank God That the "Gouty Hero of Buzzard's Bay" Is Gone.

> Mexico, Mo., April 2.—The Jackson District Free Silver club of this county, at a large meeting last night, passed the following resolutions by a unanimous vote:
>
> "Resolved, By the Silver Political club of Jackson District of Audrain County, Mo.:
>
> "First—That we reverently thank the great and good God of causes and effects for his prolongation of time until he in his mercy saw fit to unceremoniously choke off the gouty hero of Buzzard's Bay by cutting off his plutocratic reign forever.
>
> "Second—That we believe that no man ever left the Presidential chair so utterly despised by so many people, not even excepting the usurper, R. B. Hayes.
>
> "Third—That the Governor of Missouri appoint a day of fasting and prayer for our deliverance in the opportune time from the accursed reign of Grover Cleveland."

Doubtless the Missouri border ruffians who adopted these resolutions consider themselves Christians and gentlemen.

Why are they so enraged with Cleveland, for whom they voted unanimously in 1892? Simply because he did what he could as President to prevent the adoption of silver monometallism, and because what he did in that direction was indorsed by the American people last November. The votes cast for McKinley and the St. Louis platform and for Palmer exceeded by three-quarters of a million the vote cast for the free silver candidate, Bryan.

These Audrain County blackguards, along with the other free silverites, have sought for some little time to destroy half the value of the eight billions of credits—liens, notes, and deposits, including 1,840 millions of poor people's deposits in savings banks.

The investments in building and loan associations amount to from eight to ten hundred millions of dollars, eighty millions being in Illinois. One-half the value of those investments would have been swept away if the free silverites had succeeded in electing Bryan.

They have done all in their power to cut down one-half the value of the dollar which fifteen millions of wage-earners are paid in, so that where a man gets 100 cents now he will get henceforth only 50 cents.

They have attempted to cheat a million pensioners out of half the value of their stipends by coining 50-cent dollars to pay them with. If they had had their way the same cheap dollars would have been paid to life insurance policyholders instead of the full value dollars they are entitled to.

It was not the fault of these Audrain County people and the other free silverites that the country escaped becoming the prey of a destructive panic of frightful proportions, which would have lasted for years.

Why did these rascals seek to do so much mischief to people who had never harmed them? Simply to enable men who were dishonestly disposed to cheat those from whom they had borrowed money or bought property to be paid for on time out of half what they owed. These would-be cheats and swindlers have been baffled. Hence it is that "the heathen rage."

Cleveland, actuated by a sturdy spirit of honesty, and unterrified by the threats and curses of the free silverites of his party, upheld the credit of the country and the soundness of the currency. The retroactive national swindle these Missourians demanded was spurned by him, though it had the sanction of his party.

This outbreak of scurrility will not hurt Mr. Cleveland. The country has indorsed what he did. But it serves to show what the typical free silverite is—a blackguard as well as a swindler.

THE LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

The Secretaries of sixty of the building and loan associations of Chicago met on Monday last to discuss ways and means for the prevention of frauds such as have come to light in the management of some of these associations during the last few months. The idea of these officials was to form a federation, to be governed by the strictest rules, and to be so administered as to detect dishonesty with promptness. Various suggestions were favorably considered, among them more careful auditing, sharp examinations by a public accountant at least four times a year, putting Secretaries under guarantee bonds, less exorbitant rates of interest, and less negligence on the part of directors. The resolutions passed embody the sentiment of the Secretaries that recent defalcations do not in the least reflect upon properly managed associations, and that when honestly administered these associations are a boon to the community which will enable wage-earners to acquire comfortable homes and yield a fair return to investors.

The meeting in question was one of the utmost importance. There is no question that everything should be done to make these associations safe and sound and to create a feeling of absolute confidence in them. They are in reality the savings bank system of the West. In the East the surplus of the workingmen goes into the savings banks, while in the West it is largely invested in these associations, because both interest and securities are better, and as the money is lent for the building of little homes there is a safe real estate security for the business. The extent of the business in Illinois is evidenced by the investment of $80,000,000, mostly in Chicago, this large sum representing the amount which in the East would go into the savings banks. Again, many of the depositors in the associations are foreigners who know little or nothing as to the details of the business, and are not acquainted with the laws governing it. For that reason it is necessary there should be greater precautions on the part of the associations as well as of the State, and that every safeguard should be thrown around them. They cannot be made too secure and anything which goes to effect this result should command popular approval and promptly engage the attention of State officials.

THE DINGLEY BILL IN OHIO.

The Dingley bill was prepared, printed, and passed by the House before the Ohio municipal elections were held, but that bill does not seem to have aided the Republicans. Either they did not read it or they did read it and were not altogether pleased with its provisions.

The authors of that measure state that they have paid special attention to several Ohio products. They point with pride to the fact that they have put higher duties on wool, pottery, coal, etc. But the city vote does not show that the wool dealers, the potters, and the other beneficiaries of the Dingley bill worked hard for Republican candidates on Monday.

Last year some misguided and stolid Ohio politicians set out to carry that State for McKinley by making the tariff the main issue, and putting the money question in the background. In those sections of the State where this policy was adhered to—in Cleveland, for instance—the Republican majorities were much less than they should have been. But in Cincinnati, where the fight was made on the money question, McKinley got nearly 20,000 majority.

The tariff was not a winning card last fall. It does not seem to have been one this spring. Republican Senators may find food for thought in this fact. Many Ohio cities which went Republican in November have gone against the Republicans this spring, in spite of a wool schedule which it was thought would appeal to the blooded ram-raisers. Perhaps those city voters who wear woolen clothing did not see anything in the schedule to please them.

Senator Hanna's term expires in March, 1899. It would be a misfortune if the next Legislature elected in Ohio should be controlled by the Democrats, and thus leave Senator Hanna out in the cold. But there is no telling what Ohio will do if a tariff bill is enacted whose duties weigh more heavily on consumers than those of the law of 1890.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Entitled to Sympathy.

"I don't know when I have felt more like kicking myself than I did this afternoon," said the man with the green necktie.

"You never would make a mistake in doing that at any time," remarked the man in the mackintosh; "but what was the occasion for this particular impulse in that direction?"

"It was this way: You know I have a brother who is deaf and dumb, and at home we all talk to him, of course, by means of the sign alphabet. Down-town a while ago he introduced me to a friend of his named Ferguson, and asked me to entertain him while he went away on a short errand. He was gone an hour, and all that time I was laboriously talking with my fingers to Ferguson. I got tired at last, and I relieved my feelings by saying out loud to myself: 'This is getting to be an awful bore. I wish Jimmy would come back.' Quick as a flash he spoke up and said: 'So do I!' It seems that Ferguson has a brother, too, that's a mute, and Jimmy knew I didn't know it. He had put up a job on both of us."

Our Noble Stream.

"Speaking of rivers," observed Uncle Allen Sparks, "did it ever occur to you that the Chicago River is the only one in the country that feeds itself at the mouth, and is therefore the only one, strictly speaking, that really has a mouth?"

Not Reduced to That.

"Why do you spend your time walking about the country in this aimless way?" asked the sympathetic matron.

"I walk, mum," replied Tuffold Knutt, stiffly, "becuz it's more independent than ridin'. Anybody kin own a hoss these days."

Curiosity Satisfied.

"I beg your pardon," said the passenger in the long linen duster, leaning over the back of the seat in front of him, "but would you mind tellin' me how your nose got all knocked over to one side, the way it is?"

"Not at all," cheerfully responded the passenger on the seat in front. "It was done one time when I was poking it into other folks' business."

All the External Indications.

"What is Clevinger doing now?"

"The last time I heard from him he was about to open a brimstone mine in Nevada."

"Great Scott! Do they have to dig down any distance to find it in that State?"

Young Mr. Harrison's face took on a wide open aspect shortly after the returns began to come in.

And Chicago needs a wash now, worse than it ever did.

If the new Mayor wants to popularize his administration at the start and perform a sacred duty at the same time he will instruct the new City Attorney to take immediate steps to shake that $17,000 out of Van Cleave.

Still, we have faith to believe that at the end of two years Chicago will go out of the Carter Harrison business forever.

"The man who brought this in," remarked the editor's assistant as he unrolled half a yard of manuscript, "told me confidentially that he needed the money for it." "Yes," was the melancholy answer, "it's a strange fact that the longest poems seem almost invariably to be written by the shortest poets."—Washington Star.

Too Late.

It is pathetic to see our Western contemporary, the Kansas City Times, a fervent Democrat throughout the memorable campaign for tariff reform, now raising a banner that has been torn, trampled, and befouled:

> The Democratic party does not narrow its tariff policy down to free raw materials, which benefits the manufacturers who are already protected. It insists that the whole tariff system should be based on taxation for revenue only.

The Democratic party in 1892 proclaimed as a constitutional decree the principle for revenue only. The Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, William L. Wilson, introduced a tariff bill repudiating that principle in every section, and upholding it nowhere, in 1893. The bill became a law in 1894. That disgraceful act of political treachery went forward without a sound of opposition on the part of the so-called tariff-reform journals; and it was completed with acclamation over the alleged fulfillment of the Democratic pledges. But at last, in 1897, while a Republican Congress is passing a bill for revenue and protection, a voice crying for a "tariff for revenue only" comes from the ruins of the national Democracy, wrecked by the combined deceit and fanaticism of Grover Cleveland and William Jennings Bryan.

A tariff for revenue only! It has a familiar sound, but, today, only an historic and revolting interest.—New York Sun.

Appropriate Today.

"Richard II." is being acted in London. The friends of Crete who have been saddened by the despicable part played by the Salisbury Ministry should find an expression of their thoughts in the words Shakspeare gives to John of Gaunt:

> England, bound in with the triumphant sea,
> Whose rocky shore beats back the envious siege
> Of watery Neptune, is now bound in with shame,
> With inky blots and rotten parchment bonds;
> That England that was wont to conquer others
> Hath made a shameful conquest of itself.
> Ah, would the scandal vanish with my life,
> How happy, then, were my ensuing death.

Failure of Billy in Getting Pie.

Peoria Herald: Billy Mason is reported to be getting disgusted at the treatment given him by the President. Billy has been working as hard for his friends as he ever did for himself, and while he has been treated with great courtesy he has been unable to get any of his men into office. And he is a man who knows the difference between pie crust and good solid hash.

Will History Repeat Itself?

"The McKinley law," says the Philadelphia Telegraph (Ind. Rep.), "proved in general to be a patriotic and wise enactment. Still, it gave undue advantage to certain interests. Its mistakes were used, with sweeping effect, to the detriment of the Republican party and the country, while the pursuance of a different course would undoubtedly have been followed by a different result. Is history going to repeat itself?"

Not Imperious in His Demands.

Springfield (Mass.) Republican: The political ambition of Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin is of the sliding scale sort. First he wanted to be a member of the Cabinet, but there were others, and he was satisfied. Then he wanted a foreign embassy, but concluded that he "couldn't afford to spend $10,000 of his own money every year" simply for the honor of living in Germany. And now he wants to be a plain, everyday Senator from Wisconsin.

LIVE TOPICS OF TODAY.

A lady, presumably young and fair, desires to know if cooking schools are still in vogue in Chicago, and if it is desirable for a young woman who is in society, and who "don't have to cook," as she artlessly expresses it, to take a course of instruction in one of those institutions. The name of this seeker after light is Kathryn, and she writes from Duluth. There have been from time to time numerous cooking schools in Chicago, and The Tribune is informed that there are a number that still receive students, but since the introduction of the bicycle most of them have fallen into desuetude and decay. The rolling-pin hangs useless upon the wall, and the skillet rusts behind the pantry door, while the erstwhile eager inquirers into the mysteries of culinary lore gayly mount their bikes and, like swift Camilla, scour the plain, while their mothers do the cooking, as of yore. The fact that the girls so readily laid aside the kitchen utensils and took up the wheel shows that culinary academies are not essential adjuncts to our national greatness. When cooking schools were inaugurated they were conducted upon strictly scientific principles. The girls learned all the big chemical names, and were taught the proper relation of the carbohydrate to the proteid and the exact number of molecules in every batch of buckwheat batter. Doubtless some of the students learned to cook very creditably in post-graduate courses on the domestic range, but if they never attained the exalted height of making a perfect biscuit they spoiled many a loaf of angel food. Possibly one reason why cooking schools have fallen into disrepute with the fair sex is on account of the gravy. The celebrated Mrs. Todgers once gave it as her solemn opinion, based on many years of practical experience, that gravy will add at least twenty years to the looks of any woman who cooks. Every conscientious chefess who makes gravy cannot but feel the serious responsibility she assumes. Without good gravy the feast is a barren waste, as it were. Pie becomes a vain thing to the gourmet in the absence of gravy. Without it a meal can never be mathematically rectangular. Mrs. Todgers in her wisdom knew this, and she knew that if the cook gave the best efforts of her mind to the gravy she was bound to grow prematurely aged. It is a solemn thing to make gravy for somebody else to eat, and the fair Kathryn is warned not to undertake it unless she feels equal to the emergency. She doubtless can intrust the undertaking to her mother, and keep the roses in her cheeks and the young blood bounding in her veins by frequent exercise on the wheel.

Venus will soon be the morning star and accounts of the mysterious airship which has been seen floating over Kansas and Missouri may possibly be delayed too late to get into the first editions of the morning papers.

Southern hospitality is proverbial the world over. In that region the latch string hangs out at every door; there is always a warm place at the fireside for the stranger and an extra plate on the table. The Southerner likes company and he is never so happy as when his mansion is full of people and the henhouse runs red with the blood of feathered victims. This feeling is strongly illustrated by the remarks of the editor of the Harmony Grove, Ga., Echo-Gazette, who had been harboring under his roof the district schoolma'am, who says in a recent issue of his paper: "It has been our pleasure for some time to receive into our humble home as a boarder the lady teacher at this place and regret that sickness in our family necessitated her going elsewhere. We are reluctant to give her up." Nothing could be more hearty than this.

The catfish are eating the wheat in many parts of Missouri and the farmers are very despondent over the matter. Some of them are not expecting more than half a crop.

There is no doubt of the earnestness of the women of Kansas who are taking part in the municipal campaign of that State. On every hand they show the greatest activity and they are apparently leaving no stone unturned in their efforts for victory. A woman of Eldorado has written a fiery appeal for the local paper and urges upon all of the fair voters to "hunt the tiger of oppression out from office and spread the divine faith like calming oil on all the stormy creeds; and fill the hollows between wave and wave, and nurse her children on the milk of truth, and alchemise old hates into the gold of love."

A new edition of Debrett's English peerage has just been issued. The principal interest it has for American readers lies in the fact that the volume contains 2,500 pages and weighs about eight pounds.

A curious rumor has crept out in Kansas and is gently wafted over the buffalo grass by every gentle zephyr that blows. It lingers on the banks of the Cimarron and the coyote sniffs it from afar, the sagebrush trembles with the burden, and the cottonwoods along the Medicine rustle with alarm at the story. It is said that Mr. Peffer, ex-Senator and agriculturist and professor of the initiative and referendum, is going to cut off his whiskers. This is causing commotion in Kansas, and the thought that the old ornament of his cheek and eke his chin may be used to stuff tennis balls falls like a tin roof in Populist circles. There is despondency among the faithful. For when the hosts of plutocracy pressed hard upon the handful of Populists in the halls of Congress did not Peffer plant his whiskers in the forefront of the fray and were they not regarded as an oriflamme of battle? When the people were in distress did not Peffer gravely stroke his beard and swear by the same that every man, woman, and child in the United States should have $3,000 apiece on his celebrated "per capiter" plan? If Mr. Peffer sacrifices his beard; if those flowing whiskers, the pride and glory of calamity, are to be cut off, what will become of Peffer. He will remain only as a vision of the night or linger as a tender memory among the advocates of the usufruct.

The shad season having opened at Baltimore the editor of the American pays high tribute to the goodness of that sterling fish. He declares that "its excellence is as firm as the value of the clearest diamond and it tastes good whether it costs 5 cents or $5." Moreover, he says the Chesapeake shad exceed all other shad in goodness, albeit shad as a general thing differ only as one star differeth from another in glory.

The framers of the new tariff bill have placed spunk on the free list. Perhaps they did this to show that they had the courage of their convictions, or may be they thought the American people needed a little more spunk in the Cuban question.

The status of the Kansas editor may be assumed from the following notice in the Lyndon Herald in announcing a change of management:

> With our last issue, H. C. Swisher severed his connection with this paper and with a low, glad cry plunged once more into private life. No more can the finger of scorn be pointed at him, for he walks among you today with the proud consciousness of once more being your equal socially.

One of the most treasured tokens that Public Printer Palmer has in his possession is an autograph letter from President Harrison during the closing hours of his administration. It was written Feb. 21, 1893, and in the course of a friendly personal communication President Harrison said: "I have not been able to see much of you, but the manner in which you have discharged your arduous public duties have increased the respect and confidence that led to your appointment."

The following early note in reference to Illinois occurs in the correspondence of M. Bossu, author of "Travels Through Louisiana" with the Marquis de L'Estrade of France. Bossu wrote from Fort Chartres, in the Illinois country, of Louisiana, under date of March 28, 1752:

> I have inquired after the manner in which the French settlement has been made here. The country of the Illinois was discovered by our Canadian hunters; they found its climate very good, being in 40 degrees north latitude, settled on it, and made an alliance with the natives. Many people among them married Indian girls, of which the greater part became Christians, and after the discovery of Louisiana the Indian company (Western, or Mississippi, company) sent many families over hither, who lived and multiplied here. There are now five great villages of French inhabitants in these parts. The most considerable is called Kaskaskias, the name of a tribe of an Illinois settlement which is about half a league from it.

The four other settlements were Fort Chartres, St. Philip, Kankias, and Prairie du Rocher. It will be seen from this account that the oldest families of Illinois are partially of Indian descent—from Canadian and Illinois ancestors.

CISNEROS TO M'KINLEY.

CUBA'S PRESIDENT ASKS SYMPATHY IN THE FIGHT FOR FREEDOM.

Spain's Tyranny Is Doomed—Could She Repeople the Island, Coming Generations Would Revolt Against It—Patriots Never Will Yield—Their Government Firmly Founded and Their Cause Gaining Beyond Expectation—Fervent Appeal to the Conscience of the American People.

Executive Headquarters Republic of Cuba, Cubitas Mountains, State of Camaguey, March 22.—[Special Correspondence New York World.]—This has been for nearly eighteen months the capital of the Republic of Cuba. There are storehouses, dynamite factories, and a large insurgent hospital here.

The Cuban President, Salvador Cisneros y Betancourt, received me yesterday, saying: "I welcome you to the capital of Cuba Libre, and I only wish that in addition to being an American correspondent you were an accredited representative of the United States Government."

President Cisneros owned Cubitas when he was wealthy, and for a number of years occupied the $40,000 stone and adobe house which today is the residence and official meeting place of the Cuban Cabinet.

Today he counseled with these members of his Cabinet: Mario Menocal, Assistant Secretary of War; Rafael Portuondo y Tamaga, Secretary of Foreign Affairs; Dr. Eusebio Hernandez, Assistant Secretary of Foreign Affairs; Dr. J. L. Castillo, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Santiago Canizaras, Secretary of the Interior; and Carlos Dubois, Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Vice-President Bartolome Masso is at present with Gen. Garcia. Gen. Carlos Roloff, Secretary of War, is expected to report here within a fortnight. Severo Pina, Secretary of the Treasury, is in Santiago Province arranging for the collection of taxes.

President Cisneros introduced me to the members of his Cabinet here, saying:

"This is the correspondent of a newspaper which has had live men reporting news in Cuba since the beginning of the war, and one which has rendered much service to the cause of liberty."

Open Letter to McKinley.

After today's Cabinet meeting President Cisneros handed me a copy of his open letter to President McKinley, dated "Executive Headquarters, Capital of Cuba, Cubitas, March 4, 1897."

In it President Cisneros wrote:

"Mr. President: Today you become the Chief Executive of the greatest, freest, most progressive Nation that the sunlight of heaven ever shone upon. Today the organized and maintained Republic of Cuba, citizens and soldiers, from the highest to the lowest, congratulate you and pray that God will give you strength and wisdom to continue the progress and increase the prosperity of the American people.

"Cuba, while called by Spain the 'Ever Faithful Isle,' has always looked to the American Republic as if she longed for the title of 'Ever Faithful State.'

"Though by blood, language, and traditions more closely affiliated with the Old World, Cubans do not have hopes in that direction. They have long since learned that enlightenment, which means liberty and progress with the nobler form of glory, is to be found in the land of Washington. And it is because of this feeling that I, as the recognized head of the Republic of Cuba, address you, the honored Chief Executive of my adopted and well-beloved Union.

"I ask you, in the name of God and of my people, to extend early consideration to what is known in the United States as the 'Cuban question.'

"We have in your beautiful capital a legation as yet unrecognized officially by your government. That legation, composed of men we trust and honor, is in a position to inform the American Government of such details as it may desire regarding the several points of this communication.

Where Cuba Belongs.

"In the first place, I beg you to consider that the Island of Cuba rightfully belongs to the people of the Western Hemisphere. Its geographical location precludes the possibility of its being considered a part of any other continent.

"Secondly, its people are essentially American in all their hopes and aspirations.

"Thirdly, the island and its people will continue to grow more and more strongly American from day to day and from year to year.

"Were it possible for Spain to exterminate the present population and replant the soil with her loyal subjects, I doubt her ability to control the island after a certain period. The sons of Spaniards coming in after generations would be Cubans, as devoted to their little island and with as much detestation for its enslaver as are the Cubans of today.

"Do as she may, Spain is destined to lose Cuba eventually. Could she hope for success in the present war, it would only be a matter of a few years when there would be another rebellion.

"But for Spain the present struggle is hopeless. The success attending our arms has been a surprise even to us.

"Every province of Cuba has risen against the tyrannical power of Spain.

"It is not necessary for me to give details of the more horrible features of Spain's rule in Cuba. History tells the story. Your own countrymen have fallen victims to the wrath of Castile, as in the Virginius affair, while mere children have been executed in Havana that the bloodthirsty pride of Spain might be satisfied.

"The whole world will acknowledge that Cuba has ample excuse for rebellion.

Results of the War.

"In two years we have accomplished much more than we did in the entire last war, which continued ten years.

"The civil branch of the government is well established, and its workings are daily becoming more forceful and complete.

"The entire Province of Santiago, with the exception of several large towns, is entirely under our control. In more than 200 cities, towns, and villages Spain has not a soldier, and has apparently relinquished all claim to that territory. She no longer has civil representatives in most of the districts, while there is not one township in the entire province but has its perfecto or assistant perfecto appointed by the Republic of Cuba.

"Spain collects today but one-eighth the amount of taxes in Puerto Principe, Santa Clara, and Santiago Provinces she did two years ago, while the taxes levied and collected by this government have in the three provinces amounted to more than $380,000.

"These taxes are not collected by aid of the military. The levy is fixed by our Secretary of the Treasury, with the counsel of the Secretary of the Interior, and the civil officers in the various prefects collect the same in the regular way.

"For more than a year the army has not levied tax or tribute without the assent of the Secretary of the Treasury.

"We have established throughout the island a system of mails, and the frank of the republic attached to a parcel insures its delivery at any point. American mails are carried by this system and delivered to persons in the most remote parts of the island.

Progress in Education.

"An important feature of the civil government has been the issuing of schoolbooks and the establishment of schools. Early in the war the government took up education, realizing that knowledge meant strength and liberty. In various sections of Santiago and Puerto Principe schoolhouses have been erected under the supervision of the government, and native teachers have been appointed.

"Every department of the government is in good working order and a unity of purpose pervades every branch, civil and military, while the people of the island, as a whole, are giving us their most earnest support.

"The army in the field, under the command of my brave and true friend, General-in-Chief Maximo Gomez, is conducting a war of energy and mercy. The rules of government and the dictates of humanity direct it.

"The struggle may go on for years and Cuba may continue to fight the battle against the fearful odds alone, but so long as there is a God to give us courage we will cling to the banner of right and freedom and never falter until the victory is won.

"Wishing you and your great republic godspeed, I am,

"Salvador Cisneros Betancourt,
"President of Cuba."

SHORT STORY OF THE DAY.

The Man That Married Mary.

BY ELLEN THORNEYCROFT FOWLER.

When shall I meet thee once again to tell
How thou hast been my life's upraising leaven—
To answer to thy questions, "All is well"?
Perchance in heaven.
—Verses Grave and Gay.

ALTHOUGH he had, in addition to a local habitation, a name of his own—Peter Dunn to-wit—he was always known as "the man that married Mary." By profession he was a plumber of some repute—that is to say, he knew by heart the meanderings and idiosyncrasies of every drain in the village; and he added to this experience knowledge, for he had the sense to carry about with him such white lead as was necessary to the fulfillment of his calling, instead of expecting the same to grow wild in every well ordered household—a false expectation which obtains amongst plumbers. For six days of the week he plumbed, but on the seventh (or rather the first) he dressed himself in a little brief authority and a sort of black nightgown, and stood revealed to the eyes of an admiring village as the verger of the parish church. It was impressive to see him conduct to such seats as he deemed meet for them the strangers within his gates, and the way wherein—during the anthem—he distributed the almsbags among the recipients for whom they were reserved was a function in itself. On one memorable occasion, when performing this last mentioned rite, he stumbled over a top hat, placed in the aisle by some unwary stranger, sent it spinning up the church, and staggered after it in hot pursuit. For one awful moment it seemed that the pillars of Church and State were alike trembling; then the worthy verger righted himself, restored the stumbling-block to its owner, and concluded the function, to the unfeigned delight of the sons of the rectory, who longed ever afterwards to present a testimonial to the unknown author of the catastrophe. The inhabitants of Cheriton did not wear top hats, and if they had they would have known better than to place such obstacles in the path of the just; so the rector's boys concluded that some alien brow had been, so to speak, the head and front of the offending, and they blessed that brow accordingly, and never forgot the great "kick-off at 7 o'clock," as they called it.

But all these paltry honors and dignities paled beside the fact that Peter Dunn ("plumbing verger" or "verging plumber," whichever one was pleased to dub him), was above all things "the man that married Mary." Beside this crowning distinction all meaner honors sank into insignificance. Mary had been the reigning beauty of Cheriton for more years than she would have cared to confess to, when she arrived at the conclusion that "leading apes" was not so satisfactory an occupation as marrying plumbers, and so decided to espouse her devoted adorer, Peter Dunn, who had regularly proposed to her every Saturday afternoon for—well, at least 250 Saturdays, at the lowest computation. With her office as reigning beauty of Cheriton Mary Mills had combined the duties of village schoolmistress. She was a good girl, and did her work well, but she had no natural love of teaching, and she was very thankful at last to lay her occupation aside and become Mrs. Peter Dunn instead. Mary felt (as indeed did all the village, Peter included) that she had conferred an unspeakable favor upon her husband in marrying him, and to the day of her death she treated him more as a King consort than as a verger and plumber in his own right, which he undoubtedly was, for Mary was what the villagers call "genteel," and founded her ideas of men and women upon the heroes and heroines of such silly and sensational novels as came in her way, and, judged according to that standard, Peter certainly fell short of ideal manhood. As long as she lived Mary measured Peter by these stupid measurements and found him short and plain and commonplace and rough mannered; afterwards she probably learned to measure him according to the measure of a man—that is, of the angel—and discovered that her plain little plumber was more of a hero than all the men of straw she had delighted to read about in the foolish days of her flesh, but of this we have, of course, no record. Poor Mary, however, will not be the only one who will find the standards of this world all wrong in the light of the next one; and there is much comfort in this thought.

But, though she looked down upon him on account of his rougher manners and inferior education, Mary Dunn was sincerely attached to her good little husband, and succeeded in making the few years she was spared to him years of radiant bliss for Peter. As for him, he simply worshiped the ground on which his wife walked. Mary had a younger sister of whom she was inordinately proud, who was a governess in a gentleman's family. She was, according to Mary, "quite the lady," and would, so Mary thought, consider it a degradation to visit so humble a home as the Dunns', which showed that poor Mrs. Dunn's standards of good breeding were as erroneous as her standards of other things. Therefore, though Mary sometimes went to see the beloved Amy, Amy never was allowed to come to Cheriton or to be brought into contact with that excellent man, her brother-in-law. Probably, had she come, Amy would have despised Peter as much as Mary did, for not to every one is it given to see the deeper meanings and to hear the hidden music in the common things of life—least of all to such frivolous little souls as those of the sisters Mills.

After Mary had been dead for some years a general feeling spread through Cheriton that the man that married Mary was becoming a miser. He made a very good income, and, as there were no children, had only himself to support now that Mary was gone, and yet he saved and screwed at every point, which brought him into disrepute at Cheriton. The charwoman who cleaned his house told thrilling tales of a tin box, securely locked, which had its abode under Peter's chest of drawers, and into this box the imagination of Cheriton transferred all the savings which Peter so carefully hoarded.

One day the rector's eldest son, Jack, now at Oxford, rushed into his father's study, crying:

"I say, dad, what do you think? The man that married Mary has been robbed of all his savings."

The rector pushed up his spectacles and gazed benignly at Jack from under them.

"Dear me, dear me, what a sad thing!" he murmured. "How much money has been stolen?"

"Nobody knows. But the tin box out of his bedroom has gone and the poor man is demented."

"No wonder," said the kind old rector.

"The thief evidently climbed through the window while Dunn was out, as the door was locked."

"Did he take anything besides the tin box?" asked the rector.

"No," answered Jack, "for the very good reason that there was nothing else inside the house worth the carriage. There must be a pretty pot of money in that box, dad; for never a pipe in the whole village bursts without the man that married Mary being well paid for mending it, and he is remunerated for his pew-opening duties, too; and yet he hardly has enough to eat, I hear, and there is nothing in his house worth a half-crown piece. The savings in that old tin box must tot up to a pretty sum."

"Dear me, dear me! It is very sad, Jack, my boy, when the love of money thus takes hold of a man—very sad, indeed."

"Well, the old boy is punished for it now, anyway," said Jack, with the untempered justice of the very young and inexperienced, "and I am glad of it."

"I'm not," sighed the rector. "I suppose punishments do good, but I am always sorry when there is a necessity for them. If poor Mary had lived Dunn would never have got into these mean ways; she was such a bright, pretty, superior girl."

Which remark showed that the dispensations of providence are wiser after all than the reasoning of the most charitable old rectors.

Later on in the day Jack Levett caught sight of a dark object lying in a ditch. He pulled it out and found it to be a tin box, with the lock pried open. In it there was nothing but a packet of letters in Mary Dunn's pretty old-fashioned writing and some faded roses, brown and crisp with age. The former he was too much of a gentleman to read, but he concluded they were love letters, as they were addressed to Peter Dunn, but as there was no money in the box he conjectured that the thief had taken what was valuable and thrown the rubbish away. So he took it straight to Dunn, with many condolences.

"I have found this box of yours in a ditch, Dunn," he said, "but I fear all the valuables have been taken out of it."

Peter seized the box and examined its contents.

"No, it's all right, Master Jack," he cried with excitement; "fifteen letters and ten roses and not one missing. O, how can I thank you enough, sir, for restoring them to me? I shall never forget your kindness as long as I live!"

Jack looked puzzled. "But wasn't there anything else in the box?" he asked.

"No, sir; this is all, and it is all I have on earth that is of any value to me. Fifteen letters that my Mary wrote me while we were courting, and ten roses that she gave me at different times. And to think that they are all safe, and not one missing! I shall never cease to bless you, Master Jack, for what you have done for me this day—never."

"I thought there must have been money in the box, you seemed in such a way about it."

"Bless you, sir, I shouldn't have made all that fuss if it had only been money. But, you see, these letters are all that I have left of my Mary, and I read them over and over again. She was a rare scholar, my Mary was."

"And so pretty, too," said Jack, kindly.

"Ay, Master Jack, she was that; and the sweetest way with her. Why, I could tell you the history of each of them ten roses, and where we were standing, and what she said when she gave it to me; only I should feel somehow as Mary mightn't like it. But I say her dear words over and over to myself, and never forget them, though it would seem irreverent-like to repeat them to another person, even to one of the quality like yourself."

"Of course, of course," said Jack hastily, feeling a queer, uncomfortable lump in his throat; and then they went on to talk of other things. So the man that married Mary was comforted, and the hiding-place of his savings remained a mystery.

A year or two after this, Jack Levett was traveling in Switzerland, and fell in (and out) with some people called Lawson. Mr. Lawson was a flashy young man, with a great many rings and no manners; and his wife was a pretty woman, who falsely imagined herself a lady, and reveled in the delusion.

"I think I 'eard you mention you came from Cheriton in Blankshire," said Lawson one day to Jack at the table d'hôte.

Now Jack had never mentioned the fact, but Mr. Lawson had discovered it by a diligent perusal of Jack's luggage-labels; whereof Jack was perfectly aware, so he answered shortly:

"Yes, I come from Cheriton."

"Then p'raps you know a connection of my wife's who lives there—a very wealthy man," continued Lawson in an ingratiating manner.

Jack certainly knew all the wealthy people in or near Cheriton, and he also knew that they belonged to a class which would not have counted the Lawsons among their acquaintances—much less among their relations; so he cautiously inquired the name of Mrs. Lawson's kinsman.

"It's 'er brother-in-law—Mr. Peter Dunn—'er sister's widower," explained Mr. Lawson. "Since 'er sister's death 'e 'as allowed my wife a 'undred a year; and if 'e's as rich as I imagine, I think 'e might increase the allowance."

"Why?" asked Jack dryly.

"Well, you see, my wife's sister married beneath 'er, so I think it is only old Dunn's duty to pay for the privilege of being related to such a genteel family. I gather 'e isn't quite what you'd call a gentleman—not like you and me, you know."

Jack shuddered and felt an unholy desire stirring within him to knock Lawson down; but, stifling his desire, he said quietly:

"Mr. Dunn is an excellent man, and one for whom I entertain a profound respect; but you are mistaken in considering him wealthy."

Lawson's face fell. "Then you don't think 'e could increase the allowance?" he asked.

"I feel sure he could not do so, whatever his wishes might be. It is only by denying himself that he is able to make it as large as it is; of this I am certain."

"And you don't think 'e'll have much to leave, then?" inquired Lawson, gloomily.

"I should say, nothing. I can assure you he is a man of most limited means, and under the circumstances the allowance you mentioned is princely in its munificence."

"O, my word! You 'ave upset me, Mr. Levett. It's 'orrible to 'ave common relations who aren't even rich, don't you think? Riches is the only excuse for commonness, to my mind."

"Pardon me," said Jack stiffly; "you are deluded in thinking that Mr. Dunn was in any way inferior to his wife or her sister. For my part I can only say that I am proud to count him among my friends"; and Jack stalked off in high dudgeon.

"O, my!" exclaimed Mr. Lawson meditatively. "To think of Amy's old brother-in-law turning out to be not so rich or so common as we thought. 'E must be something particular if that young swell counts 'im among 'is friends; for a more unfriendly, stuck-up chap I never met! 'E won't chum with me at any price. But I'm glad to 'ear Amy's people aren't as common as I thought. I despise commonness, and 'ave always prided myself on being quite the gentleman; but I can't help feeling a bit 'urt at that young Levett not being more affable with me."

And it was several days before Mr. Lawson's self-satisfaction recovered from the bruise Jack had administered to it.

When Jack Levett reached home he endeavored to persuade Peter to cease to deny himself for the sake of such worthless people as the Lawsons, but in vain.

"Bless you, sir, I don't do it to please them—I do it to please my Mary; and she'd set her heart on Amy bein' quite the lady."

"But they are so ungrateful—so unworthy," argued Jack; "and I don't believe the money does them any real good."

Peter laughed. "But that don't matter to me," he said. "I do what Mary wanted, and I don't bother about anything else. If Mary had wanted me to throw my money into the river, into the river my money would ha' gone. I don't want money's worth for my money; I only want to please my Mary. The squire spends his money on hunters, not because he wants to kill foxes for food, but because he loves huntin' for its own sake; you spend your time on cricket, not because you are paid for it, but because you love cricket for its own sake; and pleasin' Mary is my huntin' and cricket, don't you see?"

"That's it, is it?" said Jack quietly.

"The only joy I ever had in my life was Mary, and the only pleasure I have now is doin' what I think Mary would wish. And when I meet my Mary again I know she'll be rarely pleased to hear how I have toiled and saved to please her, and as to how the Lawsons spent the money—why, bless you, Master Jack, do you suppose that when me and my Mary are together once more we'll be worryin' our heads about such rubbish as the spendin' o' money?"

And Jack Levett felt that he ought to take off his hat in the presence of the man that married Mary.—The Young Woman.

Woman Suffragists at Joliet.

Joliet, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—A meeting of the Woman Suffrage Association of Illinois was held in this city this afternoon, but the attendance was small. Lena M. Beck of Bloomington, Ind., had charge of the meeting, and she stated that the work in Illinois was in the nature of an experiment, and that its continuance would depend upon the financial support received. Tonight the Rev. Ida C. Hulton of Moline, Ill., was the principal speaker, and more interest was taken in the evening session.

Galesburg, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—Miss Henryetta Frolich, daughter of Sol Frolich, one of the proprietors of the Union Hotel, and Harry J. Gutman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Gutman of Des Moines, Ia., were married this evening. Many prominent Jews from outside the city were present, and the ceremony was performed by Dr. Messing, the Peoria rabbi.

The maid of honor was Miss Gertie Frolich, sister of the bride, and the bridemaids were Miss Henryetta Frolich of Nebraska City, Miss Maud Schwabacher of Peoria, and Misses Hattie Mark and Hattie Hoffheimer of Galesburg. The best man was Sam Strauss of the Des Moines Leader, and Milton Goldman and Charles Regelman of Des Moines, Maurice Ullman of Peoria, and Oscar Mayer, Galesburg, were ushers. Miss Marion Levy of Waverly, Ia., was flower girl; Albert Jacobi of Galesburg was master of ceremonies.

The bride wore a white duchess satin, en train, with duchess and point lace trimmings, and with a veil of tulle, held in place by a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom.

The newly married couple departed tonight for Des Moines, their future home. The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's of the Woods, Terre Haute, Ind.

STRAW HATS NOW.

Women are not waiting for Easter to come forth in new bonnets. With an indifference to tradition born of shabbiness of winter hats or feverish haste for spring ones, already numbers of us are wearing straw head coverings.

Some of these hats are in modest colorings, while others are gay. One woman, whose business evidently takes her out of doors much, appeared dressed neatly in a black costume, whose crowning effort was a dark green rainbow coarse straw. By "rainbow" is meant changeable, after the fashion of coque feathers. The only trimmings were a black satin ribbon bow placed high at the back and another similar bow as a cache peigne. The crown was high and funnel-shaped, the brim low and broad.

SWEAR NOT AT ALL.

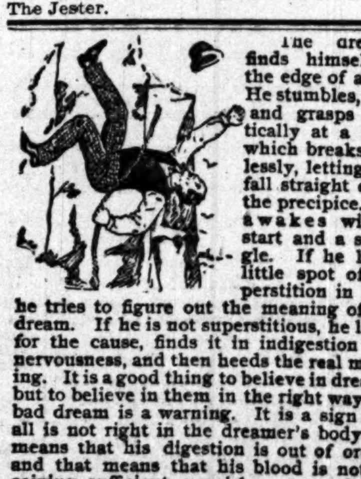
Binks—"Do you use a fountain pen?"
Winks—"Not since I joined the church."—The Jester.



The dreamer finds himself at the edge of a cliff. He stumbles, falls, and grasps frantically at a rope, which breaks uselessly, letting him fall straight down the precipice. He awakes with a start and a struggle. If he has a little spot of superstition in him, he tries to figure out the meaning of the dream. If he is not superstitious, he looks for the cause, finds it in indigestion and nervousness, and then heeds the real meaning. It is a good thing to believe in dreams, but to believe in them in the right way. A bad dream is a warning. It is a sign that all is not right in the dreamer's body. It means that his digestion is out of order; and that means that his blood is not receiving sufficient nourishment; and that has its effect on the nerves; and the nerves, on the brain. Imperfect digestion means imperfect nutrition. It means that the strength and food that ought to go into the blood from the digestive organs—that should go to build the tissues that waste every day—is being perverted and is doing no good. It means that there will be loss of solid, strengthful flesh; that the nerves will be uncovered just that much; that debility will ensue; and that the man's body is ready for the reception of disease-germs. That is the real meaning of the man's dreams, and such dreams should always be taken to mean that the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is urgent and imperative, if health would be preserved. The "Discovery" is a certain cure for indigestion, dyspepsia and liver complaint.

When constipation is present, it is frequently necessary to supplement the "Discovery" by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They greatly facilitate the action of the "Golden Medical Discovery," by ridding the system of poisonous, effete matter, increasing the activity of the lower bowels so that the impure matter forced out of the blood by the "Golden Medical Discovery" may find quick egress. Both the "Golden Medical Discovery" and the "Pellets" may be obtained at any drug store. Complete information concerning them may be had by addressing the World's Dispensary Medical Association. # Printed Promises.

Odd to note the different ways folks regard statements they make in the papers.

No amount of exaggeration is too great for some of our modest merchants, and in the telling they run to large type as though the blackness of printers' ink would blot out your doubt of their honesty.

With us newspaper advertising is our daily letter to you—we fill it with bits of the day's news from your store—we sign our name to it. That, to us, means a pledge—that "printed promises" are as binding as the written kind that have a notary's seal.

Tailored Suits. Haven't a word to say against custom tailoring and dressmaking—we do both here to perfection—but for many they're unnecessarily expensive. These ready-to-wear garments prove it—they're the same stamp of style and fineness of finish that marks the man-tailored-to-order class.

At $16.50.

Eton Suit like illustration—made of all wool Cheviot Serge—plum, navy, green and black. The Eton Jacket, Girdle and Skirt are handsomely trimmed with Brandenberg braid. The skirt is the newest rouff model and both jacket and skirt are lined throughout with heavy changeable taffeta silk. The silk and serge at retail equal the selling price of these stylish costumes.

At $22.50.

Smart Street Suit of Tan Whipcord—Fly-Front Jacket, lined throughout with heavy changeable taffeta silk—the Rouff Skirt is lined and stiffened as only these garments of ours are—the entire costume is man-tailored—strap, seams, etc., and is not to be found elsewhere within dollars of the price.

The same Suit may be had lined throughout with heavy changeable taffeta silk at $28.50.

Cycling Costumes We've a new skirt—ours for Chicago—"The Duplex"—we're going to show it and tell about it till every woman rider in the county knows—

It's as different as can be from the other devices you've tried—and so simple you'll wonder you didn't think of it yourself—too late now—it's patented.

Besides comfort and freedom awheel, it's got a "hang" to it that you've never been able to get in a cycle skirt—when you're off the wheel it's the smartest walking skirt you could wish—for tennis or golf its advantages are as great as for cycling—and one of you told us only this morning that walking was a new pleasure in "The Duplex"—it doesn't draw at the knees—it can't "balloon" in any wind and hangs perfectly in any posture—and without needing adjustment of any kind when mounting—we'll show it to you—3d floor.

In this department of ours—undoubtedly the most complete in Chicago—we've many new ideas in hats and leggings—and divided skirts for use on diamond and drop frame wheels.

At $5.00—The Cycling Costume we told you of last week bids fair to test the capacity of our work-rooms to the exclusion of all else. We're more than willing, though, for every Suit will be an all-summer advertisement for us. Complete in five pieces—Eton jacket, skirt, knickerbockers, leggings, and Tam O'Shanter cap—made of all-wool Melton cloth—navy or brown—$5.00.

At $10.00—There's a finer costume of tan covert cloth—divided skirt, leggings, and new Fedora hat—choice of either blazer or fly-front jacket. Chicago has nothing to match this outfit within speaking distance of the price.

If You Make Your Own Dresses. It's for one of two reasons—because you don't like the ready-to-wear sort, or to save money—it's generally the latter. In either case to-day's selling is of unusual moment to the home dressmaker. It means the most inexpensive good Dress Stuffs of the season.

At 92c a yard.

The values are double and more—we'd rather not say how much more, but in comparison the goods distinctly outclass fabrics on sale at any other counter in this city. We know this, for we've done a little shopping for ourselves.

And here are some other items that will be gone before night:

A tableful for early comers—at 50c yard—Bourettes, Tweeds, Cheviots, Henriettas, Silk and Wool Mixtures, Checks and Tufted Mohair Novelties—values are double, and it's wise to drop in early.

The $1.00 Novelty Fabrics at 68c—46 inch Bourettes in a dozen stylish mixtures—Tweeds, all wool and silk and wool—Persians—Jacquards—Granites.

All wool French Challis, 26c—From the best printers in France—3,000 yards all told—50c worth in every metre.

Silk Dollars Do double duty today. Half-dollar Silks for 24c—when they really happen—are a rarity. They're really here for you today and better than we make them in the telling. 100 pieces Lyons printed Foulards—80 pieces India Silks—300 pieces Taffeta Broches.

At 24c today.

New and exclusive designs in navy and black, black and white, cardinal and white—in fact every proper coloring with white figures—24c a yard.

And we've other silk values just as profitable to the purchaser, though they cost more.

BLACK SILKS—

Black Figured Gros Grains that we've always sold at $1.00 and $1.50 are marked for selling $1.00 and 69c—the patterns are exceptionally pretty.

Summer Weight, Lyons dyed Black Japanese Silks—27 inches wide—commence at 39c, and at 50c, 75c, and $1.00 are qualities that will bear a most careful comparison.

Imported Black Surah Silks—the kind that wears best—3 rich lustrous qualities—50c, 75c, and $1.00.

COLORED SILKS—

2,500 yards of Faconne Silk Taffetas in newest designs and colors will be offered Monday at 50c, which is about half the usual retail value.

Colored Silk Grenadines in alluring assortment, colors and styles—$1.00.

Changeable Taffeta Silks in the bright color combinations so much used for grenadine linings—75c.

A SPECIAL SELLING of Figured Taffeta Silks—hundreds of pieces which we bought in one lot—values are better than we've been able to give you thus far—60c, 75c, 85c, $1.00 and $1.25.

And a special assortment of printed Foulards—both foreign and domestic, twilled and plain—figures, dots and stripes in immense variety—at 49c, 75c and higher.

MILLERS BEAT BROWNS.

VICTORY AFFORDS SOME "LINE" ON STRENGTH OF ANSON'S MEN.

Western-Leaguers Have No Trouble in Batting Esper, While Carney Worries Von der Ahe's Men—Louisville Defeats Milwaukee in a Cold Game by a Score of 4 to 2—The Colts Are Kept Indoors by a Frigid Wave at Kansas City.

St. Louis, Mo., April 6.—[Special.]—The Browns met defeat at the hands of the Minneapolis team of the Western League today. The Millers came direct from a month's training at Hot Springs, and are in the pink of condition. They played with much vim, and took the poor, stiffened Browns completely by surprise, winning easily by the score of 10 to 4. The local players could not bat Carney effectively, while the Millers found Esper easy for the first five innings, when he gave way to Evans. The youngster did much better. The score

MILWAUKEES LOSE IN LOUISVILLE.

Make but Four Hits Off the Colonels' Twirlers—Weather Cold and Errors Frequent.

Louisville, Ky., April 6.—[Special.]—Four hundred people shivered today while Louisville and Milwaukee players, with benumbed fingers, tried to play baseball. Under orders none of the players let their arms out, and errors were common. The pitching, however, was exceedingly effective. Score:

Rockford, 14; University of Illinois, 6.

Champaign, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—Rockford won the second game of the series with the University of Illinois on Illinois field this afternoon. The game was not as close as that of yesterday, but was far better.

Both teams presented a different makeup, Rockford profiting considerably by the change. The fielding of both was greatly improved, but they batted weakly. Both Carpenter and Seeley, who pitched for Illinois, were wild, giving bases on balls and hitting batters freely. Their support, however, was fine, especially at critical times. The score:

Kansas City, 6; St. Joseph, 3.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 6.—The Kansas City Blues had to fight hard for every score made today, but they finally won out. It was the prettiest game of ball that has been seen here in several years. The Blues were smarting under the defeat of the day before. There was the best kind of stick and field work. Kimlock, for the home team, distinguished himself at the bat. The weather was chilly and attendance not up to expectations. Score by innings:

St. Joe 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 2—3

Hits—Kansas City, 9; St. Joseph, 6. Errors—Kansas City, 3; St. Joseph, 2. Batteries—St. Joseph, Colburn, Risley, Warner, and Woods; Kansas City—Johnson and Blanford.

Indianapolis, 2; Dayton, 0.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—[Special.]—Manager Watkins' team again defeated Dayton today in a game that would have been a credit for midsummer. The score was 2 to 0. Hits, 6 to 2, and errors, 1 to 3, in favor of Indianapolis. The ex-champions have made only two errors since the practice season began. Jackson of the Chicago City League has played each game and shows wonderful hitting qualities. Watkins says if he can keep up until the regular season opens there will be a place for him, even if some one has to be dropped. His two-bagger today was responsible for the only runs scored. Gear and Kellum pitched for Indianapolis and Michael and Rosebrough for Dayton.

Columbus, 11; Page Fence Giants, 6.

Columbus, O., April 6.—[Special.]—The Columbus Western League team defeated the Page Fence Giants for the third consecutive time this afternoon by the score of 11 to 6. Hits—Columbus, 9; Page Fence Giants, 3. Batteries—For Columbus, Streit, Daniels, Dinsmore, and Fisher; for Page Fence Giants Miller and Burns. The last of the Columbus players reported today and the team will now get ready for the championship season.

Grand Rapids, 22; Saginaw, 1.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 6.—[Special.]—The Grand Rapids team played an exhibition game with the Saginaw Inter-State League club at Recreation Park this afternoon before about 100 spectators, the home team winning, 22 to 1. The Saginaw club had not practiced together, three of their players having joined the club here today.

COLTS REST DURING THE BLIZZARD.

Freezing Weather Keeps Anson's Players Off the Field in Kansas City—"Old Man" at Leavenworth.

Kansas City, Mo., April 6.—[Special.]—Today was a day of rest for the Colts. Anson was away at Leavenworth, and the freezing weather forbade practice. Only a few of the men worked at all, the rest playing handball or loafing. Tomorrow the Colts again cross bats with Manning's men.

Has Strong Faith in the Baltimores.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 6.—[Special.]—A stock broker named Smathers has wagered $1,000 with a hotel man named Bayley that he cannot name four clubs, any one of which will beat out the Baltimores. Bayley is said to have named Cleveland, Chicago, Cincinnati, and Boston.

Des Moines Players Getting Ready.

Des Moines, Ia., April 6.—[Special.]—The Des Moines league club commenced practice today in earnest. All the men except Mauck, Burke, and Kerr have reported. The first public game will be played on Saturday between Des Moines and the Drake University.

Burlington Players Report.

Burlington, Ia., April 5.—[Special.]—These players reported tonight: Bryant, first base; Ellis, McCann, Hartsell, outfield; Thompson, Kneupper, Ketson, pitchers; Williams, utility. Manager Berryhill is laid up in the hospital with tonsilitis.

Diamond Drift.

White, the young St. Louis pitcher who disappeared from Von der Ahe's care so suddenly and mysteriously, has turned up at his home in Albany, N. Y., threatened with typhoid fever.

There will be a big parade in advance of the opening championship game in Baltimore. The committee in charge of the arrangements consists of Gen. A. E. Booth, Police Commissioner Johnson, and Capt. Louis Schneeburger. One hundred leading citizens will act as escort to the players.

Manager Schmelz's forecast of the first sextet in the championship race is: Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati, and Washington. "I do not place these clubs in the order I think they will finish. I merely give the names of the first sextet," is the proviso that goes with his prediction.

Manager Joyce announces that the real find that the Giants have made this year is Gettig. The youngster, it is claimed, can bat well and play any infield or outfield position like a veteran, while his pitching pleases all the Giants. He has a deceptive slow ball. In expressing his opinion on the league race Joyce says he thinks Baltimore will not win; that her "phenomenal luck will surely end." He alludes to Boston and then says, "Look out for Chicago!"

CHADWICK'S PHENOMENAL RECORD.

Big Yale Guard Surpasses the "Strong Man" Test Recently Made by Lovering, the Harvard Giant.

According to a New Haven dispatch in the New York Sun Charles Chadwick, Yale's well known football guard, has beaten the "strong-man" record recently made by Lovering, the Harvard champion. His total is 1,638 to Lovering's 1,625. Chadwick excels Lovering in all points except the back, in which he is slightly inferior. Chadwick's lift of 1,854 pounds, dead weight, is far above Lovering's.

Chadwick "chinned" himself sixteen and "dipped" nineteen times. At the time of the test Chadwick weighed 192 pounds, forty-two pounds more than Lovering. Although Lovering has forty "chins" and seventeen "dips" to his credit, Chadwick's increased weight makes up in part the former's advantage in the events, which would be otherwise considerable. The following is a comparison of the measures of the two men in centimeters:

| | Chadwick. | Lovering. |
|---|---|---|
| Girth of chest | 98.5; 93 | 102.5; 102 |
| Girth of waist | 86 | 72 |
| Girth of hips | 99.5 | 89 |
| Girth of thigh, right | 61.5 | 53.5 |
| Girth of thigh, left | 60.4 | 52 |
| Girth of calf, right | 40 | 36.5 |
| Girth of calf, left | 39.5 | 36.5 |
| Girth of upper arm, right | 35.7 | 36 |
| Girth of upper arm, left | 34.6 | 33 |
| Girth of forearm, right | 30.5 | 30 |
| Girth of forearm, left | 29.7 | 28.5 |

The relative strength of the two men in kilograms is as follows:

Strength of back, Chadwick, 279; Lovering, 410; of legs, Chadwick, 843; Lovering, 665; of chest and upper arms, Chadwick, 305; Lovering, 383; of right forearm, Chadwick, 113; Lovering, 85; of left forearm, Chadwick, 98; Lovering, 80; total, Chadwick, 1,638; Lovering, 1,623.

ARMOUR'S ATHLETIC YOUNG WOMEN.

They Plunge Into Basket Ball with Reckless Disregard for Safety—Rivalry to Be on the First Team.

The young women of the domestic arts department of Armour Institute have turned to athletics and under the tutelage of D. A. Bloomingston are showing considerable skill, especially at basket ball. For a month he has been training them, and, although enough proficiency has not been shown as yet to entitle them to a seat at the training table or a position on the track teams, it is thought the young ladies are competent to hold their own at basket ball.

The girls play the game with a reckless dash that almost courts disaster, but the rivalry is so great for a position on the first team that safety is utterly disregarded. It is proposed to form several teams and arrange a schedule of games. Among the most interested are: Misses Ashby, Coleman, Leila Coleman, Parmelee, Gerbury, Gunsaulus, Rockener, Veech, Fairman, Vreeland, Greenebaum, Hart, Avery, and Muehlman.

PROPOSE A DUAL MEET WITH BELOIT

Armour Institute Track Candidates Are Exercised Over the Prospect of Interesting Competitions.

Arrangements are nearly completed for a dual athletic meet between Armour Institute and Beloit College, which in all probability will be held the latter part of May at the old Thirty-fifth street grounds. A program of sixteen events is proposed. This is the initial effort of the Armours to bag big game, and the candidates are training hard for the event. The gymnasium does not afford the desired space, but the Bankers' field will be at the Institute's disposal when the weather is propitious for outdoor work.

M'LAUGHLIN OUTPLAYS GALLAGHER.

"Gray Tom" Playing Badly in the Billiard Tournament—Has Won but One Game, with Three Defeats.

Edward McLaughlin last night defeated T. J. Gallagher in the shortstop billiard tournament, 400 to 296, and scored his highest average, 17 9-23. Gallagher, through defeats by Matthews and McLaughlin, has furnished the only salvation for the short-end players, as of the other fourteen games thus far played the entire lot have fallen to the favorite. "Gray Tom" has simply had the misfortune to fall up against two inferior players at a time when they were outplaying themselves.

Last night, however, he played poorly and made no less than five miscues. At least, that is what the defective strokes appeared to be, but some uncharitable critics cried "glass arm." Neither McLaughlin nor Gallagher has made 100 at a single break during the tourney, and in this respect they are exceptions to the balance of the players. "Mac" stopped at 99 by the miss of a simple kiss shot, which, effected, had left the balls on the end anchor.

There was the smallest attendance of the tourney. Magnus, the old-time three-cushion expert, and several others being present.

The score follows:

McLaughlin—2, 34, 5, 21, 5, 19, 0, 71, 11, 1, 3, 50, 2, 2, 99, 10, 0, 3, 23, 15, 1, 0, 23. Total, 400. Average, 17 9-23. High run, 99.

Gallagher—0, 11, 14, 2, 2, 20, 26, 2, 39, 35, 7, 9, 0, 6, 44, 3, 0, 0, 45, 6, 0, 21, 4. Total, 296. Average, 12 20-23. High run, 44.

This afternoon, Gallagher vs. Sutton. Tonight, Maggioli vs. Catton. With five games to play, the tournament stands as follows:

Spinks won 4, lost 0; Catton won 4, lost 1; Sutton won 2, lost 2; McLaughlin won 3, lost 2; Gallagher won 1, lost 3; Maggioli won 1, lost 3; Matthews won 1, lost 5.

Other than today's games there are yet to be contested: Sutton vs. Maggioli, Spinks vs. Gallagher, and Spinks vs. McLaughlin.

Grand averages are: Sutton, 19 56-100; Spinks, 15 53-100; Gallagher, 15 75-100; Catton, 17 52-100; McLaughlin, 12 66-100; Maggioli, 11 1-10; Matthews, 9 86-100.

FRANK IVES' CONDITION IMPROVING.

Billiard Champion Wires The Tribune He Is Doing Well in the Climate of the Adirondacks.

There has been much gossip in billiard circles of late as to the condition of the billiard champion, Frank C. Ives, who left New York a short time ago for the Adirondack Mountains. The following telegram from Ives to the sporting editor of The Tribune explains the condition of the champion:

"Saranac Lake, N. Y., April 6.—I have had a slight trouble with the lungs which is rapidly yielding to the beneficent influence of the Adirondack climate. My condition has steadily improved and I expect by the fall to be again in my billiard-room at Forty-second street and Broadway. I have gained twelve pounds in the last two months and have lost none of my old-time skill, running 600 last night at fourteen-inch balk-line from the spot.
"FRANK C. IVES."

L. A. W. TO CONTROL ROAD RACING.

Chairman Mott Makes an Important Decision—Must Not Ride with Professionals and Expelled Men.

Baltimore, Md., April 6.—Chairman Albert Mott of the L. A. W. Racing Board made an important ruling today in connection with road racing, which virtually brings that class of cycle events under the control of the L. A. W., which now has an agreement with the Century Road club looking to the better management of the sport. The ruling was brought out by a road race which the Clifton Wheelmen of this city had proposed to hold on Easter Monday.

Among the entries were six professionals, a man under suspension for two years, and a score of amateurs. Upon seeing the list Mr. Mott wrote to the club saying that the suspended man and the professionals must be excluded or else the amateurs would incur the penalty provided for racing against professionals. This same ruling, Mr. Mott declares, will hold good in connection with all road races and will have the effect of hereafter dividing such contests into professional and amateur events.

SOUTHERN CIRCUIT BICYCLE RACES.

Weinig, Keith, and Starbuck Win the Finals on the Closing Night at Nashville—Close Finishes.

Nashville, Tenn., April 6.—The closing night of the southern circuit bicycle meet drew a good attendance to the Coliseum tonight. Many of the heats were neck and neck races, though no records were broken. The finals resulted as follows:

One mile, open, professional—Al Weinig, Buffalo, won by half a length; Al Newhouse, Buffalo, second; C. B. Jack, Philadelphia, third. Time, 2:21 1-5. Bob Walthour, H. B. Stevenson, and Frank Starbuck also rode.

One mile, open, amateur—Jim Keith won by a length and a half; W. P. Lowe, second; Dixie Gordon, third. Time, 2:27 3-5. Lewis Rhea and Louis Smith also rode.

One mile, consolation, professional—Frank Starbuck, Philadelphia, won by one length; J. J. Decker, second; C. D. Carpenter, third. Time, 2:18. Louis Dorris, Tom Eddy, Gilbert Logue, and Preston Barry also rode.

The riders go from here to Chattanooga.

THEIR ANNUAL RIDE TO CINCINNATI.

Chicago Cycling Club Men Set May 1 as the Date of the Popular Trip—Party to Be Limited to Fifty.

The Chicago Cycling club will take its annual trip to Cincinnati May 1. The riders will leave Chicago on Saturday night over the Monon, going directly to Hamilton. From there they will ride to Cincinnati on Sunday forenoon, returning to Chicago on Sunday night. This trip has been one of the most attractive features of the club schedule of events for the last two or three years, and it has grown to such an important position in cycling club events it has become necessary to limit the number in the party, as it threatens to prove too much for the hosts of the visiting club, the Cincinnati Cycling club. Fifty has been placed as the limit.

May Allen Gets a Bad Fall.

Detroit, Mich., April 6.—May Allen had a rather bad fall caused by her pedal striking the track at a turn in the six-day bicycle race tonight. She lost half a dozen laps by the accident, but was allowed enough partly to recover lost ground. Score tonight after four hours' riding: Farnsworth, Anderson, and Baldwin, 89 miles and 8 laps; Allen, 89 miles 5 laps; Gabie, 87 miles 3 laps; Bartlett, 61 miles 3 laps.

FOR RACING AT FORSYTH.

HORSES TRAINING TO WIN PURSES AT INDIANA TRACK NEXT WEEK.

B. J. Johnson's, Foster's, Roller's, Cushing's, and Brenock's Strings Are Said to Be Well Along in Their Preliminary Work—Some Fast Two-Year-Olds Are Seen—Results on the Newport, Oakland, and Little Rock Tracks—Other News of the Turf.

Tomorrow the Wylie bill comes up for reconsideration in the Wisconsin Senate, and those interested in the Ideal Park track hope to see the measure referred to some committee where it will perish. It is thought that if racing is prohibited in Wisconsin the second and third sections of the racing period in Indiana will see very poor sport. The idea is that horsemen will not lie idle thirty days in summer time in order to race fifteen; neither will they ship to the Hoosier tracks from a distance for such a short period of purse-offerings.

In the meanwhile, however, a large number of the horses is already at the Indiana tracks and the management anticipates lively sport for the meeting at Forsyth, beginning April 15.

R. H. Wells has the course and buildings in good shape and fast time considering a three-quarter-mile track may be made. The trainers are busy and some fast trials are reported in the morning work. Those who have wintered at the track have shown the best work so far and a half mile trial in :51 is claimed.

Stable Consignments at Forsyth.

Stable room has been assigned to the following: B. J. Johnson, 31 head; Foster Bros., 21; J. E. Cushing, 18; Cella & Sippy, 8; J. De Long, 10; L. A. Legg, 5; John Wilson, 8; C. A. Freudenberg, 8; David Waldo and Tom Hurns, 22; J. J. Hambrick, 8; Eberhart Bros., 3; Tony Licalzi, 14; C. P. Fink, 4; Jim Head, 12; J. M. Stewart, 8; W. H. Roller, 12; Ruddy Bros., 15; Sid Regan, 9; T. D. Carter, 10; C. C. O'Fallon, 6; McCluer & Jones, 6; Steele & Macy, 9; John Brenock, 15; Al Hankins, 6; E. Brewster, 5. In addition to these there are many owners whose stable embraces only a horse or two.

All those are now at the track except the strings of Steele & Macy, C. C. O'Fallon, and Cella & Sippy. They will arrive tomorrow.

B. J. Johnson, Foster Bros., Cella & Sippy, J. E. Cushing, W. H. Roller, and John Brenock have the best timber at the track and are looked to furnish winners, especially in the early days. Their horses are well seasoned, and a repetition of last year may be expected. The horses that received their "prep" in Indiana figured prominently last year, although outclassed by their opponents. Much is expected from the Johnson stable. The 2-year-old division is particularly strong. Candle Black, a chestnut colt by Candlemus—Tulla Blackburn, is the flower of the bunch. He is a well turned chap and moves as if he was the making of a good one. Chenier, a full brother of Jacobin, and Evasive, coming from the same house as Rudolph, are fine lookers and in their gallops show well. Rudolph, Diggs, Sutton, Evanatus, and Loudon will sport the colors in the elder division.

Fred Foster's Strong Lot.

Dorian, Counter Tenor, Gotham, Abuse, Dr. Rice, Glenmoyne, Dr. Shepherd, Confession, and old Sullross make a company that should capture a good share of the first money for Foster Bros. Johnny McCafferty, it is said, will send six 2-year-olds from Morris Park that are good enough to stretch the neck of almost any man's horse. J. E. Cushing of Boundless fame will look to Pinkey Potter, Sunburst, and Miss Hoy for winners. He has a few youngsters by Harry O'Fallon and Bramble who have not yet shown their mettle. Asignee, Simmons, and Merry Monarch are the main reliance of Cella & Sippy, although Whirlaway, a maiden until last Monday, may make a first-class racehorse. This colt last year was overgrown and couldn't get himself well in motion until it was about time to hang out the winner's number. He won in fair company on Monday, which indicates that he is rounding to.

GETS A WINNING BRACKET AT LAST.

Parson, Who Started in the Kentucky Derby Last Year, Captures His First Purse at Newport.

Cincinnati, O., April 6.—[Special.]—Interest in racing here seems to be picking up, as indicated by the attendance today, a fair crowd being out despite the fact that the card was cheap and the weather decidedly too cool for comfort. Nine books had a good play. Favorites were beaten in four of the races.

The only top choice to win was Parson, who after many trials since he was sent down to Louisville last spring with designs on the Kentucky Derby broke from the maiden ranks. He and Toots were equal favorites and the rank outsider Liberati put up a lively finish for the money. Toots with a competent rider would have won. Corner kept her in the strip of bad going next the rail all through the stretch.

The same boy rode Volzetti in the scramble for 2-year-olds and she ran an impressive race, coming from last place the final furlong and finishing second to Baker & Gentry's Fonso—Flower Dellis colt Nekarius, who, however, won easily.

Newport Summaries, April 6.

Weather cloudy and cool. Track fast.

First race, 7½ furlongs:

Time, 1:17½. Impecunious, 102; Clara Jewel, 100; Resque, 102; and Cotton Queen, 100, finished as named.

Start good. Won handily. Place driving. With intelligent riding Plutarch would have won. Impecunious taken wide on stretch turn. Julius Marks slow to get in motion.

Third race, 2-year-olds, ⅝ mile:

| Btg. | Horse, weight, jockey. | St. | ½ | ¾ | Str | Fn. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 13—5 | Nekarius, 108 (C. Reiff) | 2 | 41 | 31 | 1½ | 12 |
| 15—1 | Volzetti, 110 (Corner) | 7 | 7 | 7 | 5½ | 23 |
| 15—1 | Skiliman, 105 (Beauchamp) | 3 | 21 | 1h | 2½ | 32 |

Time, 1:04¼. Ruiz, 102; Camperdown, 110; Auriferous, 105; and Albert L., 105, also ran as named. Post ten minutes. Start good. Won easily. Place handily. Albert L. ran well for four furlongs. Ruiz and Skiliman ran short. Volzetti's race an impressive one.

Fourth race, maiden 3-year-olds, ¾ mile, selling:

| Btg. | Horse, weight, jockey. | St. | ½ | ¾ | Str | Fn. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 5—1 | Argus, 105 (C. Reiff) | 3 | 3½ | 32 | 32 | 1h |
| 2—1 | Three Bars, 107 (J. Perkins) | 1 | 1h | 1h | 1h | 2h |
| 8—5 | Elgitha, 103 (Scherrer) | 2 | 22 | 22 | 21 | 32 |

Time, 1:15¾. Booker Burns, 102 pounds; Lovejoy, 102; Miss Alice, 105; and Invitation, 100, finished as named. Start good. Won first three driving hard. Three Bars and Elgitha raced each other into the ground. Booker Burns ran an excellent race.

Fifth race, 4-year-olds and upward, 1 mile, selling:

| Btg. | Horse, weight, jockey. | St. | ½ | ¾ | Str | Fn. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 5—2 | Parsons, 109 (Perkins) | 3 | 2h | 1½ | 12 | 1½ |
| 5—2 | Toots, 104 (Corner) | 1 | 5h | 3h | 4½ | 2h |
| 30—1 | Liberati, 94 (Chenault) | 4 | 4½ | 5 | 2h | 31 |

ALVARADO'S VICTORY AT OAKLAND.

Hildreth's Gelding Makes a Show of His Field, Including Perseus, the 8 to 5 Favorite—Other Races.

San Francisco, Cal., April 6.—The races today at Oakland were run over a comparatively slow track. Nevertheless, Alvarado ran seven furlongs in 1:30 flat, making a show of his field, which included the 8 to 5 favorite Perseus.

Rosormonde's victory was an event in turf circles, as it was the first descendant of the high-priced Ormonde, bred on American soil, to land first money.

Oakland Summaries April 6.

Weather fine; track fast.

First race, 7-16 mile, 2-year-old maidens:

SMALL CROWD AT "BENEFIT" RACES.

Little Rock's Extra Card, to Help the Flood Sufferers, Draws Only 400 People—Close Finishes.

Little Rock, Ark., April 6.—[Special.]—The Little Rock Jockey club closed its sixth annual meeting here today with a benefit for the flood sufferers. Less than 400 people were in attendance, and a card of five races was run.

J. A. Gray should have won the first race, but Morrison, who had the mount, was caught napping, and Dr. G., at 10 to 1 in the betting, won by a neck. In the second race King Elm had everything his own way from the start, and won galloping. The McGuigan entry, Mordica I., captured the third race in a drive, with a pretty finish between Merry Glen and Vernon K. for the place, the former getting it. In the fourth race Simmons started off in the lead, and at the quarter had increased it to two lengths. This was maintained without any effort. The fifth was a pretty finish between Mike Haverly and Lady Dorothy, the favorite. Haverly should have won, as he kept the lead from the start, and was not ridden out. Dorothy got the verdict by a short neck.

First race, 6 furlongs—Dr. G., 106 pounds [Morgan], 8 to 1, won; J. A. Grey, 108 [Morrison], 1 to 2, second; Foncliff, 100 [Weaver], 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:17. Joe O' Sot also ran.

Second race, 5 furlongs—King Elm, 114 pounds [Huey], 2 to 5, won; Bravo, 108 [Morgan], 5 to 1, second; Dunmore, 87 [Weaver], 3 to 2, third. Time, 1:04. Marchie D. also ran.

Third race, 4 furlongs—Mordecai, 103 pounds [Morrison], 1 to 2, won; Merry Glen, 100 [Mills], 5 to 1, second; Vernon K., 105 [Cleary], 5 to 1, third. Time, :51. Lady Barak also ran.

Fourth race, 7 furlongs—Simmons, 105 pounds [Morgan], 2 to 5, won; Queen Safie, 95 [O. Mortin], 7 to 1, second; Moncreith, 100 [Morrison], 3 to 2, third. Time, 1:31. Metarre and Mereury also ran.

Fifth race, 4 furlongs—Lady Dorothy, 103 pounds [Morrison], 1 to 4, won; Mike Haverly, 103 [Hinkey], 5 to 2, second; La Champagne, 103 [Mills], 15 to 1, third. Time, :50½. L'Antelope also ran.

Weights in the $10,000 Burns Handicap

San Francisco, Cal., April 6.—The Burns Handicap, value $10,000, at a mile and a quarter, will be decided next Saturday at the Oakland track. Handicapper Brooks announces the weights as follows:

Damien, 122 pounds; Mount McGregor III., Captive, Victor, Salvation, Libertine, Don Carillo, 120; Cash Day, St. Lee, 118; Wheel of Fortune, Ramiro, 117; Ruinart, 116; Sister Mary, Rey Del Bandidos, 115; Schiller, 113; Lucky Dog, Installator, Argentina, 112; Sweet Favordale, Cæsarian, Redskin, Yankee Doodle, Cabrillo, 110; Semper Lex, 108; Lobengula, Won't Dance, Sir Play, All Over, 107; Strathmeath, Judge Denny, Can't Dance, Applause, Service, 106; Nebuchednezzar, Peter II., Fortuna, The Roman, 105; Marcel, Foremost, 104; Salisbury II., Walter J. Grady, Lovdel, Senator Gardy, Good Times, Candelaria, 102; Altamax, 100; Casper, Aquinas, 99; Indio, Arnette, 98; Hohenzollern, Osric II., Vinctor, Trappean, Instigator, Abalanzor, 95; Arezzo, 94; Hard Tack, Abe Morris, 93; Joe Ullman, Una Colorado, 92; Gen. Arthur, Nellie R., Tortini, Zylpha, 90.

Small Prices Are Realized.

Lexington, Ky., April 6.—[Special.]—The Woodard & Shanklin spring sale of trotters began today with a small crowd of buyers and with rather slow bidding. Eastern buyers were not numerous. Among the most prominent were A. H. Morrill, Boston; E. D. Pendleton, Baltimore; John Splan, Cleveland; L. L. Dorsey and Scott Newman, Louisville; J. W. Bird, Xenia, O.; O. P. Crosby, Kansas City, Mo.; John Reamer, Philadelphia; A. T. Jackson, Terre Haute; and L. V. Harkness, New York City.

Twenty-nine head brought $4,985, an average of $63. The stock of the late Col. R. R. Todhunter formed the principal consignment. Best sales:

Galena, 2:14¼, blk. m., 6, by Black Wilkes, 2:28¾, dam by Alexander H., Sherman P. Crosby, Kansas City, $385.

C. F. Clay, 2:18, b. s., 16, by Caliban, dam by Strathmore, S. M. Barbee, Millersburg, $400.

Pizarro, blk. m., 6, by Don Pizarro, 2:14¾, dam by Red Wilkes, Ernest Featherstone, Lexington, $300.

Nettie Patchen, b. m., 12, Mambrino Patchen, dam by Clark Chief, H. A. Bell, Louisville, $200.

Bennett Did Not Buy Britannia.

London, April 6.—The report circulated by the Exchange Telegraph company yesterday that James Gordon Bennett, proprietor of the New York Herald, had purchased the Prince of Wales' racing cutter Britannia is entirely without foundation.

Jockey Todd Sloan Coming East.

San Francisco, Cal., April 6.—Todd and Cash Sloan left last night for New York. They will probably ride at the Washington meeting. "Tom" Griffin ships tomorrow for Latonia. Mr. Benson will take David in the same car.

Turf Notes.

Garrison is in training and has reduced his weight to 125 pounds.

Sir Walter is reported as galloping well and Clifford as not doing well. Much in a commendatory way is being said of the work of The Winner.

Gen. Maceo, by Meddler, the pride of "Father Bill" Daly's 2-year-old string, threatens to be a confirmed "bolter," as he nearly always runs out when being given earnest work.

Orestes, the much-talked-of Ormonde colt that was a disappointment last year in California, is said to be doing great work at Sheepshead Bay under Matt Allen's charge.

McCafferty has given the name Kitefoot to his promising 2-year-old sister to Wingfoot. Another promising 2-year-old that he has is Henchman, half-brother to Dr. Shepard, now owned by Fred Foster.

Tommy Griffin once rode a horse named Lee S. at Gloucester, and during the race fell off when he had a good chance to win. He declared himself an incompetent jockey and started training horses.

The first installment of sporting men has reached Chicago from New Orleans. There was a full sleeping car load, the principal passengers being: Dan Hogan, George Wilde, Dave Wright, W. H. Roller, and Jockey Barrett. The latter lost $100 out of his pocket on the way up.

Supt. Brush of the Gravesend track has posted a notice that bad-acting horses and "green" boys will not be allowed on the course during the busy hours of the day. Here is a tip for all superintendents of race tracks which followed will save many broken bones for jockey and horse.

A New Bicycle Brake.

A wonderful little brake is on exhibition at the salesrooms of the Duquesne Special, Chicago Stock Exchange Building. Back pedaling sets it—front pedaling releases it—if the chain parts the brake instantly takes hold. It can be locked out of action by a turn of a screw, and is invisible save a small nickel disc on the rear hub. The greatest improvement since the advent of the pneumatic tire. 104 La Salle street. On exhibition daily.

REPORT THAT CORBETT WILL CHALLENGE CHAMPION IN CHICAGO.

Friend Claims to Know That the Californian Will Appear on the Stage Where His Rival Is Scheduled to Give a Show on Friday Night—Referee Siler Irritated Over Stories About the Recent Fight—List of the Amateurs Who Will Box at C. A. A.

Chicago sporting men may see Corbett and Fitzsimmons on the same stage at Battery D on Friday night. The fact that Fitzsimmons is to appear on that occasion and give an exhibiton of the blow that almost killed Corbett has been generally advertised. Ever since Fitzsimmons left the Western coast it has been reported that Corbett was trailing in his tracks, his plan being, it is alleged, to force Fitz to give him a return battle. It is now claimed that Corbett has told a friend in this city that he will be here on Friday night in order to challenge his conqueror publicly, and that in order to do so he will visit the Battery. If this program should be carried out it might prove much more interesting even than the select exhibition of knockout drops which Fitz is on the program to make. According to announcement Fitzsimmons is to show every one of the decisive blows he has landed from the time he whipped "Billy" McCarthy down to the heart drive that settled Corbett. It is supposed that the blow which killed Con Riordan will be included in the list.

Fitzsimmons may reach Chicago today.

Stories That Distress Referee Siler.

Referee Siler is more or less worried over the many queer stories that have grown out of the recent Carson fight. Whenever some sporting man is quoted as saying something indicating that he thinks the timing was not quite accurate, or that there was some other mistake at the time of the big battle, the referee becomes apprehensive lest these stories will be credited, and indignant that they should be circulated.

Yesterday a friend assured him that nobody gave any credence to these stories. "There are always some soreheads and disappointed ones after every battle," the friend explained.

"Yes, but the trouble is that these stories are read by thousands of people," replied Siler, "and my own answer to them is made only to a few who happen to speak to me on the subject. If they are kept up I shall issue a long statement soon covering all these complaints. Whatever I say will be borne out by the kinetoscope pictures, as well as by those who were there."

"What about the story from New York that the pictures are ruined?"

"I know nothing about it."

Saturday's C. A. A. Boxing Bouts.

The official list of entries to the boxing bouts to be held at the Chicago Athletic Association gymnasium on Saturday night is announced by Manager Stone as follows:

105-pound class—Struch vs. Daily; Rauch vs. Forbes.
115-pound class—Pettet vs. O'Leary.
125-pound class—Locks vs. Carroll; Queenan vs. Prangle.
135-pound class—Kerwin vs. Boers; Sieloff vs. Sullivan.
145-pound class—Douglass vs. Hott.

ROTCHFORD AND BRODERICK DRAW.

Chicago Boxer Does Most of the Leading in the Match at Hartford, but Is Accused of Foul Fighting.

Hartford, Conn., April 6.—[Special.]—Two thousand men tonight witnessed at the Auditorium a very clever bout between Billy Rotchford of Chicago, bantam champion of the West, and Patsy Broderick of Providence. It was a fifteen-round affair, well fought out, and was declared a draw.

Broderick was to have fought Mike Sears of Boston, but the latter had an arm injured last week. Rotchford fouled Broderick a half dozen times, striking him below the belt at least four times. He had the advantage of height and reach, and Broderick was on the defensive the greater part of the time. He was very clever in dodging and he showed much ability as a sprinter. Occasionally he would land a good one, and Rotchford was chary of mixing up. Towards the latter part of the contest Broderick was rattled by a mistake of his seconds. He was given some ammonia, when it was intended to give him something else. He jumped up in the air and started to leave the stage, not knowing what he was doing. He quickly recovered. Both men were in good condition at the end.

Jerry Regan of Worcester was referee and T. W. Faby timekeeper.

WANTS THE 126-POUND CHAMPIONSHIP

Tommy White Is Anxious for a Series of Matches to Be Arranged Among the Boxers of That Class.

Inasmuch as George Dixon, the featherweight champion, has announced that he will not fight again at over 122 pounds, there is much talk about arranging a series of matches to determine the 126-pound championship, there being a number of men able to make that weight, but unable to reach 122 pounds, the featherweight limit. Tommy White is particularly anxious to see the scheme carried out. He says that if he defeats Eddie Cuny he will be prepared to defend or earn the 126-pound championship, and will make matches with Frank Erne, Spike Sullivan, Jack Downey, Billy O'Donnell, or any one else.

Martin Dowling is White's backer.

To Match Creedon and McCoy.

San Francisco, Cal., April 6.—The Olympic Athletic club is in communication with Dan Creedon and "Kid" McCoy with a view to making a match between these two men. The fight, if it is arranged, will be brought off in San Francisco, and will be for twenty round for a purse of $5,000 and $500 training expenses for each man. Creedon is willing to accept the terms proposed. McCoy is now on his way to America.

Sharkey Boxes "Jim" Williams.

Salt Lake, Utah, April 6.—Thomas Sharkey and "Jim" Williams, champion of Utah, gave an eight-round exhibition here to a large crowd. No decision was given, it being but a friendly bout. Sharkey has left for the East, where he is matched to fight Peter Maher on May 31.

Butler Was Overweight.

Albany, N. Y., April 6.—[Special.]—The advertised fight between Tommy Butler and Jimmy Dime here tonight did not take place because Butler was eight pounds over weight.

Pugilistic Briefs.

Kid McCoy is expected to reach America Saturday.

"Parson" Davies is trying to get the National Sporting club of London to bring off a match during Derby week between Jimmy Barry and Pedlar Palmer.

Dal Hawkins expects to come East soon in hunt of a match. His decisive victory over Flaherty at Carson will make him a good card for the New York clubs.

News of Young Griffo comes these days by way of the Jail Warder. The tough little Australian is in limbo and his term will not expire until June. It is said Billy Madden will take him in charge on his release.

Dan Creedon had difficulty in reaching 165 pounds to meet Charley Strong, so that his friends are wondering how he will make 162 pounds without weakening himself in order to meet the terms of his match with Joe Choynski.

APPOINT COMMITTEES TOMORROW.

Plans for the Approaching Military Carnival at the Coliseum—Many High Schools to Participate.

The Executive committee of the Coliseum military carnival will meet tomorrow afternoon and appoint committees and officers for the tournament. Col. Hemburger, the originator of the carnival, is elated over the prospects, and says several times more athletes will participate than ever engaged in competition before. The members of the Chicago Athletic Association are showing increased interest in the project.

Dr. Pingree is authority for the statement that every high school in the Interscholastic Preparatory League of Illinois, with two exceptions, will send candidates. The members of the Athletic and Cycle club of the First Regiment, under Manager Hughes, are making preparations to go into training immediately, and all local branches of the Young Men's Christian Association will have teams in the field.

Fearing Defeats Degarmendia.

FIGHTER PAT NORTON FOUND DEAD.

Pugilist of the Early Days Dies of Heart Failure in a Bath Establishment.

Patrick Norton, an ex-prize fighter and trainer, was found dead yesterday afternoon on a couch in the McCoy Hotel bath establishment.

Death is attributed to heart failure. Norton had been a sufferer for several months from chronic pleurisy and up to a few days ago had been at the County Hospital.

The body was found by Michael Horey, one of the proprietors of the bath-rooms.

Norton was 50 years old. He had made a reputation as a fighter, and it was his boast that nine years ago he stood off Jack Dempsey for six rounds at St. Paul, Minn. He was born in Longford, Ireland, and entered the ring in England when fighters met with bare fists. He had been in Chicago for ten years.

GEN. BROOKE IS COMING THIS WEEK.

Successor of Gen. Merritt at Fort Sheridan Gets His Orders from the War Department.

Gen. John R. Brooke, who succeeds Gen. Merritt in command of the Department of the Missouri, with headquarters at Fort Sheridan, is expected in Chicago on Friday or Saturday.

Gen. Brooke will come directly from St. Paul, where he has been in command of the Department of Dakota.

Official orders from the War Department were received by Gen. Brooke yesterday.

A WONDERFUL CHANGE.

Interesting.

About two years ago I was attacked by a skin disease which appeared on my hands, arms, feet, and legs in the form of pimples and sores, producing a most intense and unbearable sensation of itching and burning, which was aggravated by my constant and desperate efforts at relief, and it seemed not one minute's rest could I get. Besides this, my skin wore a most unsightly appearance, and large quantities of white fluid, looking not unlike water, would ooze from the pimples and stand out like large drops of sweat upon me. No one knows how I suffered. I tried doctors and patent medicines, but could not get any help. At last I was recommended to try Dr. Hathaway & Co., the Specialists in Skin Diseases. I now thank God that I did, as I am entirely well and free from my terrible affliction. Dr. Hathaway called my case eczema, but other doctors that I treated with did not know what it was, or at least they would not tell me. I am very thankful to Dr. Hathaway for the cure of my case, as I feel as if I could not say too much in his praise.

WHEAT A SHADE LOWER.

ALL LOCAL MARKETS LITTLE BETTER THAN NOMINAL.

Half a Cent Decline from Monday's Closing Figures on Cables and a Heavy Increase in Bradstreet's Visible Supply Figures—Not Much Fresh Green Stuff on South Water Street, with Trade Slow and Values Easy.

The New York and Minneapolis markets were open yesterday, and for that reason there was a little more activity on the curb that there would have been had the holiday been general. Early quotations for wheat on the curb were 69c sellers. This did not fully reflect the decline in other markets. Liverpool was off ½d at the opening and sold further later on. New York and Minneapolis were ⅝c and ⅝c lower respectively. The general tone of the crop reports received is bullish. Northwestern receipts were 239 cars, against 777 cars a week ago.

Bradstreet's visible supply statement, issued shortly after noon, made an increase of 2,658,000 bu, which weakened the nominal market for May to 68⅝c. This statement made a decrease of 342,000 bu in domestic stocks east of the Rockies and an increase of 3,000,000 bu in and afloat for Europe, making the net increase 2,658,000 bu, as already stated. It was rumored afterward that instead of 3,000,000 bu increase in and afloat for Europe the correct amount had one cipher less in it, making it only 300,000 bu; but that correction lacked authority.

Estimated local receipts were 14 cars wheat, 190 cars corn, and 250 cars oats. On the curb puts on May wheat were 68@68¼c and calls 70@70⅛c. May corn was 24¼c and July 25¼c, both bid. Oats were nominally 16c for May and 17⅞@18c for July.

Receipts were light on South Water street yesterday and trade was entirely of a holiday character. By noon buyers were off the street for the day. Butter was quoted ½c lower and eggs ¼c off, but with these exceptions prices were practically unchanged. Notwithstanding the shade lower quotations on eggs the market is firm and the tendency believed to be upward. Country stocks of apples are said to be about exhausted, which fact has strengthened storage goods. Besides, stocks are also showing the effects of warm weather.

The following prices on produce are quoted on wholesale lots from store:

PRODUCE MARKETS EAST AND WEST.

Closing Quotations in Grain and Provisions at New York.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Grain—Wheat receipts, 49,950 bu; exports, 63,889 bu. Spot dull and weaker; No. 2 red, 80¾c; No. 1 Northern, 80¾c; No. 3 hard winter, 75¾c. Options opened weak and subsequently declined under better crop and weather news, lower cables and the unexpectedly big increase in Bradstreet's world's visible, finally rallying on a small demand from shorts, closed ⅝@¾c lower. No. 2 red 74 15-16@75¼c, closed 75¼c.

Corn—Receipts, 51,675 bu; exports 44,315 bu. Spot dull; No. 2, 29¼c. Steamer mixed, 29¼c. Opened easier and was dull and heavy all day in consequence of lower cables, closing ¼@⅜c net lower. April closed 29¼c; May 29⅛@29⅜c, closed 29¼c. Oats—Receipts, 91,600 bu; exports, 21,300 bu. Spot steady; No. 2, 22¼c.

Hay—Steady. Hops—Quiet. Hides—Fair. Leather—Quiet. Wool—Firm.

Provisions—Beef steady; packet, $8.50@9.50; city extra India mess, $13.50@14.50. Cut meats quiet; pickled bellies, 5¼@5¾c; pickled shoulders, 5c; pickled hams, 9c. Lard easy; Western steamed, $4.30; refined quiet. Pork steady. Tallow quiet.

Cottonseed oil steady; prime crude, 20c; do yellow, 22½@22¾c. Petroleum quiet and steady; united closed 88¼c bid. Resin steady. Turpentine steady, 29½@29¾c. Rice steady. Molasses steady.

Pig iron dull, Southern, $10.00@11.00; Northern, $10.50@12.50. Copper easy; brokers, $11.70; exchange, $11.50@11.70. Tin firm; straits, $13.20@13.30; plates quiet; spelter quiet, $4.10@4.20. The lead market closed barely steady in the absence of advices from St. Louis on account of the holiday at that point. The local situation was unsatisfactory as to spot demand as well as the outlook for business. The Metal Exchange closing quotations were $3.35@3.40, and leading brokers quote $3.30.

Coffee options opened steady, with prices 10@15 points lower under heavy receipts at Brazil, weak foreign markets. Bear raids were checked by unusually large warehouse deliveries in New York. The late months steadied on shorts covering in a small way. Closed steady with prices unchanged to 15 points net lower; sales, 15,750 bags, including May 730. Spot coffee—Rio dull and nominal. No. 7 invoice, 7¾c; No. 7 jobbing, 8¼c. Mild weak and neglected; Cordova, 13¾@16c; sales, 300 bags Maracaibo p. t.; 300 bags Savanilla p. t.

Sugar—Raw firm; refined firm; No. 6, 4 5-16c.

Butter—Receipts were larger, and with only a slack demand prices of extra Western creamery declined to 20c. The weakness in extras carried down the undergrades, but the proportion of these is smaller than heretofore, the butter showing improving quality.

Cheese—Old cheese in small supply, and desirable grades held firmly. Several small lots of new arrived today, mostly large, full cream. Exporters were showing fair attention, and finest lots are generally selling at 10¼c. Fancy white and colored stock of September make sells at 12½c; small size realize 12¼@12½c.

Eggs—Arrivals still very large, including some lines of storage packed stock, which are going direct from dock to warehouse, but the quantity of ungraded or only partially graded eggs is excessive and far beyond the regular outlets in consumptive channels. Average prime lines from nearly all sections are urgently offered at 9½c, and 9¼c has been accepted for some fair lots of Southwestern. Exceptionally fine marks from Northern Ohio and Northern Indiana bring 9¾c; Southern dull, with prices ruling in buyers' favor. Sales of Tennessee above 9c are now very exceptional.

Cotton—Trading in futures was small and chiefly in the hands of room traders. The first transactions were made at a decline of 1@3 points in sympathy with disappointing Liverpool advices. Liquidation by longs and free offerings by a prominent operator caused a further decline of 1@2 points, subsequently prices recovered all but 1@3 points of the early decline on covering of shorts, closing at 1 point decline on this crop and unchanged to 1 point advance on next crop months from yesterday's final figures.

Liverpool reported spot cotton in buyers' favor, 8,000 bales. Speculation and export, 500 bales; American, 8,000. Receipts, 26,000 bales; American, 24,000 bales. Middling uplands, 4 1-32d. Futures quiet, sellers 1-64d decline; closed steady, ½ point net decline. Manchester—Yarns quiet and firm; cloths quiet. Receipts at the ports today were 11,006 bales, against 9,937 this day last week and 12,281 last year. On the spot the market was quiet at 1-16c. Middling uplands, 7⅝c and gulf 7⅞c. Sales, nil bales for export, 365 bales for consumption, and nil bales on contract. Today's range:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—Wheat fairly active, about steady; No. 2 hard, 80c; No. 3, 73@78c; No. 4, 68@70c; No. 2 red, 96c; No. 3, 91@95c; No. 4, 70@80c; No. 2 spring, 79c; No. 3, 75c. Corn about steady for spot; futures weak; No. 2 mixed, 21@21½c. Oats—Steady; No. 2 white, 19@19½c. Rye—Steady; No. 2, 31c. Hay—Firm, unchanged. Butter—Creamery barely steady; country firm; big demand for prime prints; creamery, 11@16c; dairy, 10@14c. Eggs—Firm; demand improving; strictly fresh, 7c; including cases, 7¼c. Receipts—Wheat, 4,200 bu; corn, 16,900 bu; oats, [illegible]. Shipments—Wheat, 2,400 bu; corn, 31,000 bu; oats, 5,000 bu.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 6.—Dullness was the most prominent feature in May wheat today. In the two hours and a half of trading the price range was but ¼c. There was little news to influence trading one way or the other. On adjournment at 12 o'clock the price was exactly ⅛c higher than the opening, but revealed a net loss from the first hour of over ⅛c. May opened at 67c and in the first hour advanced to 67⅛c, dropped 1-16c lower and closed at 67⅛c, the top price for the day. July opened at 67⅛@67¼c and closed at 67⅛c. September opened at 64⅝c, declined to 64¼c, and closed at the opening figure, 64⅝c. Flour—Unchanged.

PEORIA, Ill., April 6.—Grain—Corn—Steady; new No. 2, 23¼c. Oats—Firm, irregular; No. 2 white, 20¼@21c. Rye—Scarce; nominal. Whisky—Market steady; finished goods on the basis of $1.19 for highwines. Receipts—Corn, 50,450 bu; oats, 18,900 bu; rye, 600 bu; whisky, none. Shipments—Corn, 3,850 bu; oats, 12,100 bu; rye, none; whisky, 675 brls.

TOLEDO, O., April 6.—Wheat—Lower; No. 2, cash, 89¼c bid; May, 89¼c. Corn—Dull; easier; No. 2 mixed, 23¼c. Oats—Dull; steady; No. 2 mixed, cash and May, 18c. Cloverseed—Dull; steady; prime, cash, $4.90 asked. Oil—Unchanged.

DULUTH, Minn., April 6.—Grain—Wheat—No. 1 hard, 73¼c; May, 71⅝c; No. 1 Northern, cash, 69¾c asked; May, 69¾c asked; July, 69¾c asked; September, 66⅝c asked. Rye—No. 2, 32c. Flax—74¼c bid; May, 75c asked. Receipts—Wheat, 78,266 bu; corn, 1,308 bu; rye, 1,826 bu; barley, 818 bu; flax, 21,525 bu. Shipments—None. Oats—No. 2, 17½c.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 6.—Wheat, No. 1 Northern, 77¾c; No. 2 winter, 85¼. Corn, No. 2, 27¼c. Oats, easy; No. 2 white, 22¾c. Rye, quiet; No. 2, 38c.

IN THE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

Day's Business on the Stock Exchange Is Very Light.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Interest in selling of stocks was very languid on the Stock Exchange today, and the market was apparently afflicted with an attack of spring fever. Many of the stocks which are usually dealt in had not a single sale reported to their credit, and others showed only a few odd lots with not a single full share to make quotations. Fluctuations in the main were very narrow, not offering a sufficient margin to invite operations even by the professional traders. The dullness seemed to be reflected in part from other centers, London showing nothing doing in Americans, the stagnation being so marked that London agents of some of the houses in the street ceased cabling. Chicago also was taken up with her municipal election, and Boston and Philadelphia were also very quiet. Such dealings as occurred were subject to entirely fictitious influences and were concentrated in a few stocks.

The absence of the heavy liquidation that has characterized some recent markets was, however, marked, and the railway list held remarkably firm. As an example of the motives that affected the dealings it may be said that the comparatively large transactions in New Jersey Central were largely due to rather abstruse calculations as to the proper level of the price for the new 4 per cent dividend basis compared with other 4 per cent stocks. There was no news of importance regarding the finances of the company or of the coal traffic in general. The stock moved irregularly all day over a range of 1¾ per cent and showed a net loss of a fraction on the day. The other coalers were affected in sympathy. Lackawanna lost 1¼ on the day; Delaware and Hudson, on the other hand, gained a net fraction. The trading in Sugar was apparently affected by conflicting rumors of what inside interests were doing with their holdings.

Leather preferred was quite a feature in the dealings and showed a decline of 1⅛, recovering about half the loss. The closing down of the company's tanneries, the prevailing low prices of the product, and fears of a bad effect on the earnings from the possible duty on hides caused the decline. Chicago Gas was quite active and rose on covering of shorts, who had sold on the belief that the company was likely to be unfavorably affected by the Chicago election. There was more or less weakness manifest in all the specialties.

The railway list, on the other hand, showed remarkable firmness, especially the grangers. The fluctuations in this group were confined to a very narrow fraction. St. Paul long held steady at 72½ through a succession of sales, mostly of 100-share lots, but with one lot of 1,000 shares, the aggregate reaching 2,400 shares before the stock receded ⅛. Burlington was almost equally steady on larger transactions. This firmness of railways must be largely attributed to confidence in the stability of the passenger and freight rates at present in force. The bears were not able to make as much of the postponement of the hearing of the Joint Traffic Association's appeal to the Supreme Court as they were yesterday. The increase in earnings showed by some roads for the fourth week in March in spite of bad conditions was also a strengthening factor. The Vanderbilt and Gould stocks were comparatively neglected. The railways generally, however, showed fractional net gains.

The general market also stiffened somewhat in the final dealings and closed steady.

Railway and miscellaneous mortgages held firm on moderate dealings. The high-grade liens figured prominently in the operations, but the variations were not important. The general undertone was firm, but some few noteworthy declines were registered in the inactive issues. The aggregate sales were $1,076,000.

Governments were moderately active, but unchanged in values. The sales were $15,500.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

Stock Sales and Closing Quotations at the Hub.

BOSTON, Mass., April 6.—[Special.]—Quietly firm was the Boston market, with little of special feature calling for comment. The option business has subsided for the time being. The good advance on London copper quotations of late, emphasized today, has started talk of possible renewal of interest in the copper shares, but they were not much in evidence, save the always prominent Montana and Butte. The first named gained 1⅛ to 121½, the latter ¼ to 16⅜. Bell Telephone was 1 lower at 218½, but sold at 220 at the close for one share. Gold coin was ⅛ better at 5⅛. Pioneer held at 5⅝. United States Oil dropped 1½ to 12, Erie Telephone was up ⅝ at 64. Old Dominion copper gained ¼ to 14½. Boston and Cripple Creek appeared at 10c, Merced sold at 8½. West End Street was ½ lower at 71½. New England reappeared at 18. Call loans, 2½@4. Time money, 3@4½. At the clearing-house balances between the banks loaned at 3@2 per cent.

IN THE FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

Stocks Open Good, but Close Dull on Weakness in Kaffirs.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says:

The stock markets opened good today, but closed dull on the weakness in Kaffirs, due to Paris selling and to the nature of the proceedings before the South African committee today. Consols closed ⅛ below the best dates. The mining settlement was light and nominal, and tomorrow's carry-over should be favored by easy money. Americans were dropping because of lack of support.

The Paris and Berlin markets were firm.

| Same period, 1896 | 5,150 | .... | 9,364 | 1,556 |

Following is given the average weight of hogs at the under-mentioned markets for months noted below:

| | March, 1897. | Feb., 1897. | Jan., 1897. | March, 1896. | March, 1895. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Chicago | 230 | 238 | 247 | 246 | 222 |
| Kansas City | 216 | 225 | 224 | 232 | 213 |
| Omaha | 260 | 269 | 275 | 261 | 211 |
| Sioux City | 249 | 254 | 281 | 261 | 200 |

The average weight at Chicago, Omaha, and Sioux City last month was the lightest since October, 1895, at all three markets. The Kansas City average was the lightest for any month in nearly a year.

Today's receipts are estimated at 11,000 cattle, 26,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep.

There are a great many hog shippers, says the Sioux City Tribune, who claim that in their respective districts the supply of unmatured hogs is very light, and they see no hope of any increase before late in May at the earliest.

It was a "four-cent market" for hogs, most all the "droves" of selected light, butchers', and mixed heavy costing $4. Armour bought 3,000; Anglo-American, 1,500; Boyd & Lunham, 700; Chicago, 800; Continental, 300; Hammond, 700; Lipton, 800; Morris, 1,000; Swift, 3,300; and Viles & Robbins, 700.

George Goepper, formerly with Viles & Robbins at Chicago, has lately been appointed head hog-buyer for Swift & Co. at Omaha.

John T. Alexander has returned from an extended trip through the central part of Missouri, and reports very few matured cattle ready to come with the supply of hogs only moderate.

The first three months of this year Chicago received 50,700 Texas cattle, against 63,800 a year ago, and 54,900 two years ago. Texas steers sold this week as high as $4.60@4.80, or 50@60c higher than a year ago.

Combined receipts of hogs at Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, and St. Louis the first two days of the week, 71,000, against 84,000 a week ago, and 66,000 a year ago.

Cattle—The market opened steady, but closed weak to 10c lower, with the decline principally on beef cattle. Receipts were small, but, as usual on Tuesday, the demand was indifferent. Native steers sold at $3.75@5.00; Texas steers, $4.00@4.80; Texas cows, bulls, and oxen, $2.35@3.25; native cows, $1.75@3.90; heifers, $2.60@4.25; bulls, $2.25@3.75; stags and oxen, $2.85@4.10; veal calves, $3.00@5.50; and stockers and feeders, $3.45@4.25.

Hogs—Prices declined 5@10c, and the market closed weak, with 3,000 left in the pens. More arrived than dealers expected and packers acted decidedly bearish. The quality showed some improvement, with heavy weights more plentiful. Heavy sold at $3.65@4.07½, bulk at $4.00; light, $3.85@4.05, bulk at $4.00; pigs, $3.20@4.00, bulk at $3.75@4.00; mixed, $3.85@4.07½, bulk at $4.00.

Sheep—The demand was good, and prices ruled strong. Lambs sold at $4.00@5.50, including 71@102-lb show stock at $4.90@5.35. Spring lambs sold at $4.50 per head. Native sheep sold at $2.75@5.25, and Westerns at $3.75@4.80.

IOWA WINTER WHEAT IS RUINED.

Estimated That 75 Per Cent of the Crop Is Destroyed.

OTTUMWA, Ia., April 6.—[Special.]—The Des Moines River Valley composes the only winter wheat belt in Iowa. It is estimated that 75 per cent of this wheat is ruined.

PROTEST AGAINST TOBACCO DUTIES.

Cigar Manufacturers Meet at Indianapolis and Formulate a Petition to Send to Washington.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—The Cigar Manufacturers' Association of Indiana, representing a membership of 700 manufacturers, met in this city today and formulated a protest against that part of the Dingley tariff bill which increases the rate on leaf tobacco. The protest states that the rates under the present law are so excessive and burdensome that it is not possible to live under them.

It also denies that the proposed rate will afford any protection to the growers of the leaf tobacco. The petition is long, and will be forwarded to Senator Morrill, Chairman of the Senate Finance committee.

MEETING OF SOUTH TOWN

TAX OF HALF A MILL IS AUTHORIZED FOR THE YEAR'S EXPENSES.

Harmony and Brevity Characterise the Session—H. N. Higinbotham Says the Proposed Levy Is Not Excessive—Supervisor Trude's Report—Official Faction Defeats Civic Federation Representatives in Lake and Votes an Increase from $22,500 to $45,000.

Harmony, brevity, and quick action were the principal features of the annual South Town meeting yesterday. Forty prominent citizens and a half-dozen town officials were present at 2 p. m. when E. G. Keith called the meeting to order. Three minutes later the meeting had adjourned. One-half the time was taken up in the reading of the report of Supervisor Samuel H. Trude. It was approved and adopted without discussion.

George A. Gibbs, ex-South Town Attorney, moved that a tax levy of five-tenths of a mill be authorized to assist in defraying the expenses of the offices for the coming year. Some one suggested that four-tenths of a mill would be sufficient and amended the motion to that effect. H. N. Higinbotham said he had investigated the question and was satisfied that a tax of one-half a mill would not be excessive. The original motion was carried unanimously and the meeting then adjourned.

It is estimated that the tax levy of half a mill will amount to nearly $50,000. The commission of 2 per cent on the total collections will bring in an additional $50,000, which, in addition to the cash onw on hand, will be sufficient revenue for the legitimate expenses of the town.

Report of the Supervisor.

The Supervisor's report shows that the total disbursements last year were $96,392. The report in detail is as follows:

Town of Lake Meeting.

The old fight over what are called extravagant salaries was waged over again yesterday between the officers of the Town of Lake and the Civic Federation at the semi-yearly meeting of the town. An increase in the salary appropriations from $22,500 to $45,000 was voted, and the efforts of the federation representatives to secure a call for another meeting in the hope of forcing a reconsideration were summarily crushed.

The meeting was held at the offices of the Town Board, Forty-second and Halsted streets. During the argument one of the Civic Federation men suggested that another meeting be held in a different section of the town, "so the more respectable element could attend." This brought a volley of groans.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Assessor | $5,000 | Supervisor | $3,000 |
| Collector | 5,000 | Clerk | 2,000 |

Not over a hundred citizens were in the hall, and all but a few were adherents of the official faction. When Chairman D. B. Carmichael entertained the resolution of T. A. Coffey to restore the salaries enjoyed previous to the last meeting by means of an increase in the appropriation therefor, G. R. Jarvis of the Civic Federation committee denounced the resolution as "a piece of wanton extravagance devised for the benefit of the politicians of the town," and prophesied that if the resolution was carried the matter would be taken into the courts.

John Wall and Frank Jones made bitter attacks on the Civic Federation, and George W. Charles replied, and after the sparring was over the resolution was adopted by an overwhelming majority.

The Supervisor could not be found, and his report was not heard.

FOR THE LAKE FRONT PARK SCHEME.

Solid Men of Chicago Will Give a Big Banquet at the Auditorium on April 16.

To boom the Lake-Front Park project is the object of a banquet to be given at the Auditorium Hotel on Friday evening, April 16, at 6:30 o'clock. The hosts will comprise the following:

Franklin MacVeagh,
Philip D. Armour,
Ferdinand W. Peck,
John J. Mitchell,
Franklin H. Head,
John R. Walsh,
William T. Baker,
George B. Swift,
William J. Chalmers,
Edward B. Butler,
Eugene S. Pike,
Alexander S. McClurg,
Owen F. Aldis.

The guests, who will number about 250, will be, as far as possible, representative of the most important constituencies of Chicago and Cook County. Among those expected are Gov. Tanner, Speaker Curtis, and a number of the members of the General Assembly, the members of the various park boards, the members of the Drainage Board, and other public officials. There will also be present representative heads of the leading clubs and labor organizations of Chicago.

A primary purpose of the meeting will be to urge action during the life of the present General Assembly, so as to avoid a delay of two years. It is not the purpose to exploit any particular plan, but to boom the project as a general proposition, leaving the details to further consideration.

Many acceptances have already been received, and among those who have signified their willingness to speak are:

Franklin MacVeagh,
Rabbi Hirsch,
A. N. Waterman,
M. J. Carroll,
D. H. Burnham,
Owen F. Aldis.

No topics have been assigned, and each speaker will be permitted to discuss whatever phase of the subject seems most appropriate to him.

Ferdinand W. Peck will preside, and it is expected the banquet will be an elaborate affair.

In discussing the coming event yesterday Mr. Peck said: "The meeting will be one of the most important, in its permanent effects upon the city, that has ever been held. It will be representative in the broadest sense of the word, the purpose being to obtain an expression of the sentiment of Cook County on this very important matter.

"In order to avoid two years' delay, it is necessary that legislative action be had within a few weeks, before the Legislature adjourns. It accordingly occurred to me that it would be wise to call together men of Chicago, distinctly representative of the most important constituencies of the city. To that end the dinner has been given, and there will be present from 200 to 250 of the most representative men of Cook County, including Gov. Tanner, some of the members of the Legislature, park and drainage boards, and other public officials.

"It is not the purpose to consider the details of the work to be done, but to urge action which will give authority to fill in submerged lands and to make such financial arrangements as may seem necessary. Details are a matter for future consideration."

SIMPLE REASON.

"Why," shouted the opposer of the tyranny of the trusts, "why do I have to pay eight cents a pound for sugar?"

"Because," shouted in return one who was plainly an emissary, "because you can't git no more credit."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CURRENT NEWS OF THE RAILWAYS.

Inter-State Commerce Commission to Investigate East-Bound Rates in Chicago Late This Month.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission expects to be in this city the latter part of this month to investigate the complaints made by the Chicago Board of Trade against nearly all of the Chicago east-bound roads. The roads are charged with having secretly cut the rates, giving undue preference to favored shippers and in other ways violating the inter-State commerce law.

About a week ago these roads were ordered to send copies of billing and other records of grain shipments during the last six months to the commission and all of them are busy in preparing these papers, which must be filed with the commission by April 10.

The commission it at present at Austin, Tex., investigating similar complaints against the Iron Mountain and other roads in Texas.

Hope of Wisconsin Central's Lake Line

Announcement is made by the Wisconsin Central of the formation of a rail and lake line for the transportation of bulk and package freight between Buffalo, Cleveland, and other Lake Erie ports and points east thereof, and St. Paul, Minneapolis, Minnesota Transfer, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, and other points, via Manitowoc, Wis.

The Wisconsin Central's lake line will be known as the Great Lakes Steamship company, and the following first-class steamers will be put in service, and at least two sailings a week made from terminal ports: Globe, 3,200 tons; J. W. Moore, 2,500 tons; Olympia, 2,500 tons; Charlemagne Tower, 2,200 tons.

The Manitowoc route of the Wisconsin Central has been a favorite one with shippers for some time past. Its business the last few months has been so heavy as to cause a freight blockade at Manitowoc, which was due to the inability of the Flint and Pere Marquette to handle the business, owing to a strike on its lines.

Annual Meeting of Grand Trunk.

London, April 6.—The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk railway of Canada took place today. Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, the Chairman, presided. He referred to the disastrous effect of bicycles, of which he said 10,000 were used in Toronto alone, on the railroad receipts. He congratulated the shareholders on the economies effected without a diminution of efficiency. The Chairman also said he expected the new Niagara bridge would be opened in June.

Referring to the anti-trust decision of the United States Supreme Court Sir Charles said he believed the railroad managers intended to maintain the rates under all circumstances. In conclusion the Chairman expressed the belief that the prospects of the Grand Trunk railway were favorable.

The report was adopted and the retiring board was reëlected.

Railroads Preparing to Appeal.

New York, April 6.—Counsel for the Trans-Missouri Freight Association are preparing a petition for a rehearing in the case of the United States vs. The Trans-Missouri Freight Association. The petition will be submitted during the present term, and although the appeal against the Joint Traffic Association must go over until October it is hoped, though hardly expected, to have the case reargued before the adjournment of the present session.

New Inter-Colonial Railway.

New York, April 6.—A London cablegram says: "At the Grand Trunk meeting today President Rivers Wilson said arrangements had been virtually concluded for an inter-colonial railway, to be owned by the Dominion Government, and to run its trains into Montreal in the heart of the Grand Trunk system, and that to provide for the increased traffic the Victoria Tubular bridge at Montreal would be double-decked on terms saving the Grand Trunk from any addition to its capital obligations.

Orders Sale of Elevator Property.

Upon petition of the plaintiff, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad company, Judge Allen of the United States Court at Springfield, Ill., entered a decree of foreclosure and ordered the sale of all of the St. Louis United Elevator company's property in Illinois that has not already been sold.

BOND FORGER LEWIS IS CAPTURED.

Former Urbana Banker Arrested at Ypsilanti After Being Tracked All Over the Continent.

Urbana, O., April 6.—Z. T. Lewis, who became a fugitive from justice two years ago after committing a series of the most daring forgeries ever attempted in this State, was brought back to Urbana tonight from Ypsilanti, Mich., where he was arrested last night.

Lewis is a physical wreck. Constant worry has undermined his constitution and he is suffering severely from nervous prostration and rheumatism.

Lewis, who was a banker and had been counted a shrewd financier, confined his forgeries to county and school district bonds. The forgeries amounted to $300,000, and the securities he forged were represented to have been issued in five different Ohio counties. He imposed upon some of the most cautious bankers and brokers in this section of the country, as well as many in the bond markets of the East. Four hundred indictments are now pending in various Ohio courts against Lewis, although his arrest was made on a warrant charging but one forgery. The National Bank of Redemption of Boston will back the prosecution of the prisoner at the trial, which is to be begun as soon as possible.

When arrested at Ypsilanti Lewis was living with his family under the name of James Leache. He consented to return to Ohio without a requisition. He has been followed all over the United States and Mexico.

BABY'S EYES BURNED WITH A POKER.

Russell Freely, a Mere Mite, Plays with Fire and Nearly Blinds His Little Brother.

Russell, the 2½-year-old son of Richard Freely, No. 2956 Thirty-ninth place, thrust a red-hot poker into the eyes of his baby brother, Edward, 10 months old, during the absence of the mother on Monday evening. Physicians at the Maurice Porter Hospital, No. 606 Fullerton avenue, where the infant is being cared for, say its sight is not entirely destroyed. The eyelids were terribly burned, but the baby, it is thought, will recover.

The elder child was playing with his baby brother, while Mrs. Freely was preparing the evening meal. She had occasion to leave the kitchen for a moment, and Russell began to play with the fire. He had heated an iron poker in the stove, when the baby Edward cried for the dangerous plaything.

Mrs. Feely was attracted a moment later by screams, and rushing to her baby found Russell standing over it flourishing the red-hot poker, which had been passed across Edward's eyes, burning the child's face in a shocking manner.

Mrs. Freely grasped her child and rushed outdoors appealing to neighbors for help. Russell was found concealed in an ante-room when the police ambulance arrived.

PRISONERS WILL NOT BE MOVED.

Indiana Officials Decide Not to Transfer Convicts Until Supreme Court Renders a Decision.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—[Special.]—The proposed transfer of 600 convicts between the two Indiana prisons has been indefinitely postponed. Arrangements were all complete, but the State authorities have decided that Judge Hubbard's decision at South Bend last week holding that the new prison law converting Jeffersonville prison into a reformatory is invalid shall be carried to the Supreme Court before the transfer be made. Dispatches were sent to both prisons today to that effect, and the United States Attorney-General was also notified that Federal prisoners at Jeffersonville need not be moved for some time. The appeal from Judge Hubbard's decision will reach the Supreme Court this week, and a decision will be handed down as soon as possible. The decision is a great disappointment to those who have been urging reform methods in this State.

TO SHUT THE GLOBE JAN. 9

BANK EXAMINER HAYDEN SAYS HE MADE THE RECOMMENDATION.

Declares He So Advised Auditor Gore, but the Altgeld Official Went Out of Service the Next Day Without Taking Definite Action—Cashier Churchill Admits the Inquiry, but Denies the Suggestion to Close the Concern.

The Globe Savings Bank, which failed on Monday, was recommended for suspension last January to the State Auditor, according to George R. Hayden, a bank examiner. Mr. Hayden said yesterday he examined the books of the concern on Jan. 9, and immediately made his report to Auditor Gore. The report gave a detailed statement of the bank's books, and closed as follows:

"While it is difficult to place a fixed and definite value upon past due and desperate paper, it is customary among good bankers to charge to profit and loss from time to time all doubtful paper. This rule applies also to any shrinkage in the value of real estate or stocks and bonds.

"If this rule were followed by this bank the entire capital stock and undivided profits would be absorbed, and a still further loss would be suffered, as the following estimate indicates:

"Loss on loans, stocks and bonds, real estate, furniture, and fixtures, $242,210.

"This loss would place the improvement beyond the amount of the capital stock of the bank, a condition hard to repair by assessment. The bank should be closed."

Gore Takes No Decisive Action.

If this report was made to Auditor Gore, as Mr. Hayden avers, the former failed to take any decisive action in the matter; and there are those who assert that the delay was for the purpose of shielding Gov. Altgeld's indebtedness to the institution. It will be remembered that in the schedule of doubtful assets, amounting to over $103,000, the ex-Governor's paper figures up $17,500, and his late brother-in-law, John W. Lanehart, is down for $4,130.

On the day after Examiner Hayden made this report, Jan. 10, the Auditor went out of office with the Altgeld administration.

When Cashier C. E. Churchill of the defunct bank was reminded of these facts and the alleged examination, he took direct issue with the ex-examiner, and declared that no report was made on the condition of the bank until the middle of March. He admits, however, that the examination was made by Mr. Hayden.

Churchill Differs from Hayden.

"There was an examination on Jan. 9," said Mr. Churchill yesterday, "but no report on it was made to the Auditor until nearly two months later. What the substance of the report was I cannot say, but I know that before it was sent in another report had been made by the present examiner, and this is the one which led to the appointment of the receiver."

C. W. Spalding, President of the bank, could not be found yesterday, and at his office it was given out that he was still prostrated. He was not at his home, the Plaza, and one report had it that he had left the city for the East.

Henry W. Leman of the Chicago Title and Trust company, the receiver, was busy yesterday, although banking business was at a standstill in consequence of the election. He said:

"I know absolutely nothing as yet of the assets of the bank. We have taken charge of the books, but they are locked in the vaults, and there they will remain until tomorrow. At present I am working on a sort of receiver's certificate, similar to what is used in the case of national banks. I will suggest to the court that it will be much easier to issue these to all who prove their claims against the banks, and that they will be a convenience to the creditors, in that the certificates can be used to a certain extent as security for loans. It remains with the court to say whether the plan shall be adopted."

CLAIMS AGAINST J. S. VAN NORTWICK.

Assignee John M. Baer Files a Report at Appleton, Wis., Showing an Aggregate of $428,911.

John M. Baer, assignee for John S. Van Nortwick, has filed at Appleton, Wis., his report showing the amount of claims against the assignor, as follows:

Citizens' National Bank of Appleton, actual, $10,201; Citizens' National Bank of Appleton, contingent, $185,000, with interest of 7 per cent from various times; Citizens' National Bank of Appleton, $2,700; Citizens' National Bank of Appleton, $2,500, with interest at 7 per cent from various times; Citizens' National Bank of Stevens' Point, $5,002, besides interest at 8 per cent from March 16, 1897; Bank of Kaukauna, Kaukauna, Wis., $6,975, with interest at 7 per cent from various dates; Atlas National Bank of Chicago, $216,532. Total, $428,911.

It should be stated that the claim of the Atlas Bank is really secured, as the Atlas Bank is in possession of securities sufficient to pay the entire debt; also that a portion of the claims of the Bank of Kaukauna are contingent; also that it is aserted that the Citizens' National Bank of Appleton is fully secured by collaterals. The inventory was filed about Jan. 15, and is considerably in excess of the claims.

Option on Copper Mines.

Houghton, Mich., April 6.—J. H. Elmore and Frank Vanduzen of Green Bay, Wis., have secured options on the Minnesota and National Copper mines at Rockland, Ontonagon County. These mines paid nearly $2,000,000 in dividends in the early days of Lake Superior mining. Both have been idle for more than ten years.

CHRIST AS MAN, NOT GOD.

THE REV. DR. SAVAGE SAYS ALL HUMANITY IS AN INCARNATION.

To His Mind the Coming of Jesus Was a Failure, if Jesus Was Very God; if Man, an Unparalleled Success—Doctrine of the Trinity Taken from Paganism Long After Christ—Progressive Incarnation from the Beginning of Things.

New York, April 6.—The Rev. Minot J. Savage, D. D., preached yesterday to a large congregation in the Church of the Messiah the tenth of his series of sermons on "Religion for Today." His subject was "Is God Incarnate in One Man Only or in Humanity?" He said:

"I shrink from treating this theme more than any other in the course, not through any doubt of the magnificent truth involved or any hesitancy in giving it expression, but because, considering the present state of the public mind, it is so easy to be misunderstood or misrepresented; in stating the real truth I may be thought to be criticising the Christ or derogating from his position. I preached the doctrine of the Trinity for eight years, and I was never, even during that time, so filled with love and reverence for the Nazarene as now; I feel one-thousand-fold closer to him in these later days.

"The question is not, 'Is God Incarnate?' but 'Was he, once only?' Is his incarnation limited to that once? Or is it for all time and as universal as man, who is made in God's image, with whom he is always one, and who is his child? Is he progressively incarnate in the whole human race? Let us turn our attention to the actual state of thought at the time when the old doctrine of incarnation sprang up. We must forget the reach of our present knowledge of the universe, and all the modern discoveries of science; we must picture the earth as flat, heaven as just beyond the blue dome of the sky, and God as a great man sitting on a throne in heaven, apart from the world, governing it by fiat at a distance. We must recognize a vast gulf as existing between God and the world and a necessity of bridging it in the one way possible, by a miracle, by a being half God, half man; by the very doctrine of incarnation.

The Testimony of Jesus.

"In the personal character and offices of Jesus, as described by Paul, who wrote first of all the New Testament writers, we find no evidence that Jesus believed himself identical with God, who created the universe, although such a belief would have increased the power of his preaching.

"Paul recognizes that Jesus was the head of a regenerating movement, that he was supernatural, preëxistent, and was sent to regenerate; but not that he was a God. Had he been God's first born, born before the first angel, and had he spent an eternity with God before he appeared on earth, he still would not be God. Jesus is nowhere reported to have said of himself that he was God; he was a son of the Father, sent by the Father, and doing the Father's work. In one place he claims a oneness with the Father, but in the context he gives to the disciples the same oneness with himself. The other disciples offer no testimony as to any belief that Jesus was himself God. In the prologue to the so-called gospel of John appear many catchwords of the Gnostic philosophy in vogue at the time the gospel was written. Gnosticism believed God to be a spirit infinitely removed from matter which was all evil and created not by God, but by a subdeity; and if in any fragment of Gnostic writing appeared the statement that Jesus was the creator of the world, that itself would be proof that Jesus was not regarded as God.

Of Pagan Origin.

"The fathers of the church between the years 100 and 200 taught without exception the doctrine of the derived and subordinate position of Jesus. The doctrine of the Trinity did not take shape until the year 325, when it came as a shock, and was much opposed at first. St. Augustine, who made the first clear statement of the doctrine, only understood it by comparison with the doctrine of the Logos in Plato. The doctrine was of pagan origin, and was blasphemous to the Jewish mind. If there were nowhere else a similar doctrine it would be more striking, but from its presence among nearly all pagan peoples I am only surprised that it did not come earlier into Christianity.

"Let me briefly point out some of the implications of the doctrine, if received. The pity, love, tenderness, and mercy of Jesus are superb as characteristics of a man; but if God, for no particular reason, created the world, and suffered it to fall into the hands of the devil shortly afterward, finally sent a whisper of truth to one little people on it, and then, 4,000 years later, came on earth himself and suffered impotently—is that divine mercy? Remember, I am not attacking God, but the unjust and infamous representation of what God is said to have done. From this standpoint the coming of Jesus was a lamentable failure. Only one-third of the peoples of the world have heard of it yet, and the most intelligent portion of that third does not believe a word of it. But if Jesus was a man, his mission was an unparalleled success.

"Suppose God, outside of the universe, should attempt to put as much as possible of his divine self in a man, could he produce anything more than a perfect man? How can you prove any man was God? Would we believe, or even listen, to such a claim made now? Then why should we, when made 2,000 years ago by whom we know not?

Old Ideas Passing Away.

"A large part of our revelation of God has come within a span of my own life. The universe is no longer a mechanism separate from God; that idea is utterly gone from the minds of intelligent men and women. This is a universe, not a multiplicity of antagonistic forces; it is one universe, one law, one life, one element. The old antagonism between matter and spirit is fading away; in their ultimate forms they are one—the manifestation of the divine; one matter, one force, one life, one humanity, one family, one God. There is no gulf between God and his world. I believe in the divinity of man and the humanity of God, as demonstrated by scientific revelation. Dr. Abbott has said that God is man plus infinity, and that man is God minus infinity. A pebble in the street contains just as much of the divine power and wisdom and love and beauty as it is capable of holding as a stone. So with the crystal, the grass blade, the amœba, and on through organic evolution to man.

"Again, if Jesus was divine, are we to draw a distinction without a difference and say that others claiming divinity are only human? If the golden rule as enunciated by Jesus is divine, was it human when Confucius framed it 4,000 years before him? The prayer on the cross becomes theatrical, spectacular, and unreal if Jesus was God; its beauty, wonder, and glory are changed to tinsel and pretense if he was not a man. Because of the incarnation is the history of Judea to be sacred and that of America profane? Is there nothing divine in it? I believe God was in Christ, reconciling the world to suffering; I believe he was in Socrates, Buddha, Confucius, and all true and noble men in the history of the world. There has been a progressive incarnation from the very beginning, and today, whenever you look upon pity, love, sympathy, or tenderness, you are looking upon God himself."

NEW FEDERAL GRAND JURY IMPANELED

Judge Grosscup Proves Obdurate to Excuses—J. Frank Lawrence Made Foreman—Cases Considered.

In spite of an assorted variety of excuses from a score of unwilling candidates summoned for Federal grand jury service, Judge Grosscup succeeded in impaneling a full jury yesterday, with J. Frank Lawrence of the Auditorium Annex as foreman.

The jury was in session for two hours. The leading cases considered were:

Charles Gurney, arrested in the First National Bank in February while attempting to get cashed a check said to have been stolen from the mails.

John A. Skoog, the alleged counterfeiter of $20 notes, who escaped from the Joliet Jail two weeks ago.

James Foley, one of Skoog's companions in the escape, held for passing counterfeit dimes.

Mat Anderschutz, who, it is charged, attempted to pass a stolen check.

George M. Kristufek, a mail carrier, charged with rifling letters.

W. J. BRYAN CALLS ON MR. M'KINLEY.

President Greets His Former Opponent with Much Cordiality—Bryan Argues a Case in Court.

Washington, D. C., April 6.—W. J. Bryan, the late Democratic candidate for President, called at the White House today with Representative McMillin of Tennessee and Attorney-General Smythe of Nebraska to pay his respects to the President. They were immediately showed into Mr. McKinley's private office. The President and the candidate shook hands cordially. Mr. Bryan remarked upon the President's apparent good health, and the latter spoke of the fact that he had seen by the newspapers that Mr. Bryan was here to argue a case before the Supreme Court. He also said he had received a copy of Mr. Bryan's book a few days ago, but as yet had not had time to read it.

"There is no law which compels you to read it," remarked Mr. Bryan, smiling. After a further exchange of courtesies and pleasantries Mr. Bryan retired. He expressed a desire to be shown through the White House, and Doorkeeper Dubois conducted him through the various parlors and the conservatory. In the main corridor, just as he was emerging, he met Mrs. McKinley, who was going out for a drive, and saluted her cordially. Mrs. McKinley acknowledged the salute with a smile, but it is doubtful whether she recognized him.

The Supreme Court room and the corridors without were crowded today with spectators attracted by the appearance of Mr. Bryan as counsel in a case involving the constitutionality of a law of the State of Nebraska, enacted April 12, 1893, entitled "An act to regulate railroads, to classify freights, to fix reasonable maximum rates to be charged for the transportation of freights," etc. Several railroad companies were arrayed against the State Board of Transportation, the Union Pacific at their head, with James C. Carter as chief counsel. It was the contention of the railroads that the purpose of the Legislature was not to fix the maximum rates to prevent extortion, but to compel the roads to carry goods upon such terms as the farmers of Nebraska could afford to pay. The case was appealed by the State Board of Transportation from the United States Circuit Court for the District of Nebraska, and Mr. Bryan was associated with the Attorney-General of the State as counsel.

DRAPER AGAIN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Accused Murderer of Charles Hastings Hangs Himself on His Cell Door—Is Cut Down in Time.

Jacksonville, Ill., April 6.—[Special.]—The sequel to the bloody tragedy which occurred in the law office of Judge Kirby last Wednesday night, in which poor Charley Hastings lost his life by having his body punctured with a knife 172 times, came very nearly being successfully enacted in the county jail shortly after midnight this morning. Charles L. Draper, who is held on the charge of being the murderer of Hastings, attempted to take his life by hanging, but fortunately was discovered in time to prevent death.

The prisoners made an outcry which attracted Turnkey Seaton to the prison door. He was informed that Draper had hanged himself on the grating of his cell door. A knife was handed the prisoners, with which they cut the piece of sheeting which had been used for the purpose of self-destruction, and the limpid body fell to the floor. The door was then opened and Draper placed on his cot, and Drs. King and Goodrich and the Rev. Morey summoned.

Draper was not dead, but his face was livid. A black and blue mark about the neck showed where the noose had been, while he moaned and tossed about in terrible convulsions.

For an hour the physicians worked with him and partially restored the temperature, though consciousness did not return until a late hour this morning. The prisoners have all along suspected something of this kind would transpire, because of the desperation shown by his appearance when he was left alone.

A thorough search of the cell was made, but no writing or weapons of any kind were found.

Since his incarceration he refuses to see his wife or daughter, though he keeps up correspondence with them. His sister, however, who is a most estimable lady and who enjoys a high social standing, has been with him on several occasions. Draper's condition this evening is much improved, and it is thought he will recover.

Des Moines, Ia., April 6.—[Special.]—The Senate today defeated the House amendment to the insurance law providing that when action against a company or policy was successful the company should pay attorney fees of plaintiff.

The Senate also amended the bill providing that at least two years' time should be allowed to file proofs of loss, and in case a loss is prorated among several companies and any company is insolvent and fails to pay its share the other companies must make up the deficiency.

Accident insurance companies organized outside the State are allowed to do business here if they have $100,000 of paid up capital and $100,000 of safely invested surplus. Other foreign companies must have $200,000 paid up capital.

The valued policy section adopted by the House was stricken out and a section was adopted providing that no policy shall be voidable by reason of failure to obey the "fine print" stipulations if it is shown such failure did not contribute to the loss. The Senate took a shot at insurance brokers by the adoption of an amendment providing that foreign insurance companies can do business in Iowa only through resident agents.

St. Paul, Minn., April 6.—[Special.]—The Senate today made important changes in Swenningsen's bill licensing insurance agents and abolishing the compact under which the local insurance business is managed from Chicago. The bill provides that any person having anything to do with issuing insurance policies must first secure a license from the Insurance Commissioner. In cities of 20,000 inhabitants or more, with a privilege of operating throughout the State, a bond of $2,000 and a license fee of $100 were required. In cities of less than 20,000 and more than 5,000 inhabitants the same bond was required and the license was fixed at $20. In towns of less than $5,000 inhabitants the fee was placed at $10 and the bond at $1,000. The bill further provides against restriction of competition by combination. With the consent of the author a motion was adopted striking out all that part of the bill fixing license fees.

Topeka, Kas., April 6.—[Special.]—The New York Life and the New York Mutual Life today brought suit in the United States District Court for $20,000 damages each against State Superintendent of Insurance Webb McNall for refusing to grant them license to do business in Kansas because they would not pay the Hillmon claim. McNall's bondsmen are made codefendants.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

FOR SALE—
THE BENNETT ELEVATOR,
Buffalo, N. Y.
[illegible] elevator has a storage capacity of 800,000 bushels. It is most favorably situated on the Buffalo River at the junction of the Evans Ship Canal. It has excellent facilities for unloading vessels on the river front by means of two marine legs, one stationary and one movable. The frontage on the river is about 240 feet, with the privilege to vessels unloading at the elevator to overlap the adjoining dock.
On the canal side it has excellent facilities for loading canal boats without interfering with vessels lying on the river side. The canal front is about 125 feet. It has railroad connections to the East through the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, with all the modern facilities for loading cars. It is in good running condition, and has been operated continuously throughout the season.
Full particulars as to price and terms can be obtained on application to the undersigned.

TO ACT ON CLEANING DAY

REAL ESTATE BOARD WILL TAKE UP THE PROPOSITION.

President Marvin A. Farr Discusses the Matter Favorably and the Naming of a Committeeman Today to Coöperate with Others Is Expected—President Scales Will Work on the Produce Exchange, and Organizations Generally Are Interested.

Chicago's cleaning-up day proposition will be taken up at the regular monthly meeting of the Real Estate Board to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and it is thought the board will take some definite action in the direction of the desired end.

President Marvin A. Farr said yesterday he was greatly interested in the scheme, and he believed the board would be ready to coöperate in the movement by choosing a member to act on a joint committee representing the various public bodies of the city.

"I think the plan that has been proposed," continued Mr. Farr, "is an excellent one, and I will bring the subject before the board tomorrow at the regular monthly meeting. I am of the opinion the board will be ready to take action in the matter when the plan has been explained to it, and that it will favor the formation of a substantial committee of business-men to manage the work.

"This movement should be carefully planned, estimates being made of the amount of ground that can be covered in a day, and then the various wards laid off in districts, so that residents in each district can be notified in advance just what day the teams will call to remove the garbage and refuse they may prepare for removal."

Produce Exchange's Part.

President John C. Scales of the Produce Exchange stated yesterday he would speak of the matter to members of that body, and thought it probable a meeting would be called to consider the plan for cleaning Chicago.

It is President Scales' opinion that the work of removing garbage and refuse should be performed by the regular agencies of the city, and without additional cost to taxpayers. He thought the contractors could be made to cart off all such material as is covered by their contracts, and did not believe it would be good policy to raise a separate fund for the work they are paid by the city for doing.

If the contractors have not enough teams or cannot secure enough to do the work in one or two days, he believes it should be so arranged that each contractor's territory can be divided in districts according to the number of days that will be required to do the work.

Speaking of the responsibility of contractors under the terms of their contracts Health Commissioner Kerr said yesterday: "Of course the contractors can be made to haul away all garbage, ashes, and refuse prepared for removal. If this cleaning-up day plan is carried through the Health Department will see to it that the contractors do their share of the work promptly. It is a good plan, and I hope it will be carried out as suggested."

Commercial Clubmen Like It.

President J. J. Glessner of the Commercial club and ex-President Francis B. Peabody both expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the plan, and said they would do anything in their power to advance the interests of the movement.

J. W. Janney added his indorsement to the movement, saying he believed the matter could be carried through successfully and was an excellent plan. He also said he would coöperate in any way possible in any organized effort to give Chicago an annual spring cleaning up.

"Tribune Knows a Good Thing."

The F. W. Lamb company, No. 259 Kinzie street, yesterday wrote THE TRIBUNE as follows:

"We heartily indorse your one-day cleaning plan. Chicago needs it.

"We will coöperate and do what we can to make it a success.

"THE TRIBUNE generally knows a good thing, so let the people push it along."

FORTY WILL SWEAR FOR POOR PUSS.

Druggist Levi and Miss Henry to Wage Battle Royal for the Kitten.

Forty witnesses of standing will appear in Justice Fitzgerald's court on April 20 and swear that the cat "Kitty" is the property of Druggist A. M. Levi, No. 362 Wabash avenue.

Attorney William Irvin has been engaged by the defendant in the replevin suit brought by Miss Helen Henry for the possession of the disputed tabby. He declares that the case will be carried to an upper court, if necessary, and that Kitty's kidnaping will be avenged at great expense to the plaintiff.

The cat is a Maltese tiger, of an affectionate, purring disposition. Mr. Levi says the claims of Miss Henry must be wrong, as the kitten could never have strayed from home six miles, when it was only 2 months old.

RINGLINGS' ELEPHANTS IN THE PUSH.

Huge Pachyderms Help Men and Horses in Arranging the Circus at Tattersall's.

Elephants joined the men and horses at Tattersall's yesterday in pushing and dragging the wagons into place for the Ringling Bros.' show that will open the season next Saturday.

The circus trains arrived from the winter quarters early in the morning, and the day was occupied in moving the vehicles and cages from the depot and arranging them in the building.

The work of decorating the interior with flags and streamers was pushed forward during the day, and the building will present an attractive appearance on the opening night.

Collars and cuffs.

The men of Chicago were never privileged to participate in a sale of this sort. It's one of those merchandising marvels peculiar to Mandel's. A statement of facts that would appear exaggerated to those conservative shopkeepers following antiquated trade traditions.

Men's all linen collar and cuff— 4-ply—2,100 linen—all the newest shapes—beautiful finish—perfect fitting—all sizes—collars 10c each—cuffs 15c pair—real value.

Men's 25c collars for 10c Men's 35c cuffs for 15c

If we were wholesaling this line our retail prices would have to be 25c and 35c, to protect the dealer—but we sell them to you (1 or 1,000) at wholesale prices.

Dent umbrella sale.

Annual spring sale of the "Dent"—the best umbrella produced. Mandel's sell over 1,000 Dents a month—and the first complaint is yet to come. This is the occasion when Mandel's waive the profit and the manufacturer a portion of the cost—to make you better acquainted with this peerless umbrella.

500 Dent umbrellas—28 and 26-inch—wear-resisting—London made umbrella silk—smallest roll made—silk that never breaks or cracks—not larger than a walking stick—Duke of York handles and Prince of Wales crooks in fine English woods, capped in handsomely chased sterling silver (925-1,000 fine)—a positive $8.50 umbrella for men and women— 3.75

1.90 for a $3.50 umbrella—choice natural woods, heavy serge silk tightly rolled on a metal tube—a positive wear-resisting article, in 26-inch, in 28-inch.
